IMPORTANT DOCUMENT.
COPY OF THE CONVENTION
Between Lord HAWKESBURY and Mr.
KING—8th JANUARY, 1802.

DIFFICULTIES having arisen in the execution of the 6th Article of the Treaty of Amity, Commerce and Navigation, concluded at London, on the 4th day of November, 1794, between His Britannic Majesty and the United States of America, and in consequence thereof, the proceedings of the Commissioners under the 7th Article of the same Treaty having been suspended, the parties to the said Treaty being equally desirous as far as may be, to obviate such difficulties, have respectively named Plenipotentiaries to treat and agree, respecting the same: that is to say, His Britannic Majesty has named for his Plenipotentiary the Right Hon. Robert Banks Jenkinson, commonly called Lord Hawkesbury, one of His Majesty's most Hon. Privy Council, and his Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs; and the President of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate thereof, has named for their Plenipo-tentiary, Rufus King, Esq. Minister Plenipotentiary of the said United States, to His Britannic Majesty, who have agreed to and concluded the following Articles:

Art. 1. In satisfaction and discharge of the money which the United States might have been liable to pay in pursuance of the provisions of the said sixth Article, which is hereby declared to be cancelled and annulled, except so far as the same may relate to the execution of the said seventh Article, the United States of America hereby engage to pay, and His Britannic Majesty consents to accept for the use of the persons described in the said sixth Article, the sum of Six Hundred Thousand Pounds sterling, payable at the time and place and in the manner following, that is to say, the said sum of six hundred thousand pounds sterling shall be paid at the City of Washington, in three annual instalments of Two Hundred Thousand pounds sterling each, and to such person or persons as shall be authorized by His Britannic Majesty to receive the same; the first of the said instalments to be paid at the expiration of one year; the second instalment at the expiration of two years, and the third and last instalment at the expiration of three years, next following the exchange of the Ratifications of this Convention: And to prevent any disagreement concerning the rate of exchange, the said payments shall be made in the money of the said United States, reckoning four dollars and forty-four cents, to be equal to one pound sterling.

Art. 2. Whereas it is agreed by the fourth Article of the Definitive Treaty of Peace, concluded at Paris on the third day of September, 1783, between His Britannic Majesty and the United States, that creditors on either side should meet with no lawful impediments to the recovery of the full value in sterling money, of all bona fide debts theretofore contracted, it is hereby declared, that the said fourth Article, so far as it respects its future operations, is hereby recognized, confirmed, and declared to be binding and obligatory upon His Britannic Majesty and the said United States, and the same shall be accordingly observed with punctuality and good faith. And so as the said creditors shall hereafter meet with no lawful impediment to the recovery of the full value in sterling money of their bona fide debts.—

Art. 3. It is furthermore agreed and concluded that the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the seventh Article of the said Treaty of Amity, Commerce and Navigation, and whose proceedings have been suspended as aforesaid, shall, immediately after the signature of this Convention, re-assemble and proceed in the execution of their duties according to the provisions of the said seventh Article, except only that instead of the sums awarded by the said Commissioners, being made payable at the time or times by them appointed, all sums of money by them awarded to be paid to American or British Claimants, according to the provisions of the said seventh Article, shall be made payable in three equal instalments, the first whereof to be paid at the expiration of one year; the second at the expiration of two years; and the third and last at the expiration of three years next, after the exchange of the Ratifications of this Convention.

Art. 4. This Convention, when the same shall have been Ratified by His Majesty and the President of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate thereof, and the respective Ratifications duly exchanged, shall be binding and obligatory upon His Majesty and the said United States. In faith whereof, we the underigned Plenipotentiaries of His Britannic Majesty and of the United States of America, by virtue of our respective full powers, have signed the present Convention, and have caused the Seals of our Arms to be affixed thereto.

Done at London, the 8th Jan. 1802.

(L. S.) HAWKESBURY.
(L. S.) RUFUS KING.

LONDON, FEBRUARY 19.

The demand made by British subjects for those debts which were immediately the object in dispute, amounted to four millions sterling. The sum which Mr. KING, the American Ambassador, has contracted, on the part of the United States, to give, is six hundred thousand pounds, which is to be paid by instalments of two hundred thousand pounds every two years, without interest. The sum of six hundred thousand pounds has been fixed upon as likely to be the amount that will come to be liquidated under the arrangement, because in the first instance parties are left at liberty, and are bound to exhaust every legal means of obtaining redress in the American Courts. A Commission will be named by this Government to consider of the claims that may thus be made to them, and if the six hundred thousand pounds to be paid by America is insufficient, Great-Britain must make up the deficit. With respect to the claims of American subjects on this country, the former Commission which sat in London is about to renew its proceedings; it consists of Dr. SWABY and Mr. ARSLEY, on the part of this country, and Messrs.
GOKE and PINCKNEY for America, besides Mr. TRUMBULL, the Chairman, in case the other Commissioners are equally divided. This arrangement, we believe, is on the whole satisfactory.

Some time since a child, about seven years of age, whose parents live in the neighbourhood of Kensington, was seized with a violent spasmodic disorder for which no remedy could be obtained, and of which the apparently expired; in consequence of which she was laid in her coffin, and the time of interment was appointed; but a few hours previous to which the mother stepping into the room to look on her, to her great astonishment observed a motion of the body, and before she had recovered her first surprise, the child was able to sit upright. Proper cordials were administered, and in the course of a few days the child was sufficiently well to go to school, and has had no symptoms of her disorder since.
