MATERNAL LOVE.

BY SOUTHEY.

They sin who tell us love can die,
With life all other passions fly,
All other are but vanity.
In heaven ambition cannot dwell,
Nor avarice in the vaults of hell;
Earthly these passions of the earth,
They perish where they have their birth;
But love is indestructible,
Its holy flame forever burneth;
From heaven it came, to heaven returneth:
Too oft on earth a troubled guest,
At times deceived; at times opprest,
It here is tried and purified,
Then hath in heaven its perfect rest:
It soweth here with toil and care,
But the harvest time of love is there,
O! when a mother meets on high
The babe she lost in infancy,
Hath she not then, for pains and fears,
The day of woe, the watchful night,
For all her sorrow, all her tears,
An over payment of delight!

Cashier Out-witted.—A few days since a gentleman having a draft for a few thousand dollars on one of our Banks, presented it and demanded specie. No sooner said than done—a number of bags containing one thousand dollars each, in sixpenny pieces, and ten and twenty cent pieces, and other small change, which would take at least a week to count, were turned out. The gentleman untied two or three of the bags, and finding them all filled with this kind of precious metal, thurst his hand into each bag, filled his jacket and pantaloons pockets, and then turning round to the cashier of the bank, informed him that he did not want any more specie at that time than what he had taken from the bags; and desired him to count what was left and place it to his credit, and then left the Bank.

The following are some further particulars of the voyage of the Isabella and Alexander Discovery Ships:—

"The Isabella and the Alexander, Discovery Ships, are safely arrived in Brassa Sound, Lerwick, all well, neither ship having lost a man, nor a man on the sick list.

"Captain Ross has completely succeeded in exploring every part of Baffin's Bay, and, with the exception of errors in the latitudes and longitudes, of verifying the statements of that old navigator, whose name it bears; and of ascertaining that no passage exists between the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, through Davis's Strait and Baffin's Bay, the whole being found to be surmounted by high land, extending to the North, as far as lat. 77 deg. 55 min. and long. 76 deg. W.; and in the 74th degree of lat. stretching Westward, as far as 34 deg. W. longitude.

"They traced the land the whole way down to the Cape Walsingham of Davis, which they determined to lie in lat. 66 deg. and long 60 deg.; from hence they steered for Resolution Island, and then stood homewards.

"They have made many curious observations and discoveries, of which will perhaps not be considered as the least interesting, that of a Nation being found to inhabit the Arctic regions between the latitudes of 75 deg. and 78 deg. who thought that the world to the South was all ice; that generation had succeeded generation of a people, who had never tasted the fruits of the earth, had no idea of a Supreme Being, never had an enemy, and whose Chiefs had hitherto supposed themselves Monarchs of the Universe.

"There now only remains to be discovered, a few degrees, to the Northward of the Repulse Bay of Middleton, which might be done any one season, from the northernmost station of the Hudson's Bay Company."

In one respect, this summary appears to have been hastily made. We really are not credulous to believe, that any people exists upon earth, without an idea of a Supreme Being.

It is understood, that one part of the contents of the late despatches from St. Helena relates to an attempt to corrupt some of the troops there. While Bonaparte is able to draw for large sums upon the bankers in Europe, to whom his family and his adherents are doubtless responsible, it cannot be wonderful that he should endeavour to make this use of his funds. But the whole of his conduct, supposing no such attempt to have been detected, must have convinced the Allies how unfit an object he is of the extreme indulgence and compassion shown to him.

HALIFAX, JAN. 10, 1819.

The following interesting information is extracted from a Letter received by the last Packet, from the British and Foreign School Society. (Lancasterian) dated London, November 2, 1818.

"You will hear with great pleasure that a School on our plan is opened at Madrid. France has now 900 Schools on the new system; Russia and Germany have commenced. In a few years we hope Europe throughout will adopt the system.

"In Pennsylvania the plan is authorized by Law, and in New-York it flourishes greatly; we have just sent a Teacher to the latter place who will exhibit the system in the greatest perfection, and be enabled to instruct Teachers. When you get the Report, you will rejoice to see what is done in Bengal and Ceylon by the Baptist and Methodist Missionaries.

"We feel the importance of instruction as the way by which the knowledge of the Scriptures may be most extensively promoted throughout the world. May he who commanded the light to shine out of darkness send his light forth to the utmost ends of the earth!"
