

The absorbing question just now is what to do on Dominion Day, or at least that was the query a few days ago, but perhaps by this time pretty nearly everybody has his or her mind fully made up, as to where they shall spend Canada's birthday. Generally speaking July 1st. is looked upon by the people as the one day in all the year for leaving town and revelling in the glories of forest, stream and country fields, or else a "most suitable occasion to visit neighbouring towns and cities. Why this is so is perhaps attributable to the fact that few if any special attractions are ever offered to keep the people at home. It seems as if the one desire of all is to leave the familiar scenes of old St. John and feast their eyes upon new and more interesting sights outside city limits. The proposed Proteia celebration on Dominion Day having slipped through leaves all hands free to follow the dictates of their desires as to what they shall do Monday.

Among the attractions offered is the excursion to Digby on the "Prince Rupert" in connection with the interprovincial yacht race, the usual river trips, one fare rates to Fredericton where bicycle champions are slated, City Cornet band excursion to Fairbridge Island, Brussels street church outing at Westfield Beach, baseball between the Roses and Alerts on the B. and A. Grounds, Harkins Company at the Opera House, and one fare tickets to all L. C. R. points. Of course there are minor attractions.

The American baseball boys who have been almost a week in town are delighted with the way they are being received on all sides. They are indeed a well-behaved gentlemanly lot of fellows and never lost sight of this even when the games were at their keenest. The college boys of the Tufts boys is beautifully situated at Medford Hillside, a few miles out of Boston, where the battle-scarred campus has been the scene of some memorable football and baseball contests. Tufts College is in reality a university as all the professions are taught there, and in point of scholarship ranks high. Its grounds are among the prettiest and healthiest in all America and the museum and gymnasium gems of architecture and modern.

Miss Daisy Sears, the pretty and bright little daughter of ex-mayor Sears has received from Jas. Johnston of Elm street, St. John's first returned Paardeberg hero, an interesting collection of war curios in recognition of the valuable service she has done in augmenting the soldier's relief fund by her recitations and coin-winning performances. Altogether Miss Daisy has collected over one hundred dollars. Hearing of what she has done for the soldiers, Private Johnston has presented her with a beautiful white ostrich feather, several buttons, a neat pocket edition of "The Absent Minded Beggar" that he bought in South Africa, also with a book entitled "Victory" published in London. The feather was worn by Miss Daisy at an entertainment in the Mission church school room on Tuesday evening.

JUN 27.—This has been a week of farewells, teachers and pupils all over the city, many have clasped hands for the last time and some for the short summer vacation. Perhaps the most interesting of all the closing exercises was that held at the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb. The large number of visitors who crowded the assembly room of that institution were exceedingly interested and amazed at the wonderful work done there. Many of the pupils received prizes for the excellence of their work. A happy incident of the occasion was the presentation by the pupils of a handsome prize to their beloved physician Dr. McLearn. The presentation was made by the articulation class. Miss Beatrice McLean, Miss Evelyn Mary Wass and Miss Della M. Green acting for their classmates and was in these words:

DEAR DOCTOR:—As many of us have become the happy possessors of prizes today, we felt that you deserved one also and we have much pleasure in presenting this to you a long career of health, happiness and usefulness.

The prize was a beautiful set of Shakespeare. The doctor was evidently deeply affected and unable to reply and asked Prof. Woodbridge to thank the pupils for him. Different members of the articulation class recited verses of patriotic songs which were much applauded by the visitors, who were amazed at the possibility of the dumb being taught to speak. Dear Economy Some short-sighted people practice a kind of economy that is not economical. They save a penny on soap and lose a dollar on cloth s. Sooner or later they learn that the cheap common soaps rot clothing by burning the thread with strong alkalies, then they wish they had used Welcome Soap which contains no impurities, nothing to injure the most delicate fabric. There is still greater economy in using WELCOME SOAP, Because it lasts longer than others.

White's Snowflake Chocolates Have the Letter S on Top. Imitations are out. Look out for them.

Corticelli Skirt Protector should not be used as a binding—it is a physical impossibility for any kind of a binding to outwear a skirt. Corticelli Protector Braid should be sewed on flat—not turned over—one or two rows of stitching—one at upper edge of braid and the second near the bottom of the skirt. Put on thus it is a real "protector"—its perfect shade match makes a desirable bottom finish for any skirt. Sold everywhere 4 cents a yard. The genuine has this label.
