

SACKVILLE.

[PROGRESS is for sale in Sackville by W. Goodwin.]

JAN. 25 .- With the fine days good roads and bright moonlight nights everyone who has anything at all in he shape of a horse, saving and accepting a clothes horse is making it go. Each afternoon the streets are gay with flying sleighs and as most people remember their friends taking in sometimes four or five, even those who do not own a gallant steed have enjoyed a spin.

Friday afternoon there was a pleasant little driving party got up by Mrs. J. F. Allison across the marsh to Point de Bute, where they were entertained by Mrs. Milner. Several guests were not able to participate but those going were besides Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Alilson, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Read, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent, Miss Golder, Miss Cocke, Miss Webster, Mrs. McSweeney, of Mt. Whatty, Messrs. Tweedie, Tait and W. H. Harrison. It happened to be Mr. Milner's birthday which added to the pleasure of the occasion and at the tea table this fact received very felicitious mention in a neat speech from J. F. Allison. After tea the party gathered in an informal way about the old fashioned fire place and exchanged story and jest till it was time for the drive home through the still white

Saturday evening was enlivened by the band at the skating rink. It was a Mt. Allison evening the young ladies of the college being permitted to go which of course ensured a large at endance of the young men of the institutions. There was a good representation from the town besides a number of visitors. Among these latter were Mr. Prescott, Miss Prescott, Mr. Copp, Miss Harper, Baie Verte and Mrs. Frank Harper, Bayfield. Owing to soft weather the ice was not so good as usual and it was difficult skating in such a crowd but everyone seemed to be having a good time.

Sunday Dr. Borden preached missionary sermons in Point de Bute and Jolicure.

The grippe microbes are still walking about on their hind legs and pawing the air with exuberant glee. While the prevailing complaint does not seem to be of a bad type there are fresh cases daily. Among last victims are Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Bennett, Dr. Hart, Miss Alice Hart, Miss Fairley, Miss Dora Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ogden, Miss Ethel Odgen, Miss Greta Odgen. Some of these patients are appearing out however, their attacking proving short though it is doubtful if it was sweet. J. Lemont, Fredericton has been in town several days last week. Mrs Charles Cahill has returned having been in

The Brook. Gay is the thrill of the woodland rill As it merrily dances along,
With never a thought of the aged mill
Or the miller's crooning song;
With never a thought of the rolling wheel And its dripping buckets mossed, Or the endless flow of the golden meal

That is from the hopper tossed. Ceaseless the splash of this brooklet wild As it dashes its way so bold, With never a thought of the little child

That is now the mil'er old; With never a thought of the passing years, Or the master's halting gait, Or the creaking grind of the rusty years, Or the ruthless hand of fate.

Ceaseless the runlet swirls at will Through the sunlit meadows gay, And under the silent, solemn mill, With a laugh and a dash of spray; With never a thought of the thrifty Past, Or a sob for the ones now dust, With never a thought—for the pace is fast, And memories quickly rust. In Mid-Winter.

All quietly the gardens lie, All quietly and white; No voices cheer the night; But one reminds my soul and says: The Child-Heart ne'er neglects its praise.

The blight is on the hill and wood, The blight is on the town; God's restless poor, misunderstood. Go weeping up and down; But One hath whispered unto me: The Child-Heart knows no bond nor free.

The cold earth listens for the songs And sounds the summer knew; Men little heed beside their wrongs, And nourish sorrow's rue; But God hath not forgotten men— The Child-Heart bids us hope again.

Sir Walter Surpassed. The days of chivalry are gone-No courtesy we meet; No Raleigh now would throw his cloak At good Queen Bess's feet. Yet Raleigh merely used his cloak, While I, in raptures gone, Have thrown my suit at Mabel's feet

For her to trample on. THINGS OF VALUE.

There are a thousand things the people ought to do, and although they admit it, they never will do There never was, and never will be, a universal panacea, in one remedy, for the ills to which flesh is heir—the very nature of mans curatives being such that were the germs of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient—what would relieve one ill in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtainable in a sound unadulterated state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual and judicious use, the frailest systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence which Quinine exerts on Nature's own restoratives. It relieves the drooping spirits of those with whom a chronic state of morbid despondency and lack of interest in life is a disease, and, by tranquilizing the nerves, disposes to sound and refreshing sleep—imparts vigor to the action of the blood, which, being stimulated, courses throughout the veins, strengthening the animal function of the system, thereby making activity a necessary result strengthening the frame, and giving life to the digestive organs, which naturally demand increased substance -result improved appetite, Northrop Lyman of Toronto, have given to the public their superior Quinine Wine at the usual rate, and, gauged by the opinion of scientists, this wine approaches nearest perfection of any in the market. All druggists sell it.
