PROGRESS, SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 9 1901

for some time under the doctor's care.

previous week.

sister Mrs Price

home to Amherst.

work for Miss Currie.

Miss Ruth Chandler.

and parts through Kings county.

week.

week.

The pretty comic opera Nell Gwynne under the management of the Neptune Rowing Ciub will be the attraction at the opera house on next Tuesday. Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

Rehearsals of the principal parts and of the choruses have been conducted by Prof. Ford. A full dress rehearsal was held on Thursday evening at which everything passed off smoothly. Indications are that the Neptune Club will be as successful with their production as were the R. B. Y. club with their Zephra.

The story of the beautiful and romantic Nell Gwynne as told in song is indeed most interesting.

Act I. discioses an old royalist noble, dying, bequeaths to Charles II., the guardianship of his only child, Clare. Her royal tutor, bored by the trust and wishing to marry her off, proposes her hand to Rochester, who has never seen the country heiress, and who rejects the match. For this he is banished the court. On her side, Clare secretly loves her cousin Talbot; but the king, chafed by the favorite's refusal, will hear of no other match. In this dilema Clare appeals to her foster-sister, Nell Gwynne, now beginning her successful career at the King's Theatre, and in high favor with Charles. Nell has also a slight to avenge. Buckingham has written a court masque.in which the king wishes Neil to play the leading character; but the noble author is pledged to little Moll Davies, Nell's rival, and declines to alter his caste. He is also banished the court for his contumacy; and Charles importuned by Nell to bestow Clare on her cousin, makes it a condition of his assent that Rochester shall be brought to Clare's feet, and that Buckingham shall accept Nel as his leading lady. The actress accepts; and her manoeuvres to out-trick and cajole Rochester and Buckingham form the groundwork of the little drama. The action of the first act passes in a hamlet of the New Forest, where the two exiled lords are playing at inn keeping, and making violent love to Jessamine, niece of old Weasel, the village pawn broker. The little rustic, however, has her own lover, a strolling player named Falcon. The village comedy is completed by the loves of the Beadle and Marjorie, general drudge in Weasel's house. To further their courtship of Jessamine, and get into her house, the two lords get disguises : Buckingham a suit of the Beadle, and Rochester the dress of a rat-catcher. At this point two very grand ladies visit the inn, with a view of placing two young girls, poor relations of their own, in service. The two lords accept enthusiastically, and at the end of the act, Nell and Clare, (who themselves have played the grand ladies), appear as the new servants, Gillian and Joan. In the second act the action is shifted to Weasel's pawn-shop in an old and rickety manor-house, and the comic imbroglio begins. Jessamine has secretly arranged with her lover Falcon to come and see her, disguised as a rat-catcher-so that with Rochester similarly dressed, there are two cf them in the field. Buckingham in his beadle's suit is there estensibly to guard Weasel's premises against thieves, and the real Beadle, his double, comes to court Marjorie. Jessamine too, resolving to escape with her lover, persuades Marjorie to put on her dress and take her place till she is clear of the premises. What with two rat-catchers, two Beadles, and two Jessamines, the mistakes are many and confusing; but Neil, who has penetrated the disguise of Rochester and Buckingham, effectively baffles their designs on Jessamine. Finally, Jessamine and Falcon escape, the two lords make appointments with Marjorie, supposing her to be Jessamine, and the Beadle is seized and put in his own stocks for the pranks really commit.ed by Buckingham A glade in the new forest is the principal scene in the third act. Charles and his court, hunting with hawk and hound, fall in with Nell looking after her kine, and learning that the denouncement of the Rochester and Buckingham comedy is fast approaching, resolve to wait and see it. The hunt is resumed and then the inflammable Rochester throws himself at the feet of the pretty waitress Gillisn, little dreaming that it is Clare. Condition number one. Buckingham then has a scene with Joan (otherwise Nell) in which, discovering that she sings and dances charmingly, the mercurial nobleman rushes to the conclusion that he has found a rustic prodigy, and actually proposes to take her to London and crush Nell Gwynne. Condition number two. Nothing now remains for the actress to do but turn the two lords into ridicule over the assignation with the supposed Jessamine, and then hurry away with Clare to share in the impeachment of Rochester and Buckingham. In this they are unwittingly assisted by old Weasel and the Beadle, who since the night of terror, where the house of the one was turned inside out, and the other was clapped in his own pillory, have been wandering distraught, in the woods. Comparing notes they find that the false beadle and false rat catcher were the landlord and waiter of the Dragon and summoning the watch, they haul Rochester and Buckingham before the king. How the two scamps are confounded by Nell, how Talbot gets the hand of Clare, Falcon that of Jessamine, and how all ends happily except perhaps for the amateur inn keeper) need not be detailed.

An event which will attract much attention is the skating competition among the members of the Monday Evening Skating Club, which takes place at the next meeting. Judges have been appointed and suitable prizes will be awarded.

The annual meeting of the Women's Council was held yesterday afternoon. In the evening there was public meeting in the Orange Hall. Sanitation was the subject of discussion. An able paper was prepared by Dr Wm Bayard. Dr Mary McLeod and Dr Clara Olding also took part in the discussion.

On Tuesday evening a number of ladies and gentlemen drove out from the city to the home of Mr and Mrs Frank Rafferty, at Brookville, where a pleasant surprise party was held. The young people took complete charge of the house and soon cleared the large rooms for dancing, which amusement was the principal festure of the evening. A bountiful supper was served at midnight and the return to the city was made at an early hour in the morning.

The marriage will take place at the Cathedral on Tuesday February 19th of Miss Gertrude Dever, daughter of Senator Dever and Capt J Leslie, who has recently returned from South Africa. Miss Dever is one of our leading society ladies and her coming marriage is causing much interest in social circles.

Lady Tilley leaves today to meet her niece, Miss Howland, who is returning from Devey, Switzerland. Miss Howland will probably remain here for the remainder of the winter.

Mrs J. V. Ellis has been quite seriously ill with la grippe, but is now convalescent.

The many friends of Mrs James (Senator) Dever are pleased to hear that she is recovering from her recent serious illness.

Miss Mowatt of St Andrews, who has been the guest of Lady Tilley for the past few weeks, returned to her home on Saturday last.

Miss Babbitt of Fredericton, is visiting her sister Mrs J V Ellis, Princess street.

Major Markham, accompanied by his daughter Miss Lillian Markham, left this week for New York. Miss Markham will remain for some weeks with friends.

Mrs Robert Thompson went to New York last week. She was joined this week by Mr Thompson and together they will proceed to the West Indies,

PARRSBORO.

[PROGRESS is for sale at the Parrsboro Bookstore.]

where they will remain for a few weeks.

On Wednesday evening of last week a party of young ladies and gentlemen enjoyed a pleasant drive from the city to the residence of Mrs Isaac Dobbins at Rothesay where they were entertained for the evening. Dancing was the chief amusement although games of all kinds were provided for those who did not care to trip the light fantastic. Light refreshments were served during the evening and the party returned to the city at an early in the morning. Among those present were.

Miss Stack Miss Reberts Miss Florrie McKean Miss Shaw Miss McDonald Miss Dunlop Miss A Adams Miss A Sweeny Miss L McCormack Miss H Sweeney Miss Jennie Hazlette Miss E Munford Miss T McManus Miss Alice Graham Miss Lizzie Sproul Miss M Case. Mr. H Hughes, Mr. Purdy, Mr. Jack Rawlings, Mr Frank Greaney, Mr. A McLaughlin, Mr. C Mowry, Mr. & Sweeney, Mr. H Roberts, Mr. Harry McDonald, Mr. P. Shaw, Mr. W Wright, Mr. Percy Seeley, Mr. Frank Best, Mr C Lake, Mr. H Jones, Mr. Walter Irvine, Mr. A. Irvine.

A pleasant event of the week was the sleigh drive and dance given on Wednesday evening for the students in attendance at the Currie Business University. After driving out some distance from the city the party returned to the college, where some hours were pleasantly spent in dancing, the large business rooms being used for that purpose. Light refreshments were served by several of the young lady students.

Miss K. Dawning of Fairville entertained quite a number of friends at her home on Monday evening. Dancing, music and games were the amusements of the evening. About midnight a dainty supper was served, after which dancing was resumed for a short time and the affair brought to a close at an early hour in the morning.

The ladies of St. Mary's church are preparing for a high tea and concert on the evening of St. Val. entine's day. The proceeds will be for the piano fund and the aflair will no doubt be as enjoyable as the other entertainment furnished by the ladies of this parish.

Mrs Wm Kilpatrick of Newark, NJ is at present visiting in the city. She was called home by the serious illnes of her father Mr R McConaghy. Mrs J E Irvine of Garden street is in Sussex staying with her father.

Miss Katherine Greaney is visiting friends in Montreal.

The news of the sudden death of Mrs BI Leon. ard was held with sincere regret by her many friends throughout the city. Mrs Leonard was formerly Miss Susie Stafford, daughter of Mr Samuel Stafford of Lepreau and was very popular both at her home and in this city. She had been married but a few years and is survived by her husband and young child.

Miss Nash is visiting at Mrs Reynolds. Mr John Esstembre was very sick with la grippe last week. but he is improving. Mrs D L Getchell arrived on the express on Saturday. Mr. Getcheil has been back from Port

CAMPBELLTON.

Fairfield for some time. Rev. J. Spencer is ill with la grippe. Mr. E W Chandler of the Telephoee is thaying his turn of la grippe but is on the mend.

Dr. and Mrs Crocket of Dalhousie, entertained a number of their Campbellton friends on Tuesday evening, a very pleasant time being spent.

ST. GEORGE.

Feb. 5th. 1901,-The funeral of the late Mr. Wellington Douglas took place from his home on Sunday afternoon and was very largely attended. The services at the house were conducted by Rev. H. A. Savers and at the grave by the Foresters. Caramel Miss Dick accompanies her grand-parents. Senator and Mrs. Gilmor to Ottawa this winter. Mr. A. Meating has returned from is trip to New York and Boston. Memorial services for Queen Viotoria were held in the roman catholic and episcopal churches on Saturday and in the baptist church on Sunday. Miss Fannie Smith has returned from a lengthy visit in Digby. Mrs. William Merserean of Eastport has been visiting her parents for a few days. The mails are still very irregular it is hoped there be an improvement beforv long. MAX.

Young and Old Men That Board.

Let us impress upon you that we replace the neck band on your shirt, when it is worn out. Darn your socks, sew buttons on your garments, repair your shirts, when it needs it, all free. No saw edge collar, sent out by us. Ungars Laundry Dyeing and carpet cleaning works, Telephone 58.

A Chinaman's Good Sermon,

The Chinese character is full of intellectual surprises. A convert to Christianity was called upon to give an illustration of the sacred Scripture, 'Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God.'

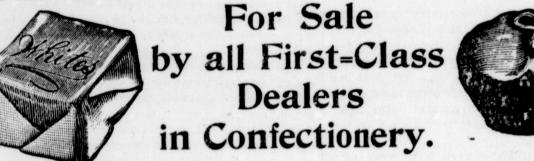

'You say that it is hard to worship a God who cannot be seen' said he, 'and that you have no inward evidence of His actuality. A mirror from which all the quicksilver had dropped away might as well complain that it could find no trace of the objects placed before it. Clean thoughts, clean affections, clean desires have the same function in human nature as the quicksilver on the back of the mirror. When the heart is filled once more with holy thoughts, the perfect image of God will again be seen there.'

Perplexingly Funny.

One of those persons who are said to 'hear with their elbows' recently went to a country entertainment which had been

WHITE'S

WHITE'S

Snowflakes

Don't take inferior goods ; the best do not cost any more than inferior goods,

