LONDON, AUG. 1.

OUR AFFLICTED MONARCH.

On this subject the public have not for some time past been put in possession of any particulars beyond the formal announcement in the monthly bulletins. The following circumstances, tending so far as our means extend, to supply the omission, will, it is hoped, prove acceptable. His Majesty's habits have not, in consequence of infirmity, or old age, undergone material change. His Majesty, as usual, rises early---breakfasts at eight o'clock, or soon after---dines at one---continues partial to mutton and beef, and when in a tranquil state, he orders what his dinner table shall be furnished with. The principal page is in constant attendance, as also the subaltern assistants of the medical men. A sunk walk has been made adjoining the King's suit of rooms; but latterly his Majesty, it is said, has declined walking there, alleging that it would be no gratification to him, as he is deprived of sight. The rooms that his Majesty and attendants occupy consist of thirteen, and they are extremely well ventilated. When the Queen is at Windsor, her Majesty, attended by Dr. John Willis, generally visits her consort about ten o'clock.

The Duke of Wellington set out on the 3d of August from Brussels, to visit Antwerp, Ghent, and Ath. His Grace will be on the 15th at the Prussian head-quarters at Sedan.

AUGUST 12.

A serious disturbance took place on the 18th ult. at St. Genies, in France, at the execution of a Captali. Oudin, who was shot for a former insurrection. The detachment of soldiers drawn out to shoot the unfortunate offenders wheeled about, and refused to fire. The Officer who commanded them has been dismissed the service, as well as his men, with the additional punishment of being ordered before a Court Martial.

LIVERPOOL, JULY 26.

The Paris papers lately mentioned the execution of a young man at Lyons, charged as a principal in the recent seditious practices in that city. The following particulars respecting him are given in the Bath Herald :---

"A gentleman, who was eye-witness of the affair, has related to us the following particulars of the apprehension of the young man who was last week executed at Lyons for seditious practices, and died with such audacious boldness. It appears that he had acted as Secretary to the Ultra Reforming Society in that city, and when their plot was discovered, a considerable reward was offered for his apprehension; he, however, succeeded in effectually secreting himself for several days from the argur-eyed police, when the young ex-secretary took his passage, under a feigned name, in a vessel going down the river to Chalons (in which our informant was passenger.) He had got safely on board, and the sloop got under weigh; but in less than a quarter of an hour was hailed to arrest her course, by a boat rowed with great velocity, and filled with gens d' armes; they got alonside the vessel, and demanded if Mr. ——, was on board; and on being answered in the negative, they ascended the sloop and proceeded to examine the passengers, comparing their persons with a minnute printed description of the young revolutionist. He was soon identified; but instantly leaned overboard, and was instantly followed by one of the officers---they both swam well, but the young refugee finding himself likely to become a captive, gave himself up to desperation---turned round on his pursuer, smiled contemtuously on him, folded his arms and sunk as all the spectators thought, to rise no more---The officer, however was not thus to be deprived of his anticipated reward; he dived after him, but without effect; a second time he dived without more success; but on a third effort, he was seen to rise, grasping his devoted victim. He swam with him to the vessel, where means for restoring animation were successfully applied---The young fellow was then properly secured, he was taken on shore, tried, found guilty and executed."

From the Charleston City Gazette of Aug. 18.

LATE FROM AMELIA.

We are indeted to an attentive correspondent at Savannah for the two annexed proclamations, one in Spanish, the other in English.---Mac Gregor's force was 850 strong, and in high spirits.

CITIZEN GREGOR MAC GREGOR,
General of Brigade of the Armies of the New Grenada and Venezuela, and General in Chief of the Armies of the Floridas, with commission from the governments of Mexico and South America.

Soldiers!---I lose not a moment in expressing to you the satisfaction and pleasure I have derived from your soldier-like conduct of late, and the progress you have made in military discipline and subordination. This is the foundation of all military enterprises, and renders superior numbers of enemies of no avail in action. Continue to follow up the exemplary line of conduct you have so nobly begun; it not only inspires your chief with sentiments of the greatest confidence, but will also fill with terror the ranks of the slaves of Ferdinand the 7th.

The most active measures have been taken for the speedy movement of the army, and I trust soon, at the head of such troops, to plant the green cross of the Floridas on the pround walls of St. Angustine.

Royalists, beware!—The republican army of the Floridas fight in a just, great and holy cause, and their motto is Victory or Death.

[Translated for the City Gazette.]

DECLARATION OF BLOCKADE.

GREGOR MAC GREGOR,
Brigadier-General of the Armies of the United Provinces of New-Grenada and Venezuela, and General in Chief of that destined to emancipate the Provinces of both Floridas, under the commission of the Supreme Government of Mexico and South America, &c. &c. &c.

It being requisite, by the order of the hostile operations by me undertaken against the possessions of the king of Spain, in both East and West Floridas; and holding the maritime force indispensible for carrying into effect a formal blockade---Be it known to all whom these presents shall come, that from and after the fifteenth day of September next ensuing, all ports, rivers, bays and inlets within the coast of both Floridas, beginning from the south part of this island, to the river Perdido, are to be considered in a state of strict and rigorous blockade. Wherefore, I do hereby notify to all the neutral nations, as well as the friendly governments of South America, Mexico, and the free Floridas, that the aforesaid ports will be blockaded, agreeably to the usages and practices of other nations; and that such blockade being necessary to the success of the undertaking entrusted to my care by the abovementioned republican governments, for the emancipation of East and West Floridas, I hope that the merchants of such powers as may be interested in the trade to the Spanish possession in the Floridas, will not risk their property sending it to them, as from the fifteenth of September, all vessels bound to said blockaded ports, shall be warned off; but in case they should prove refractory, by endeavoring to hold communication with the enemy, all those found violating the blockade the second time, shall be considered and held as good and lawful prize.

Given at Head-Quarters of Fernandina, (Amelia-Island) on the 21st of Aug. 1817.

7 & 1.
