except for some of the officers attached to the embassy. The frigate and other ships belonging to the embassy, had mostly returned to Canton. The embassy itself was to return by land to Canton. The Lord Hues being a Company's ship, was proceeding to Wampoa to load, but the Grand Hoppoo of Canton refused her a pilot, and sent three junks of war alongside to guard and prevent all intercourse with her. She lay thus situated when the Macedonian passed her at the second bar, at which place the Macedonian received her letters to forward to England. The supposed wishes of the embassy to China, are to obtain redress for commercial abuses at Canton, practised upon them by the Madarins and Hong merchants, which are quite unknown at Pekin. Another object, it was supposed, was to obtain possession of the Islands of Lantow, or Lintin, at the mouth of the river, for a place of deposit, for ware houses, and as a convenient place for their ships, and to inhabit. The merchants and others at Canton were confident this would not be granted by the Emperor. These Islands, with a small squadron may completely command the Tigris, and its whole commerce, and shut out any nation at their pleasure. Attached to the embassy in character of interpreters, are Sir George Staunton, and the Rev. Mr. Morrison. The Hong merchants had sent up some of their class with Chinese linguists, who best understand the English language.

It was generally supposed at Canton that the Embassy would be coldly received at Pekin.

From Cadiz.

By an arrival at New-York from Cadiz, information has been received that a body of troops, amounting to 10,000, under General O'Donnell, were assembled at St. Mary's, waiting for transports to embark for South-America, to proceed against the patriots. They had detained all the British vessels in Cadiz and the adjacent ports for that purpose. A Spanish frigate of 44 guns, as convoy to a number of merchantmen, was preparing to leave Cadiz for Vera Cruz. Havana and other Spanish ports, and would be ready to sail in a few days. Several Buenos Ayres privateers were cruising off Cadiz and Malaga. They had made great havoc among the Spanish homeward bound merchantmen, having captured 29 sail during the month of November.

MONTREAL ASSEMBLY.

QUEEN'S NIGHT.

The celebration of HER MAJESTY'S Birth day was postponed until the 21st, on which Evening the Assembly was unusually brilliant and crowded. The dancing commenced at 8 o'clock, and was kept up with great spirit until 12, when the Ladies and Gentlemen withdrew to the supper-Room. About 230 sat down to a most splendid entertainment, the judicious arrangement of which, with the stile of setting the tables, and decorations of the Room, reflects great credit on the Conductors of the Mansion-House.

The ceiling of the room was hung with green boughs; the walls were covered with the Colours of all nations, at the top of the Hall was an Orchestra, formed with trees. The front of which was ornamented with the British colours. The whole was brilliantly illuminated, and formed a perspective truly novel and beautiful.

The whole of the evening passed away in perfect harmony, and about three o'clock the company retired.

ST. JOHN 26TH, FEBRUARY.

MELANCHOLY!—We are sorry to record the loss of two of our fellow-citizens, from the effects of the late inclement weather, Messrs. ISAAC WOODWARD, and SAMUEL CHADBURN, Sadler and Harness-Maker, who as far as we can learn came to their death in the following manner:—The former was master and owner of a Shallop, with which he traded from hence to Passamaquoddy—the latter was a passenger—on the passage down the vessel sprung a-leak, which induced them to seek a harbor, but from the extreme coldness of the weather, before the intended one could be made, the vessel went ashore at Mill Cove, Campo Bello Island; this was on Friday the 14th instant; Mr. Woodward stayed by the vessel, and was drowned; Mr. Chadburn and a foreigner got on shore; Mr. C. though much frozen, lived until the following Monday.—On Tuesday some Indians (whose tents were not half a mile distant) fell in with the survivor accidentally, and conveyed him and the body of Mr. C. to their huts, and from thence to Moose-Island on Wednesday. These particulars have been obtained from the unfortunate survivor of the awful catastrophe, who is so much frozen as to make his recovery doubtful.—Mr. W. has left a wife and four children—Mr. C. had been lately married, bore an excellent character, and is much regretted by his acquaintance.

The remains of Mr. C. were enterred at Moose-Island on Sunday last.—City Gaz.
