

The B, and A. ball on last Friday evening added another triumph to those which the club has already schieved, and its reputation for open handed hospitality and the ability to make their guests thoroughly enjoy themselves was fully sustained. A happier gathering was never contained in the Institute than that which assembled on the evening in question and although over 1000 invitations were sent out, that list included many non residents, so that there was no crowding at any

The rooms were decorated with taste and artistic effect, the small s' detail rece v ng the most careful attention. The club colors, red and white were of course freely used in draping, and on the wall opposite the m in entrance to the ball room were five bicyc'e rims and tires inside the former being in large letters S. J. B. A. C. The reception room, sitting out corners, etc., were all very tastefully arranged by lady friends of the club members. The supper tables contained besides its excellent menu consisting of salads, sandwi hes, cake, biscuit coffee, ices, etc., some pretty decorations; the club trophies filled with flowers were in evidence on every hand and added greatly to the brightness of St John people will be interested in the following as the bride and her samily were for many years residents of this city, Rev. Dr. Carey resigning the pastorate of Brussels street baptist church only a few weeks ago. Many friends in St. John received invitations to the wedding.

Mr. Edward Cecil Whitman, of Canso, N. S., was married at 1 30 o'clock today to Alice Gertrude Carey, daughter of the Rev. Dr. Carey, late of St. John N. B., at the residence of J. B. Tyrrell, the bride's brother-in-law, in this city. The officiating 7 voted to agricultural interests.

clergymen were Rev. Dr. Carey, the bride's father, Rev A. A. Cameron of the first baptist church and Rev. Dr. Herrid e, of St. Andrew's church. The bridesmaids were two little girls, Mary Tyrrell. the bride's piece, and Rose Prince, daughter of Prof. Prince. The best man was A. Kilmuster, American consul for the county of Norfolk. The bride wore a dress of white corded silk, the skirt trimmed with true lover's knots of white ribbon, the bodice trimmed with sequins and brilliants. She carried a bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. The bridegroom's present to the bride was a pearl and diamond star. The young couple left for New York to spend the honeymoon.
