enemy between two fires. The attack continued very hot till evening, when the English flag was pulled down and the Spanish hoisted. The enemy surrended themselves prisoners of war, but the officers are to have the honours. The British General and officers were quartered in several houses, and the troops locked up in the Corporation houses.—The enemy has had many killed and wounded; and we have also had great loss. On the 14th, Te Deum was sung with great rejoicings.

The English vessels at Barragan Bay have all escaped. Of four ships of the line that presented themselves before this harbour, one was sunk by the forts, two were stranded, and the other escaped.

[☞ If all the other parts of this Spanish official account are as incorrect as this last paragraph, the whole will not turn out to be great. The English had but one ship of the line in the River Plate; and that was the Diadem, commanded by Capt. POPHAM; which we know was there in October last.—Besides the Diadem, we believe the British have only a 50 gun ship and some sloops of war, none of which could lay within several leagues of Buenos Ayres.] Boston Centinel.

BOSTON, JANUARY 9.

Extract of a letter from a friend at Washington to the Editor, dated Washington, December 27.

For some days past, this place has been filled with reports of various kinds, some false and others true; all united, have kept our government pretty busy. You have undoubtedly heard that the expedition of Burr has, in part been frustrated, by the stopping of his boats, on the Ohio, by Gov. Tiffin; and that our Executive have sent orders to utterly destroy his plans, if possible. Which as I conjecture, they will not be abe to perform.

This morning, our Cabinet are in great trepidation, on account of fresh and more alarming news from the West. We learn that the Spaniards are determined to contest their right to some part of the purchased country, and that they are making towards Orleans—whether or not in conjunction with Burr, know not, which however is very probable. In consequence of this, Gen. Wilkinson has marched with all his forces for New Orleans, intending to place himself in as good a situation of defence as possible, expecting an attack on land. Moreover a French and Spanish force is expected from the West-Indies to co-operate with the army of Spain on land. It is certain, that there is some reason to believe a part at least of this report; and that our great men are at their wits end. Expresses go out frequently; and every peaceable mean is tried to prevent danger, incurred by the wanton neglect of our government.

Since writing the above, I am informed that Wilkinson has exposed Burr's designs, and declared him to have been in connection with Spain for some time past. That there is no doubt of Burr's being in the pay of Spain, and of his acting with them on this occasion.—Capt. Shaw, Commodore of the Gun Boats at Orleans, is defending the place with his squadron!!

From Washington, December 27, 1806.

LATEST.—"Letters were received last evening from Lieut. SHAW, and Gen. WILKINSON, dated at New-Orleans, the 29th and 30th November, informing the latter had arrived there, the 24th, and that his army was marching after him for the Sabine; that he had certain intelligence an attack was to be made on New-Orleans, by a naval armament (no mention by what power) in conjunction with the forces under Col. BURR; that he, WILKINSON, had impressed 400 seamen in New-Orleans, and was doing every thing in his power to put the place in a state of defence; but he feared it would be taken unless assistance was afforded him soon. These letters came by water to Charleston, and from thence to Washington, and were, I understand, to the Secretary of the Navy."

SAINT JOHN, January 26, 1807.

By the arrival of the Schooner Robert Pagan, Captain Handy, from St. Andrews last Saturday, we have been favored with Boston and Portland papers to the 12th inst. they contain European Advices to the 9th of November, (several days later than before received) from them Extracts have been made for this day's Gazette, which will be found in the preceding columns.

Passengers in the Robert Pagan—Robert Pagan, Hugh M'Koy, Ninian Lindsey, and Joseph Porter, Esquires, Members of the House of Assembly, on their way to the Seat of Government; and Col. Thomas Wyer, Capt. Colin Campbell, Harris Hatch, Esq. Mr. Daniel Scovil, and Mr. John Walton.

Sunday the 18th inst. being the Anniversary of our most gracious Queen, a Royal Salute was fired by the Troops in Garrison, on Monday last at 12 o'clock.

FIRE.—On Wednesday morning last, a Fire broke out in the House of Lawrence Dowling, Esq. while the family was from home, and nearly consumed the whole building—By the exertions of the Firemen and the Inhabitants, the Fire was prevented from doing any further mischief.

MR. MOTT,

PARDON me in having to observe through the channel of your intelligent paper, that I am sorry to find no notice has been taken in any of the papers of last week, of the respect and honors paid here to the Anniversary of our beloved QUEEN: It being echoed in the ears of all the community of this City (the Printers seemingly excepted) by a Royal Salute of 21 guns fired on Sunday last at 12 o'clock, by the Artillery of the Militia under the Command of Lieut. Colonel Thomas Wetmore; and on Monday by a Royal Salute being fired at 12 o'clock on the Saluting Battery by the Royal Artillery, and followed by three volleys of small Arms from the Detachment of the New-Brunswick Regiment, assembled on the left of the Royal Artillery on the occasion; all under the Command of Capt. Sutherland of the New-Brunswick Regiment, the Commandant of the Garrison. And if a Cool Observer who is not by profession Military, can be allowed to pass an opinion, the Troops in Garrison appeared to be in high order and discipline, and went through their tactics with promptitude and great correctness in firing, &c. &c.
