COUGHING ALL NIGHT.

It's this night coughing that breaks us down, keeping us awake most of the time, and arnoying everybody in the house Lots of people don't begin to cough until they go to bed. It gets to be so that retiring for the night is an empty form, for they cannot rest.

Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam makes life worth living to such people by its soothing effect on the throat. The "tickling sensation" promptly disappears when the use of the Balsam is beaun, and the irritation goes with it. This medicine for cough hasn't a disagreeable thing about it, and it does ef ficient service in breaking up coughs of long stand ing. It is prepared from barks and roots and gums of trees, and is a true specific for throat troubles. Handling coughs is a scie ce that every one should learn. Not knowing how to treat them has cost many fortunes and many lives. In Adamson's Balsam there are the elements which not only heal inflammation, but which protect the inflamed parts from further irritation. The result of this is that the tendency to cough does not manifest itself, and you are surprised at it Afterward you would not be without Adamson's Balsam at hand. This remedy can be tested. 25 cents at any druggist's.

RAILROAD TO HUDSON BAY.

Rapid Progress Making on the Line From Sault Ste. Marie Through the Wilderness. For years there has been much talk of building a railroad between Manitobs and Hudson Bay as a new outlet for the wheat of the Canadian Northwest. It seems likely that this project will never be carried out, but the new scheme, announced only a few months ago. of connecting the foot of Lake Superior at Sault See Marie with the southwestern shores of Hudson Bay is now advancing at the rate of half a mile a day. This is the Algoma Central Railroad, building mostly with United States capital, but assisted by the Canadian Government. weich has made invaluable concessions to the company. About seventy miles of the road are now completed.

Some years ago Mr. R Bell and other Canadian explorers first revealed the region to the southeast of Hudson Bay. They declared that it contained a great abundance of spruce and other valuable timbers and also much fine, arable land. It was thought that the corresponding region to southwest of the bay must be equally valuable, but very little was known of it until early last summer, when a number of mineral and timber experts were sent out on the proposed route to ascertain the possibilities of the country.

There was reason to believe that spruce abounded and the main purpose of building the road was to secure large supplies of wood pulp for the paper mills at Sault Ste. Marie. But it was thought that investigation would reveal other important resources and this belief is justified by the reports now coming in.

The prospectors say that vast forests of spruce, pine, bard woods and cedar lie all along the route. There are also great beds of pottery clay, iron ore, copper, gyp sum and other minerals besides millions of acres timbered with maple, beach and oak that will make fi e, farming lands when once cleared. The Ontario government has made a contract with the company to locate on these lards several hundred families a year for the next ten years. An emigration office has been established in England and it is expected to send out the first party in the coming spring.

It is said there is spruce enough along the line of the road to supply pulp for large paper interests for many years. Consul Harlan W. Brush has reported from Niagara Falls, Ontario, that it is the intention to establish a 'seaside hotel' at the terminus of the railroad on Hudson Bay. Game is plentitul there scores of lakes and rivers teeming with fish may be easily reached, and the scenery, the bracing climate and the hunting and fishing are expected to attract thousands of tourists.

Set to Music.

During the reign of Charles II., there lived in England a musician named Wise, who not only lived up to his name, but was witty as well.

One day some one went to him with a petition against an expected prorogation of parliament.

·Will you set your name to this petition, Doctor Wise, and so help a good cause?" demanded the person who presented the

'No, my friend,' said the musician, after glancing over the document, "I prefer not to do so, as it is not my business to meddle with affairs of state; but I tell you what I will do, I'll set a tune to it, if you please.'

Misunderstood. One of the churches in a little western town is so fortunate as to have a young woman as its pastor. She was called to the door of the parsonage one day, and saw there a much-embarrassed young farmer of the German type. 'Dey said der minister lifed in dis house,' he said. 'Yes,' replied the fair pastor.

'Vell-m-I-I vant to kit merrit!' 'To get married? Very well, I can marry you,' said the ministress, encourag-
