PROGRESS, SATURDAY, JANUARY 14 1899

The gay whirl wih which society opened the New Year still continues with very little abatement, an i tess, receptions and darces fil up the days and nights. The third cance in the annual assembly series took place on Thursday evening and was not less enjoyable than its predecessors. An interesting order of dances, good music, glasslike floors and an excellent supper all went towards filling out a very pleasant evening. The chaperons were Mesd mes Keator, Charles Holden, L. R. Harrison, F. H. J. Ruel, C. J. Coster, G. W. Jones and F. E. Sayre, and the ladies committee, Miss Dever, Miss Holden, Miss Thomson, Miss Keator, Miss E. Robinson, Miss Fuilong, Miss Grace Skinner, Miss M. Warner.

Those invited to take part in this winter's series were:

Mrs. Nicholas Watson of Summerside, P. E. I., ing in this city for a while and have taken up their is visiting friends in this city for a few days atter | residence at the Clifton. which she will take an extended tour through the United States. Little Miss Edith Rogers wis a charming hestess to a party of her small friends on Friday evening of last week her t welfth birthday. The evening was devoted to gam is and music and at 10 o'clock supper was served the table being prettily decorated in pink and green. Shortly after the young people left with best wishes to the hostess for many more such happy birthdays. Interest centers now in the concerts to be given on January 30:h and 31s: and the famous gathering of celebrities they will bring to St. John. Clary and Rieger are of course great favorites here and need no sp :cial commendation, their work on prevous occasions having won for them a very warm place in popular esteem, and in addition to the interest which attaches to their appearance there are several others who are not unknown to fame. Miss Helen Buckley, soprano, makes a specialty of drawing room recitals and has sung before the following London people: Duke of Wellington, Duchess of Manchester, Countess of Dundonald, Lady Abinger. Countess of Normanton, Countess of Dunmore, Vicountess Somerton, Countess of Fingall, Lady Hardman, Baron d'Erlanger, Sir William Robinson, Mr .. Ronalds, Jacques Blu nenthal, Esq., etc., etc.

A little dance, all the more enjoyable because it was wholly impromptu and informal, was given on Monday evening by Mr. E. D. N. Sears for the young ladies who left later in the week for their respective schools. A very merry time was spent by the youthful guests whose entertainment was well looked after by the young host assisted by two young lady friends, Miss A. Butcher and Miss Reby McAvity. Supper was served at midtight and a little later the happy gathering dispersed. Those present were : Miss Constance Smith, Miss Amy Smith, Miss Daisy Fairwesther, Miss Nellie McAvity, Miss Allie Christie, Miss May Harrison. Miss Lou Kimball, Miss Amy Adama, Miss Ethel Jones, Miss Bertha Schofield, Miss Mary Inches, Miss Coster, Miss G. McLaughlan, Miss M. Furlorg, Mr. Homer Forbes, Mr. Walter Harrison, Mr. Douglas McLaughlan Mr. G. Johnsten, Mr. Lew Barker, Mr. Harry Rankine Mr. Charlie McDonald. Mr. B. Sturdee, Mr. Sandy Fowler, Mr. Harry Brown. Mr. Stanley Emerson, Mr. Harold Robinson. Mr. Homer Forbes returned this week to Dalhouse to resume his studies. Mrs. W. S. Fielding wife of the finance Minister
