Miss Helen N. Portier, of Somerset, Bermuda, who has been visiting friends in our sister city, St. John, here, was a passenger on the Orinoco yesterday. Miss Portier was loud in her praises of the treatment accorded her in both cities, and considers Halifax an ideal summer resort, having improved considerably in health during her visit here. Her many newly made friends were glad to learn that she is returning home in the enjoyment of good health.—Halifax Recorder.

The following afternoon, at 2 o'clock, in St. Mark's Episcopal Church, Mrs. Gertrude Whelpley, of St. John, N. B., and Elizabeth Moore, of Somerset, Bermuda, were married by the Rev. Henry B. Washburn. The couple are both subjects of His Majesty King Edward, and in most affairs would acknowledge allegiance to old England, but when it came to a wedding, the Heart of the Commonwealth was the most fitting place for the ceremony.

Invitations for the wedding had been issued by Dr. and Mrs. Miles R. Gordon, of 11 North Ashland street. Mrs. Gordon is a niece of Mrs. Whelpley, who has been visiting the former since her arrival in Worcester, Saturday. Mr. Moore is expected tomorrow from Bermuda.

Mrs. Whelpley has had quite a notable career as a business woman in St. John, where she is highly respected. For several years after her husband's death she conducted an ice business, which she built up solely through her own efforts. By her honesty, courtesy and untiring energy the enterprise expanded until she was able to sell out in March of last year for $30,000. It is likely she would be engaged in the same business had not the death of her daughter, which occurred last year, removed one of the greatest comforts of her life. She has recently returned from a trip abroad; she has on her son living in England.

Mrs. Whelpley met her prospective husband in St. John many years ago and he has been devoted to her for a long time. Owing to her objections to living in Bermuda he has sold out his business on that island and will live with his bride in Bedford N. B., where Mrs. Whelpley has built a beautiful

It is always auspicious when a widower gets in the habit of being dressed up all the time.

A woman can get just as mad as a man, but nobody will ever believe it, because she doesn't know how to swear like him.

'Insaintin,' she said, raising her voice 'but the old and oft-repeated assertion that women talk more than men has no foundation whatever in fact!'

'Then why,' asked the man in the case, 'is our common language universally called the 'mother tongue?'
