A Case of Liw.

Law is a complicated thing, and some of its decisions seem not to be founded in equity. Probably most readers will pass that criticism upon the case recorded below.

Basutoland, being broken and mountainous, was until recently the resort of lions, leopards and other wild animals. Now, however, the billsides which were once the resort of these savage creatures are the pasture grounds of tens of thousands of cattle. Nearly all dangerous animals have been driven away from Basutoland, but not long ago a leopard appeared on the outskirts of a village. The animal soon became as badly frightened as the villagers and sought satoly in fight.

The next moraing the inhabitants turned out for a hunt. One of the hunters was climbing a steep rock when he suddenly found bimself face to face with the leopard, whose retreat was cut off by the rock itself. Neither the man nor the animal could escape the encounter.

The dilemma was an awkward one, for the climber was unarmed. Recognizing his danger, he put forth his hands and in desperation caught hold of the leopard on each side of its jaws, holding it at aim's length and calling for help. The leopard clawed and tore his captor, but the man held on fill help arrived and the beast was speared.

Now came a question of law. By Basuto law the skin belonged te the chief, who must reward one of three claimantseither the man who speared the leopard, or the man who held it so that it was possible to spear it, or the man who, being warned by the barking of his dog, first discovered the snimal in the village.

The Resuto Solomon decided the case as follows: The man who speared it could not have done so but for the man who held it, and the man who held it could not have known of its existence if the dog had not first warned the villiage; therefore the credit for the killing belonged to the dog. whose owner was entitled to the reward.

MOTHERHOOD

Is a natural instinct which shows itself in the girl as soon as she is big enough to play the mother to her doll. Unfortunately the womanly health does not always keep pace with the motherly instinct, and when real motherhood comes it often comes to mothers who suffer intolerably during maternity and who are unable to nurse the weakling child which frets and moans in their arms. Motherhood is prepared for and provided for by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures nausea, tranquilizes the nerves, gives a healthy appetite and promotes restful sleep. It Accept no substitute for "Favorite Prescription." There is nothing "just as good" for weak and sickly women.

"When my baby boy came he weighed twelve pounds and a half. Have had good health ever since, until about three weeks ago, when weaning my baby, I contracted a heavy cold. Am taking your 'Golden Medical Discov-ery.' I am thankful that poor sufferers have such a grand chance to regain their health by such a grand chance to regain their health by using Dr. Pierce's medicines. It would take pages to tell the good it has done in our family, and in a great many more families under my observation
