THOS. CARLETON.

A PROCLAMATION.

BY Virtue of the Power and Authority granted to me, in and by an Act of Parliament made and passed in the Twenty-eighth year of His MAJES-TY'S Reign, intituled, "An Act for regulating the Trade between the Subjects of His MAJESTY'S Colonies and Plantations in North-America and in the West India Islands and the Countries belonging to the United States of America, and between His MAJESTY'S said Subjects and the Foreign Islands in the West-Indies"—I do, by and with the advice and consent of His MAJESTY'S Council, publish this Proclamation, hereby authorizing and permitting Wheat, Rye, Rice or Indian Corn, and the Flour of Wheat or Rye—also Ash Oar-Rafters and Capstain Bars, Staves, Heading and Treennails, to be imported by British Subjects in British built ships, owned by His MAJESTY'S Subjects, and navigated according to Law, from any of the Territories belonging to the United States of America, for and during the term of Six Months from this date—and of this Proclamation all Persons whom it may concern will take due notice and govern themselves accordingly.

Given under my Hand and Seal at Fredericton, the first day of January, in the Year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and one, and in the forty-first year of His MAJES-TY'S Reign.

By His EXCELLENCY'S Command,
JON. ODELL.

NOTICE.

WHEREAS Capt. WILLIAM
TYLER, late of Charlotte County, pretending to be a monied man in July 1798, applied to the Subscriber to purchase a Farm in Hopewell, in the County of Westmorland, and under specious pretences of punctual payment of the sum of £275, obtained a Deed of said Farm, and made a mortgage of the premises for securing payment at different instalments: and the said WILLIAM TYLER, knowing that he could not make payment, agreed to give back a Deed of the same upon receiving back the securities, to which the Subscriber consented, and has been at great trouble and expence to effect the same: and the said WILLIAM TYLER has since gone off to parts unknown—This is to CAUTION all persons against purchasing the said Farm from him, as I consider the transaction as a swindling fraudulent practice; and three periods stipulated for payment are already elapsed and no part of the purchase money paid.

ABIEL PECK.

Hopewell, 10th Feb. 1801.

ALL Persons having any demands against the Estate of SAMUEL OSBORN, late of this Province, deceased, are requested to present the same within twelve months;—And those indebted to the said Estate are desired to make immediate payment to MUNSON JARVIS, Administrator.
St. John, 19th May, 1800.

The Porcupine.

I TAKE this method of informing my friends in NEW-BRUNS-WICK, that, on the FIRST day of NO-VEMBER next, I shall resume the publication of Porcupine's Gazette, under the title of THE PORCUPINE.

Porcupine's Works, which have been some time in the Press, will be completed next FEBRUARY, when they will be forwarded to every part of America.

SHOULD any of my literary friends in America wish to renew their correspondence with me, they will please to direct to me at my News-paper Office, No. 3, Southampton-street, Strand, or at my Bookfeller's shop, No. 18, Pall-Mall. WM. COBBETT.

THAT large and commodious Two-story DWELLING-HOUSE in Maugerville, late the property of Mr. Peter Ryerson, and now in the occupation of Mr. John Sayre.—It is one of the most eligible situations for a Tavern or Country Trader in the Province, being long established in a Public line of business, which together with its contiguity to Fredericton, renders it an object worthy of attention.—For terms and further particulars apply to Messrs. Donaldson and Hendricks, Merchants, St. John.

A. GOODALE,

Merchant-Taylor and Habit Maker, FROM BOSTON.

BEGS leave most respectfully to offer his services to the Inhabitants of this City and its vicinity in the line of his business, and flatters himself by a strict attention to the commands of his employers to merit a share of the Public patronage.

He has opened his shop in King-street, in the house of Mr. PATTULLO, and has on hand a few pieces of excellent Cloths and Cassimeres, and expects by the spring ships from London to be furnished with a neat supply in addition thereto, with every article in his line—Those who please to favor him with their custom, may calculate on the utmost satisfaction being given them.

GENTLEMEN from the Country will be served with punctuality and dispatch.—Garments not made to suit, will be immediately replaced.

BULLETIN OF LUNEVILLE,
JAN. 26.

For some days past the Plenipotentiaries have been treating for the surrender of Mantua, demanded by France.
This question was determined this day: Mantua will be delivered up to the army of Italy. The convention signed in this respect, expressly annuls all contrary stipulations that may have been a-gred on between Generals Brune and Bellegarde. The same day the Plenipotentiaries dispatched couriers to their respective Governments.

ARMY OF ITALY.

BRUNE, Counsellor of State, Commander in Chief, to the Minister at War

Head-Quarters at Vienna, January 23.

Citizen Minister—The Castle of Verona capitulated on the 17th of this month. We had begun to bombard it on the 12th, and were able, notwithstanding the continual fire of the whole artillery of the forts during this siege.
We had only three men killed and 21 wounded, among the latter was Faultrier, chief de brigade, wounded in his shoulder by a bullet. This officer blew up a powder magazine, by means of a howitzer well directed. Alix, chef de brigade, of artillery, contributed greatly to accelerate the operations.
Great praise is also due to the Captains of Engineers, Lapisse and Boischevalper. The General of Division, Mon-nier, who commanded the besieging troops, beslow great commendation on the ardour of the 24th light, and the 58th of the line. The enemy had made considerable works in the forts of Verona. The garrison consisting of 17,000 men, are prisoners of war. Fifty-six pieces of cannon have fallen into our hands, and four mortars, all in good condition. The enemy have also lost a great number of cannoneers. I have subjoined copies of the summons sent to the Commandant by General Monnier and of the capitulation which followed.
Health and friendship.

(Signed) BRUNE.

The Summons and capitulation alluded to in the above letter, are in the usual form and style.

BRUNE, Counsellor of State, to the Minister at War.

Head Quarters at Verona,
January 22.

Citizen Minister.—A revolt was organized in Piedmont, while our victorious troops were pushing the enemy as far as the Tagliamento. Lieut. General Soult immediately pursued such measures as disconcerted the rebels. I have sent you an extract of his reports.
The Piedmontese troops on this occasion shewed that they are proof against all seduction, and strongly attached to the tranquillity of their country: their conduct deserves praise. Lieut. Gen.
Soult was almost without troops, but the habit and desire of conquering furnished him with the necessary means: this success must add to his glory.

(Signed) BRUNE.

Lieutenant General Soult, in report to General Brune, dated Turin, Jan. 15, says, "I send you a copy of a letter found on an ex-nobleman who has been arrested; several other papers have also been seized, which throw great light on the plan of the conspirators. Yesterday the explosion was to have burst out, and the massacre to have commenced. I thought it was of importance to exert all my force to overawe and ensure the different arrestations necessary to be made. Yesterday, before break of day, I accordingly caused the suburbs of the Po to be invested, and the inhabitants to be disarmed. The gates of the city were shut, and the troops drawn up in the square secured tranquillity.

This measure has defeated the plot of the conspirators, who had chosen that moment for uniting. We have acquired certain information respecting their infamous project, and several of their accomplices have been arrested.—The insurrection in the Valley of Aosta is not yet quelled; and the rebels, who have dispatched some of their parties towards the province of Bielle, still keep the Adjutant Commandant, Merck, blockaded at Chatillon; it is not improbable that they may have already taken it; but of this I have no intelligence. I have sent all the troops and cannon I could collect towards that point.

"Every moment the Police is obtaining new proofs of the conspiracy, and of the extent of the plan which the malcontents had formed, but I can assert that the measure I have taken will damp their desire of soon beginning again."

MURAT, Commander of the Corps of Observation, to the Cardinal, First Minister of His Holiness the POPE.

Head-Quarters at Florence,
January 24.

I have the honour to inform you, M. Cardinal, that the noble object of my march into the states of the Holy Father, is, first to occupy Ancona, ceded to the French army by the Armistice of Treviso; second, to render to his Holiness the free enjoyment of his states, by obliging the Neapolitans to evacuate the Castle of St. Ange, and the whole territory of Rome. I know that his Holiness has several times sollited, in vain, the evacuation of his states by the Neapolitan troops, but I hope the approach of the French will render them more just. I am exceedingly desirous, by the prompt evacuation of the country of Rome, the Neapolitans should spare his Holiness the pain of seeing the city, and the inhabitants become the theatre of war. The order of my Government is constantly that I should not take Citta Castellans, unless I should be positively called upon to do so by his Holiness. This is sufficient to convince him of the consideration the First Consul entertains of him. Be assured, M. Cardinal, of the esteem by which I am actuated towards you.

(Signed) J. MURAT.

Copy of the Answer of M. De DA-MAS to General MURAT.

Head Quarters at Viterbe, the 22d of Jan. 1801.

M. General—The Hostilities of the corps of the army I command have never been otherwise than conformable to those of the Imperial army. My instructions, since the commencement of the campaign, have been to receive those of M. de Bellegarde, and to act in pursuance of them. My movements in Tuscany have been combined with his, and when the French troops attacked at Sienna, the advanced guard, which I kept there at the distance of 26 miles from the body of my army, I commenced my retreat towards the Ecclesiastical frontier, calculating upon that of the Count de Bellegarde towards the Brenta. I have ever been ignorant, General of the pacific intentions of which you inform me; and you will judge that I can determine nothing upon the subject: but I will send with all speed to my Court; and till its answer, which will arrive as soon as possible, and I will communicate it to you, I am bound according to my anterior orders, with reference to the armistice with the Au-strians, to consider myself upon the footing of an armistice with you; and I shall conduct myself accordingly, not doubting, General, of your reciprocity in this respect.—I have the honour, &c.
