Jan. 24.—In spite of the efforts Halifax people are making to entertain Canadian soldiers they do not find them entering enthusiastically into gayeties. They are out for work, for fighting and are making that fact plain.

On Thursday afternoon, Lady Daly was "At Home" to the officers of the 2nd Canadian Contingent, and also to those whose names were on Government House visiting list, who were invited to meet the officers. No invitations were issued beyond the general announcement published to this effect. A very large number attended—both civil and military. Sir Malachy and Lady Daly received in the large drawing-room, and the guests then passed into the tea room, where there were tea, ices and other light refreshments. Just outside the refreshment room the band was stationed, and played during the reception. Government House on this afternoon presented a brilliant scene. The militia officers attending were in uniform, several among them doing the honors in the refreshment room. A large number of prominent citizens were also present, and among the fair sex there were some very handsome dresses.

The news of the death of Capt Hensby in South Africa last Saturday was received with much sorrow. He was a P. E. Islander and a young man only 31 years of age.

Capt Graeme Duffus, R. A., son of John Duffus, of this city, has been promoted to be major; he left Southampton January 4 in charge of 400 men to fill vacancies in the artillery caused by casualties. His wife, a daughter of F. D. Corbett, came passenger by S. S. Dominion this week on a visit to her parents while her husband is on active duty.

Commenting on the above, the Recorder says: There is quite a revival of the period of early in the century, when so many Nova Scotia names became honored in Britain's war annals; and to the long list which included Wallis, Williams, Inglis, we have now to add—going down to fame—those of Wood, Hensley, Duffus, besides many others who have not yet had the opportunity of distinguishing themselves, but will be sure to do so as others have done. A Nova Scotian is sure to make his way to the front wherever he may be.

A large number of people assembled at the Presbyterian Church, Bedford on Monday afternoon to witness the marriage of color-sergeant Edmund Vaughan, of the 1st Batt. Leinster Regiment, Royal Canadian, to Miss Annie Russell, of St. John's Nfld. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. P. Logan. The bride was attired in a becoming costume of violet cloth with trimmings of cream chiffon and ribbon and looked exceedingly well. She was attended by Miss Katie Keally, who wore a costume of brown. Serat McCormick, of the Leinster regiment supported the groom.

The church was tastefully decorated for the occasion with flags. As the bridal party entered the church the choir sang, "The Voice that Breathed o'er Eden," and as the party left, the church Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" was played. After the ceremony the bridal party drove to Belle Vue Hotel, where a sumptuous repast was partaken of. The bride was the recipient of a number of presents the groom's gift being a handsome gold watch and chain. Sergeant Vaughan was in command of the post at Bedford from the arrival of his regiment until his promotion to the rank of Color-Sergeant, during which time he enjoyed the esteem of the whole community.

In its military notes the recorder tells a romantic wedding that took place in Quebec in connection with the departure of the troops for Halifax. Adam J. Hall, of Peterborough, Ont., a trooper in a squadron, Mounted Rifles, was wedded to Miss Edith Hartley, also of Peterboro, who is a sister-in-law of Mr. W. R. Russell, civil engineer of the Montmorency Electric Light & Power Company. It appears that Trooper Hall and Miss Hartley had been engaged to be married but had parted at Peterborough with the intention of waiting until the war was over. Determined however, to have another parting with her brave soldier boy before leaving, and to visit her married sister at Quebec at the same time, Miss Hartley went to Quebec. Trooper Hall was unaware of the fact until invited to dinner by her brother-in-law when his agreeable surprise may be imagined and when the two faithful lovers resolved upon an impromptu wedding, with the approbation of their friends, and with the assistance of the Rev. Mr. Love they were made man and wife at Mr. Russell's hospitable residence.

An interesting event took place in the church of St. Denis, at East Ship Harbor, on the 15th Jan., when Veronica C., daughter of Thos. Keating, P. M., was united in marriage to Mr. Wm. Tracey, of that place. The church was tastefully decorated for the occasion, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. Chas. E. McManus, P. P. The bride looked charming in a gown of white cashmere, trimmed with cream ribbon and chiffon, and wore a veil and orange blossoms. She was attended by her sister, Miss Minnie Keating, who was very becomingly attired in a suit of bluishette cloth, with trimmings of chiffon and guipure, and hat to match, while the groom was ably supported by Rev. De Wolfe. After the ceremony they repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where a sumptuous repast was spread, at which all the old people of the village were present. At 3 o'clock another reception was held, and young and old enjoyed themselves dancing until the "wee sma' hours," after which the happy couple departed for their new home amidst a volley of musketry and showers of rice. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and useful presents, showing the high esteem in which she was held.

Miss Winnie Cowen, daughter of Mr. James Cowen, who is now an efficient officer in the S. A.,

"If any one present knows of any just cause or impediment, why these two persons should not be joined together in holy matrimony, let him now speak."

That is the challenge of the old marriage service. It is the challenge of church and state, and rarely is answered. But if that challenge were offered to Science how often would she forbid the banns, in the interest of woman's health and happiness.

Thousands of happy maidens who have looked to marriage as the consummation of their earthly happiness, have found it a blight to the body, a martyrdom to the mind. The irregular and painful periods of maidenhood were looked upon as a part of the common lot of woman, and so neglected. Wifehood brought with it debilitating drains, and the trial of motherhood left an inflamed and ulcerated condition of the womanly organs. Then followed the slow decay of body and mind; the one tormented with pain, the other irritable, or despondent.

Science which cannot forbid the banns of marriage, can undo these sad consequences. It is the hand of science which offers afflicted women that marvelous medicine, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It positively cures irregularities, female weakness and disagreeable drains on the system. It allays inflammation and heals ulceration. It makes the trial of motherhood easy and brief. It brings back lost health and beauty.

"Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol, whisky or other stimulant. Nothing is "just as good" for women as the "Prescription." Accept no substitute.

Women single or married will find invaluable advice in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. Sent free on receipt of stamps to defray cost of customs and mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for paper edition. For cloth edition 50 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
