Oddest Delusion Yet.

Kingston, Ont., can boast of a good many things of which it is proud, but the latest it can make is a little bit eccentric. Of all the crazy men with queer delusions there is none to compare with that of an individual who is confined in the insane asylum in this city. He thinks he is a poached egg, and for twenty years he has been looking tor a piece of toast big enough to sit down on. When visitors come and meet him he always approaches them with the request for a moment's conversation in private. As he is perfectly harmless the keepers do not put any restructions upon him. If you grant his request he whispers in your ear.

'Have you got a piece of toast about you?' 'No,' you say. 'What is the matter with you? Are you hungry?'

'Aungry!' ejeculates the man. 'Why should I be hungry? I get plenty to eat. I'm tired. I'm a poached egg and I'm looking for a piece of toast to Naturally this request leads to laughter, and the poached egg retires in high dudgeon, but he comes back regularly on the arrival of the next batch of visitors to see if he can't have better luck. All sorts of things which look like toast have been supplied to the man, but he wants the real thing, and as chairs and couches are not made out of toasted bread he is obliged to go on making his perpetual plea to visitors. In all other respects the man seems normal, and if this crazy idea could only be got out ot his head he might obtain his discharge. As he persists in his delusion he will probably spend the rest of his days in the asylum.

Mounds Kept a Bear Treed Nine Days. The mysterious disappearance of two valuable hounds owned by A. W. Combs of Oakland, has been explained, and the story behind it proves one of the most remarkable cases of canine faithfulness and determination ever recorded. Combs was one of a party of hunters who returned a few days ago from a week's hunting trip in the mountains back of Crecent City, Del Norte county.

The party had taken along four hounds, which were missed during the first night in the mountains. They had evidently strayed away during the night and for the following four days the hunters were without their companions. On the fourth day, however, two of the hounds returned to camp, the two belonging to Combs being finally given up for lost or stolen. When the hunters were ready to start for home they informed Superior Judge Cutier of the mysterious disap earance of the two hounds and requested him to advertise a reward for a return in his name.

One day last week Mr Combs received a letter from Judge Cutler conveying the happy news that the hounds had been recovered. Judge Cutley writes that they were found in the mountains several miles from where the Oaklanders had been hunting by a miner, who had heard them barking for several days. The miner had gone to investigate and found two hounds holding the fort at the base of a large tree, into which a bear had climbed for safety from their attack. This was nine days after they had been missed from the hunters's camp, and for several days they had r mained on watch at this particular tree. They were completely exhausted and very nearly starved to death, as was also the bear which the miner killed.

Almost everybody remembers the celebrated advice of the London Punch, "To those about to marry. Don't." There is in that advice the expression of the feeling of many a mother who says, "I hope my daughter will never marry and suffer as I have."

In ninety - eight cases in every hundred there's no need for this suffering. Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the womanly diseases which cause wifely misery. It dries enfeebling drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It invigorates the womanly organism, tranquilizes the nerves and gives the mother strength to give her children. Do not allow an unscrupulous dealer to sell you something in place of "Favorite Prescription," claimed to be "just as good." There is nothing just as good for women as "Favorite Prescription." "I am so pleased with your instructions, I hardly know what thanks to give you for your kind favors," writes Mrs. Milo Bryant, of Lota, St. Thomas Co., Ga. "You can publish my few statements to the world, hoping all suffering women will know and be healed. I suffered so much with great pains in my back and the lower part of my stomach and palpitation of the heart, that at times I could hardly lie down, and could hardly get up in the morning, but after using three bottles of 'Favorite Prescrip-tion' and two vials of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, I feel like a new woman.' Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure sick headache.
