

The visit of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York was a most joyous event and St. John Society was not behind in extending a welcome to the Royal visitors.

The reception was a very pretty affair and in every way a remarkable success, both as regards the number that attended and the prettiness of the dresses worn. The ladies and gentlemen of this city are to be congratulated and Princess feels assured that the royal party must have been well pleased.

One of the prettiest weddings of the year was celebrated Wednesday afternoon at the residence of Mr. Geo. H. Oulton, Elliott Row, when his daughter Mollie was united in marriage by the Rev. John de Soyres, to Fred L. Stone, of Schenectady, N. Y., son of Mr. Joseph R. Stone of this city.

The wedding was at 2.30 and the guests were principally near relatives of the bride and groom. The drawing rooms were handsomely decorated with palms and sunflowers, and at the head of the room was a green arch, from which hung a large floral bell, right under which the happy couple were made one. The bride's dress was of white silk crepe de chine over white silk. She wore the bridal veil trimmed with orange blossoms and carried a large shower bouquet of white roses. She was attended by Miss Margaret Fowler and Miss Ella Macaulay as bridesmaids, and by little Misses Eunice, Bertha and Marion Macaulay and Marjorie Calkin as maids of honor. The bridesmaids wore white organdie over green silk, and carried bouquets of chrysanthemums. The maids of honor all looked very pretty in dresses of white organdie. Mr. J. G. R. Innis was the groomsmen. The ceremony over, there were congratulations and good wishes, while the orchestra played the wedding march.

Luncheon was served to the guests, the dining room being beautifully decorated in green and pink. The luncheon over, Mr. and Mrs. Stone drove to the station and took the Boston train. The bride's going away gown was a most becoming one of dark red broadcloth.
