

FROM A LATE LONDON PAPER.

We have great satisfaction in presenting, through the Morning Chronicle, the following animated and glowing ADDRESS TO THE PEOPLE OF ENGLAND.

BY W. J. DENISON, ESQ.

YE gen'rous Youths, who boast a Briton's name,
Alive to honour and the blush of shame;
Shall GALLIA's slaves, who tremblingly obey
The haughty Corsican's relentless sway;
Who meanly cringe before his upstart throne,
Nor life nor liberty can call their own,
Dare to invade your smiling, happy Isle,
While LUST and RAPE at their victims smile?
Dare to insult you with their vengeful ire,
Menace your harvests and your towns with fire?
To wrest from you the sceptre of the main,
Who basely kiss their Despot's iron chain?
Recall those heroes fam'd in days of old,
Your great Forefathers, hardy, free and bold;
Recall those Chiefs, who nobly dar'd withstand
The base Oppressors of their Native Land;
Recall CARACTACUS's scythed car,
Who brav'd the terrors of a CESAR's war;
Recall great ALFRED's wife and awful ghost,
Recall great WALLACE, in himself a host;
Recall the Barons from fair Runnimede,
Resolv'd to conquer, or resign'd to bleed;
Recall the triumphs of ELIZA's reign,
The scourge of PHILIP and of haughty Spain.
Let not those Chieftains in oblivion lie,
Who oft have made the Gallic squadrons fly;
Who oft have made their trembling standards yield,
And dy'd with gore the long-remembered field.
View your brave Prince, with fable shield and lance,
Whose feats surpass the pages of romance;
When Poitiers rival'd Creilly's far-fam'd plains,
And hapless JOHN almost forgot his chains;
Let the Fifth HENRY, drawn by FANCY's hand,
Lead on his martial and heroic band;
Let Agincourt each British heart inspire,
And embryo Patriots catch the Warrior's fire.
See your lov'd daughters, beauteous as the morn,
A prey to infamy, to lust and scorn;
See curst Baniets o'er ev'ry hamlet tower,
See vengeful Harpies glut their love of power;
See the poor Peasant plunder'd of his all,
And if he murmurs—meet the hostile ball;
See your fair towns in desolation laid,
And the fierce soldier to fresh carnage wade;
"Inur'd to blood and nurs'd in scenes of woe,"
Your crafty, cruel and vindictive foe,
Steel'd 'gainst the pleasures of the social bowl,
Or LOVE's soft fires, that melt the raptur'd soul;
His callous heart no gen'rous passions swell,
Within his breast REMORSE nor PITY dwell.
Go view at Jaffa (if you trust his word)
The pris'ners murder'd by his faithless sword;
Go view, where SMITH his daring feats display'd,
His soldiers poison'd and his sick betray'd;
Go view, when Alexandria found her grave,
His troops forbade e'en helpless age to save;
View brave TOUSSAINT, transported cross the main,
Torn like a felon from Domingo's plain,
Torn from his home, his children and his wife,
To close in fetters his eventful life.
View the Apostate steal from Egypt's sands,
The base deserter of his vet'ran bands;
His mur'd'rous dagger Pavia long shall weep,
He mocks her woes with—"DEATH's eternal sleep."
His broken faith let plunder'd Venice tell,
View how Batavia, how Helvetia fell;
Once blest'd like you, with all that life endears,
Abandon'd now to rapine, scorn and tears,
Then, O my Country! must you feel the blow,
And be like others in your turn brought low?
Must you no more with gen'rous feeling beat,
Nor give MISFORTUNE a secure retreat?
Must all your social Charities expire,
And your proud Commerce feed the fun'ral fire?
Must you, renown'd for Probity and Laws,
Fam'd for your love of FREEDOM's glorious cause,
Must you relapse to what you were before,
A conquer'd province and a barb'rous shore?
No—by those heroes once your boast and pride,
Who oft for you have suffer'd, bled and dy'd;
By great NASSAU, by HAMPDEN's spotless shade,
By BRUCE, whose laurels Time can never fade;
By Egypt's shores, and by Aboukir's Wave,
By ABERCROMBY's much-lamented Grave;
By HOWE, by DUNCAN, by ST. VINCENT's Name,
By WOLFE's great spirit, and by MINDEN's Fame;
By that high Honour, which you must bequeath,
By SYDNEY's Scaffold, and by RUSSELL's Wreath;
By the still Pang, indignant VIRTUE feels,
By the firm Spirit, which the Patriot steels:—
Come when he will—elate in frantic pride,
With vassal Kingdoms crouching by his side;
Deck'd with the pageantry of Eastern State,
Tortur'd with restless and malignant hate;
Drunk with success, array'd in hostile form,
Old ENGLAND's Genius fearless meets the storm.
Tho' prostrate Senates their Anathma's pour;
Tho' abject Priests their impious flatteries show'r;
Tho' hard Courts the gen'rous strife forbear,
Tho' all the dole of guiltless neighbours share;
Firm as the Aegis o'er a sinking world,
We stand, all in ruin's hurld'd;

Calls her brave Sons to grasp the shining spear,
Arrest the tyrant in his wild career;
Calls her bold Youth to train the martial fleet,
Nod the plum'd helmet, and the phalanx lead;
To grace the Poet and Historian's page;
Renown'd and honour'd to the latest age;
Again to rival Blenheim's glorious plain
While future MARLBRO's equal trophies gain;
Again immortalize in Hill'ry's fight,
Boync's rapid stream, or Calpe's towering height.
Still shall your NELSONS guide the hardy tar,
Teach him to wield the thunders of your war;
Extend the triumphs of your sea-girt Isle,
From frozen Denmark to the sultry Nile.
Still shall your shores a safe retreat afford,
From the wide havoc of the Gallic sword;
Grant an asylum to Distress and Woe,
And shield each sufferer from his ruthless foe.
Still shall your Merchants distant seas explore,
And at your feet the wealth of India pour;
Still shall your Pref's, that bulwark of your Laws,
Protect, as ever, injur'd Virtue's cause;
Admir'd, while envied, by surrounding Slaves,
The dread of Despots, and the scourge of Knaves.
But if decreed by HEAV'N, that fall we must;
And what the wills, is ever right and just;
If doomed to swell (ordain'd by angry FATE);
This modern ATTILA's revengeful hate;
Then EUROPE's sun is set, in endless night;
Then FAITH, then HONOUR, wing their hasty flight;
Then, all the Ties of social Life are o'er,
From Moscow's snows, to fair AUSONIA's shore.
Then Gothic DARKNESS spreads its baleful shade—
Then ART, then LEARNING, LAWS and FREEDOM fade:
For happier climes they hoist th' indignant sail,
While savage FORCE and ANARCHY prevail.
While all the SCIENCE polish'd Greece bestow'd,
Of ev'ry Muse the once admir'd abode—
With all that GENIUS, all that TASTE inspire,
Sink in the flames to please a Despot's ire—
Long ere that moment let me meet my doom,
Grant me, great GOD, the refuge of the tomb.
