SACKVILLE.

[Progress is for sale in Sackville by W. J. Goodwin.]

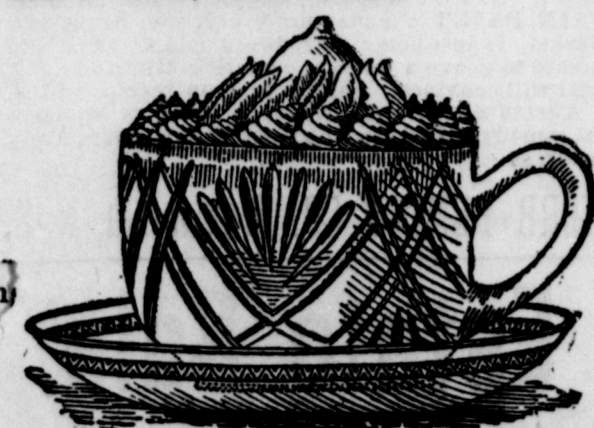

JAN. 11.—Friday appears to be the pet day for entertainments of all sorts. Last week in spite of wind, snow and bad roads there were two parties on that evening. Miss Bessie Carter gave an enjoyable party to her young friends. The invited guests were, Miss Laura Milner, Miss Amy Milner, Miss Francis Milner, Miss Nora Wiggins, Miss Edith Willis, Miss May W. Liss, Miss Irving, Miss Mabel Dixon, Miss Elsie Turner, Miss Jennie Ford, Miss Oulton, Jolice, Miss Harry Chappelle, Baie Verte, Miss Francis Harris, Miss Jennie Estabrooks, Miss Jennie Richardson, Miss Annie Joudry, Amherst, Messrs. Harry Stophord, C. Baird Fred Doull, Walter Cole, L. Dixon, Fred Scott, Walter Prescott, Beverly Allison, G. Fawcett, G. Bryant, and E. Richardson. The evening was pleasantly passed in games, music etc., and closed with a particularly toothsome supper.

A large driving party was given the same evening by Miss S. Copp but owing to rather unfavorable weather not all the guests were able to go. Those invited were. Mr. and Mrs. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Fawcett, Miss Maggie Evans, Shediac, Miss Minnie Copp, Miss Nellie Copp, Miss Bessie Bell, Newcastle, Miss A. McLaughlin, Miss M. Prescott, Baie Verte, Miss Ella Stevens, Miss Grace Fawcett, Miss Janie Fawcett, Miss McMurray, Miss Lulu Ford, Miss Emily Willis, Miss Sarah Duncan, Miss Emma Duncan, Miss Lee, Miss Emmerson, and Messrs. B. B. Teed, H. Henderson, Dr. Sprague, L. Harrison, B. Rayworth, F. Tingley, G. B. Chandler, W. Mowbray, C. Fawcett, W. Black, F. Turner, H. Ford, Dr. Knapp. As there was more snow flying in the air than there was on the road the party went in carriages, the objective point being the residence of Mr. W. W. Copp, Brooklyn, some twelve miles up the country. After a merry rip the first number on the programme was a most bountiful supper, the hot turkey, mashed potatoes scallops and numerous other viands being most acceptable after the cold drive. Then dancing and fun generally were kept up till an early hour of the morning, when the sky was showing a faint tint of grey and the babbling cock that lives in Prof. Andrews' gothic henhouse was about to chant his morning orisons.

Something new in the way of entertaining in Sackville was the ladies afternoon whist party given last week by Mrs. J. F. Allison, as in a good many other cases at this time of the year all the guests were not able to attend. Those present were Mrs. Wiggins, Mrs. Henry Fawcett, Mrs. Vincent, Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. Lane, Mrs. McDougall, Mrs. Ryan, Miss Ethel Ogden, Miss Greta Ogden, Miss Grace Fawcett. The game was progressive, the the unmarried ladies taking the gentleman's part. The play was kept up with great spirit, tea being postponed by request of the guests, till the last game was finished. Sackville can boast of some excellent whist players among its ladies who not only know what is what about the game but more unusual still, what are trumps. The first prize for matrons, a fancy workbasket was carried off by Mrs. Ryan; Miss Greta Ogden received that awarded to the winning maid, a dainty glass and ribbon handkerchief box, Mrs. Vincent, as the losing matron was crowned with a pretty little basket and Mrs. Wiggins who kindly acted the part of a gentleman, had existence made smooth and sweet by receiving a china cream jug and a sugar bowl. Gentlemen were supposed to be conspicuous by their absence but Rev. C. F.

Wiggins and Prof. Vincent arriving for their respective wives were invited in till the party broke up which was a later hour than mentioned in the invitation, the guests evidently finding it difficult to leave so pleasant a house.

The whist club met last Wednesday at Miss Ethel Ogden's when a very enjoyable evening was spent.
On the strength of the holiday season a more elaborate supper than is usually allowed by the club rules was indulged in. The club will be entertained this evening at the handsome residence of Mrs. Fred Ryan.

Saturday evening was a gala time at the skating rink where by the kindness of Copp Bros. the band discouraged sweet music. There was a good attendance and the ice was in excellent condition which augurs well for the seasons skating. The curling rink is well patronized this year, there being some forty members. The series of matches for the gold medal are just commencing. These matches always excite great interest not only in the wives, sweethearts and sisters of the players but in the public generally. It is no uncommon sight to see the platform fringed with spectators and even crowded.

While the ice in the rinks affords unlimited fun, the ice in the streets yields anything but a pleasurable harvest. Many have been the falls lately for both man and beast, fortunately none of them very serious. J. F. Allison, Sackville's most efficient postmaster has been confined to the house for a week as the result of a bad fall on the icy sidewalks.

R. C. Rayworth sustained a severe injury to his knee Christmas day, playing hockey. It was at first feared his knee cap was permanently hurt and for some time he hobbled between crutches. Mr.
Rayworth's friends will be glad to learn that Richard is almost himself again though he fears hockey will have to be a foregone pleasure this season.

All the schools are in working order again after the prolonged Christmas vacation.

At the university there are no changes of note to chronicle. Several new students have arrived among them a young lady, but the full number is usually made up the first term. It is rumored there will be no seniors at Home this year in consequence of the death of Mrs. Allison, which is only a fitting tribute to the memory of one so dearly beloved. At the Academy things are progressing smoothly as usual, the year opening with five new pupils. The ladies college shows a marked increase there being twenty-five new students, making the total attendance larger than ever. Many of these are music pupils, the excellent work of the conservatory under Prof. Vincent's tactful management is showing good results in this department.
The studio is also doing exceedingly well patronized this term better than ever before and while there are a large number of beginners there are several pupils more advanced who are most promising.

A new addition to the staff of the ladies' college is Miss Wilbur of Moncton, a trained nurse, who will attend to the physical well being of the schol. Among students who are contemplating coming to Mont Allison are a Cuban young lady now in New York and a student of the Art School in Boston, who thinks she can do as well in her native land at the Sackville Art Studio, which is flattering to Prof. Hammond.

The teachers have all returned with the exception of Miss Williams, who has been detained in Boston by the serious illness of her sister. A snug and pretty parlor has just been fitted up in the south wing for the use of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent.

Cards are out for the wedding of Miss Walker, Bermuda, who was the guest of Mrs. Borden last summer, to Clarence Stuart Peniston, of Pembroke, Bermuda, Jan. 29th. Miss Walker made many friends during her visits in Sackville, all of whom will wish her much happiness.

The closing concert that was to herald the Xmas holiday of the ladies' college and was deferred by the death of Mrs. Allison, will be given Jan. 27.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Berton Allison were invited guests at both church and reception for the wedding of Miss Fanning, now Mrs. E. Howard Gay.

Mr. W. Mowbray returned last week to his duties at the Merchants bank after over a month's sick leave. He was obliged to go into the harness promptly on account of Mr. Read of head office who was filling his position, being suddenly ordered to Vancouver. Mr. Mowbray's illness did not however, prove as serious as was at first feared and he is looking all the better for the rest.

The new school house on Allison hill was formally opened on Tuesday afternoon, the scholars assembling for the first time in the morning. A large number attended the meeting which was held in the hall on the third floor. Robert Bell over twenty years trustee, was chairman, and on the platform were Dr. Sangster, Dr. Brecken, Dr.
Allison, Rev. E. C. Daley, Rev. C. F. Wiggins and Rev. S. Howard, all of whom made admirable speeches. There were also excellent speeches from Prof. Hutton, Prof. Andrews and A. B. Copp and a neat address was delivered by the lately appointed principal F. A. Dixon. It was hoped that Premier Emmerson and H. A. Powell, M. P., would have spoken but press of business prevented either gentlemen from being present. Several very pleasant things were said to the trustees regarding the able manner in which they had guided the somewhat complicated affairs of the new school building, the site for which has seen as many changes as the celebrated Vicar of Bray.

Tuesday evening Miss Gretchen Allison gave a party, the occasion being her tenth birthday. The invited guests were, Miss Elaine Borden, Miss Gladys Borden, Miss Lillian Smith, Miss Ruby Smith, Miss Gladys Willis, Miss Lizzie Pridham, Miss Heber Wood, Miss Nora Wiggins, Miss Helen Wiggins, Miss Hazel Bell and Miss Lella Estabrooks. Games were of course the order of the afternoon and at the dainty tea the principal excitement was to see who would be the lucky winner of the ring in the birthday cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Bedford Dixon went to St. John Saturday for a short trip.

death of Mrs. Stephens, eldest daughter of Mrs.
John Webb from grippe. Miss Susie who with her mother has been in Chicago with Mrs. Stephens since the autumn has also been ill with the same complaint but is recovering.

JAN. 11.—A most delightful social event was the progressive whist party given by Mrs. C. H. Clerke on Friday afternoon from three until seven o'clock.
The handsome parlors were darkened and numbered lamps lighted, so that the whist players might enjoy the game by lamp light. There were nice tables and at the close of the game Mrs. Seth S. Whitney was found to be the winner and was awarded the first prize, which was a lovely souvenir spoon of St. Stephen. The booby prize fell to the lot of Mr.
James G. Stevens, a silver vase jar. At six o'clock supper was served in four courses. During the hours of the game, Miss Florence Mitchell gave some brilliant selections on the piano which added greatly to the pleasure of the party and won for her self many delightful and complimentary comments.

Mrs. George J. Clerke sang several times some THINGS OF VALUE.

There never was, and never will be, a universal panacea, in one remedy, for the ills to which flesh is heir—the very nature of man's curatives being such that were the germs of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient —what would relieve one ill in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its with whom a chronic state of morbid despondency and lack of interest in life is a disease, and, by tranquilizing the nerves, disposes to sound and re-

Had La Grippe.—Mr. A. Nickerson, Farmer Dutton, writes: Last winter I had La Grippe and it left me with a severe pain in the small of my back and hip that used to catch me whenever I tried to catch a fence. This lasted for about two months when I bought a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eucalypto Oil and used it both internally and externally, morning and evening, for three days, at the expiration of which time I was completely cured.
