SELECTED POETRY.

BRIGHT be the place of thy soul!
No lovelier spirit than thine
E'er burst from its mortal control,
In the orbs of the blessed to shine.

On earth thou wert all but divine,
As thy soul shall immortally be;
And our sorrow may cease to repine,
When we know that thy GOD is with thee.

Light be the turf of thy tomb!
May its verdure like emeralds be:
There should not be the shadow of gloom,
In aught that reminds us of thee.

Young flowers and an evergreen tree
May spring from the spot of thy rest:
But not cypress or yew let us see;
For why should we mourn for the blest?

London, September 5.

A most horrid crime was committed at Toulouse on the 14th instant, by a young female, who assassinated her own brother. Madame Mazas had become guarantee for her brother for the sum of 1300 francs. Before the note was due, her husband went to Moissac to receive the amount, according to his engagement; but his brother-in-law gave him a very evasive and unsatisfactory answer, saying he would see him at Toulouse. Mazas, on his return, informed his wife of the manner in which he had been received, and the latter, indignant at such conduct, only thought of being revenged. On the arrival of her brother, she purchased a large knife; she then went to him, and after loading him with the most violent reproaches, plunged the knife into his heart. The unfortunate victim fell at her feet, and instantly expired. The assassin left the house without any emotion, and went to her own residence to change her dress. She was immediately taken into custody, and on being interrogated by the Juge d'Instruction, she calmly replied, that if she had shed the blood of her brother, she had strong motives for so doing, and that the want of sincerity on the part of the victim had infuriated her mind, which led her to the commission of the deed.

Rome, August 6.

A machine has recently been invented to drag the river Tiber, from the bridge Molle as far as San Paolo, to recover the precious objects which it is generally supposed are buried in its bed. Many people are persuaded that the golden candlesticks of Jerusalem will be found; however, should the project of finding these objects (which, perhaps have not been thrown into the river,) fail, great hopes are entertained of obtaining some valuable antiquities, although in a bad state. The design cannot be carried into effect this year, on account of the increase of waters, which takes place annually in autumn.

MONTREAL, NOV. 10.

An Upper Canada Paper of the 3d instant mentions that other Townships as well as Kingston and Ernest Town, were going to petition the Lieutenant Governor and disclaim the imputation of sedition.—There is not the least doubt of the inhabitants of the upper province being good and loyal subjects; but the shortest way to convice Sir PEREGRINE and every other, that they are so, would be to cease being the disciples of Mr. GOURLAY, and forbear urging the necessity of a Convention of Delegates, which is not only unconstitutional, but even incompatible with a House of Representatives.

The exceptionable clause in the Lieutenant Governor's speech, wherein mention is made of exciting discontent and organizing sedition, on an attentive reading, clearly appears to refer to Mr. GOURLAY, and not strictly to the people of Upper Canada. Both Houses of Parliament seem by their Addresses to have understood it in the former sense, and it is not a little surprising that it could have been construed differently.

Mr. GOURLAY, it is true, has been twice tried and twice acquitted of what was laid to his charge; but doubts, it seems, still continue of the uprightness of his intentions; and the Lieutenant Governor ought not to be blamed for keeping a very watchful eye over such an assuming and such a violent character.

The Lords of the Treasury have ordered that all Bibles and Testaments exported by the British Foreign Bible Society, shall pass duty free.
