LONDON, MAY 1.

Execution of Thistlewood, Ings, Brunt, Davidson, and Tidd.

So early as three o'clock this morning, the avenues to the Old Bailey were thronged with an immense crowd to witness the execution of the five criminals who were sentenced to suffer for High Treason. Between seven and eight o'clock the prisoners were conducted to the press-yard, the ceremony for drawing them upon a hurdle being dispensed with, when they embraced each other, though unable to shake hands; and at a quarter before eight, Thistlewood came upon the scaffold, attended by Dr. Cotton. He turned round two or three times while the executioner was adjusting the rope, and bowed to some persons whom he recognized in the windows opposite him. Tidd came up next, ran up the steps, and jumped on the platform, then looked round, bowed to the multitude, and was greeted with three distinct cheers! Thistlewood and Tidd had oranges in their hands, talked together, and surveyed the preparations that were making with an indifferent air. After this, Ings ran up the board, then turned to St. Sepulchre's church, and gave three huzzas, then turning to Ludgate-hill, he sung, in a very loud tone, "Give us Death or Liberty;" after which he exclaimed.—"This is the last remains of Jem Ings, and I die the enemy of all tyrants, Huzza! Put it down that the world may know it, I die for liberty." Davidson came up next, with a firm step, and appeared absorbed in thought, while engaged in prayer. Brunt now ran up the steps, surveyed the crowd smilingly, took some pinches of snuff, and continued the same line of conduct till the fatal drop fell. Every thing being now ready, at three minutes past eight o'clock the signal was given, and the criminals were launched into eternity; after hanging till half-past eight, their bodies were cut down and laid in shells, with their faces, downwards. A person in a mask, stationed on the temporary scaffold, then severed their heads, one by one, and the executioner held them up to the crowd in the usual form, with the exclamation, "Behold the head of a Traitor."

Although some thousands of persons had collected to witness the dreadful scene, yet with the exception of the giving way of some railing, we believe that not an accident has happened.

In order to prevent the possibility of a recurrence of the dreadful scenes that took place at the execution of Haggerty and Holloway, some years ago, barriers were erected around the scaffold, and the different avenues to the Old Baily, so as to prevent a rush of the crowd, or any forcible interruption of the awful proceedings. The whole of the civil force of the City of London were in attendance, and troops were also stationed in all the streets in the vicinity.

Such was the curiosity to witness the awful scene this morning, that a number of persons paid a guinea each for seats in the houses opposite the place of execution, where they remained the whole of the night to prevent disappointment.

MAY 6.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer stated, that his late Majesty had left a will. We may suppose it was found by the present King on his late visit to Windsor. It is said, that his late Majesty but a few days before his mournful calamity, as if conscious of its approach, ordered a master key to be made, with which he locked up a drawer containing all his other keys. This master key he delivered to General Taylor, with an injunction to preserve it in his custody, and deliver it to no one but himself, or in case of his decease to deliver it only to his successor. This key General Taylor delivered to the King on Saturday se'nnight.

The Paris Papers say, "On Friday night last, the 28th ult. about eleven o'clock, a loud explosion was heard in the neighbourhood of the Pavillion of the Thuilleries, inhabited by their Royal Highnesses Monsieur and the Duchess de Berri. The soldiers at the guard-house in the vicinity seized their arms and hastened to the spot, as did also numbers of the inhabitants, in a state of alarm. It was that a petard with a lighted fuse, had been thrown beneath the gallery which separates the Place Carousal from the Rue de Rivoli. The fragments of the combustible instrument were found and preserved, and researches are making for the discovery of the miscreant, whose design appears to have been, by this wicked plan, to cause a shock to an august widow, which might destroy the hopes which France reposes on the birth of a descendant to her illustrious family. Her Royal Highness was awakened by the explosion, but no other accident resulted from the deed.

BOSTON, MAY 29.

EAST INDIA ACCOUNTS.

The ship George, Capt. West, has arrived at Salem, from Calcutta, in a passage of 103 days. Capt. W. confirms the accounts, previously received of the capture and destruction of the pirates, who have so long been permitted to depredate the Persion Gulf. The loss of the British on this occasion, was 50 killed and wounded, among the former was Major Wolesworth. The Arabs effected a retreat, after six days resistance, to the neighbouring hills.

The Calcutta papers, by this arrival, announce the defeat of the Dutch at Palambang, and of the Malays having made prisoner of the Governor of Minto, whose head they have taken off, and sent it as a present to their Rajah, or chief. The loss of the Dutch in this expedition, was 500 Europeans besides a great portion of their native troops.—The Dutch Admiral, it is said, has recommended to his government, to rest satisfied with the possession of Java and the Moluccas. A wise step!

The Mauritius are again suffering under that dreadful scourge, the cholera morbus.

FREDERICTON, (N. B.)

4TH JULY, 1820.

His Excellency the LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR has received the following communication from HIS MAJESTY'S Ministers:—

"Downing-Street, 1st May 1820.

"Sir,

"I have received and laid before The KING, your letter of the 2d March last, transmitting an Address from the Council and Assembly of the Province of New-Brunswick; and I am commanded to acquaint you, that His MAJESTY received with great satisfaction, the expression of sentiments so congenial to the principles of Loyalty and Religion, which have always distinguished the Inhabitants of New-Brunswick.

"I have the honor to be,

(Signed) "BATHURST.

"Lieutenant-Governor SMYTH,
"&c. &c. &c."

(We subjoin a copy of the Address.)

To His Royal Highness GEORGE, Prince of Wales, Regent of the United Kingdom of Great-Britain and Ireland, &c. &c. &c.

The Humble and Dutiful Address of the Council and House of Assembly of the Province of New-Brunswick, in General Assembly convened.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Council and House of Assembly of the Province of New-Brunswick, in General Assembly convened, humbly beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with sentiments of the most profound respect and veneration for our Illustrious Sovereign and your Royal Highness, and of the most unalterable attachment to the inestimable Constitution under which we have been bred, and for which we abandoned the country wherein we were born, and sought an asylum in the wilderness. We view with astonishment and detestation, the attempts of seditious and unprincipled men to alienate the minds of His Majesty's Subjects therefrom, and from that affectionate regard for His Majesty's Person for which Britons have long been renowned.

Sincerely and deeply deploring the riotous and seditious proceedings into which the unwary have been led, by men, who, under pretence of reform, were inculcating disaffection, We rely with confidence, that the wise and vigorous measures of your Royal Highness's Government, will, under Divine Providence, speedily restore tranquillity throughout the United Kingdom.

We beg leave humbly to assure your Royal Highness, of our zealous and unremitting endeavours to maintain and cherish those principles of Loyalty and Religion which have been on all occasions so conspicuously displayed by the Inhabitants of this Province.

18th February 1820.

The Poll for the election of Members for this County, closed here on Wednesday last, at 3 o'clock, when it stood as follows:

P. Fraser, Esq.	398	J. Allen, Esq.	375
J. Dow, Esq.	350	S. Agnew, Esq.	317
Mr. Cameron,	294	H. Smith, Esq.	278
Mr. Slason,	224	Mr. Ring,	176

And the High Sheriff declared Peter Fraser, John Allen, John Dow, and Stair Agnew, Esquires, duly elected. A scrutiny was, however, demanded by Mr. Cameron and Henry Smith, Esq. before the Sheriff, and by Capt. Agnew on the part of the adverse party, which was ordered to be gone into on Thursday 29th ult. and which continued until Saturday at 3 o'clock, when the four former Members were declared duly elected.

SUNBURY ELECTION.

The following is the state of the Poll when it finally closed on Thursday last:

Mr. Perley,	156	Mr. J. Tilley,	54
Col. Miles,	139	Mr. Wilmot,	17
Capt. Taylor,	128

Upon which the High Sheriff declared Amos Perley, Esq. and Col. Miles, to be duly elected.

Col. Miles then addressed the assembly. At the commencement of the Poll he had hardly made up his mind whether he should again stand forth to claim the honor of being their representative, as his utmost wishes tended to the advancement of his son to that important office; as only on the day of the election did he hear that his son could not possibly return from Miramichi in time. He therefore trusted that his friends would by no means consider him disrespectful in not having solicited their votes.

Mr. Perley said, that words could not express the load of gratitude which he felt for the distinguished honor and assistance which he had received from the great body of the electors, and he confidently trusted that his conduct in that important trust would only tend to the advancement of their good opinion of him. All his faculties, all his endeavors, should be exerted to maintain the interests of the county, in concert with the general prosperity.

Mr. Taylor said, that after having been elected for the County twice, he had now failed; but as it was the will of the electors, he bowed with submission. He still thought that the ideas of his fellow countrymen stood well towards him, but that it required greater assistance than that which he had received, to overcome the powerful combination which had thus triumphed in effecting his overthrow.

The concluding part of Capt. Taylor's speech was, "If a scrutiny were to take place, he had every reason to suppose that his chance of succeeding would be equally as good as some others; but he was not desirous of being such an expense to the Province, and so injurious to the County, and he should, on this consideration, wave his own personal feelings."

Mr. Tilley thanked the electors for the support which he had received, and by way of apology for having continued the contest to the end, stated that he had frequently been witness to the complete success of candidates, who at first made but a very indifferent show.

After these proceedings, the friends of the different candidates chaired the objects of their choice, and the same honor was warmly proposed to Capt. Taylor, but which he strongly and positively declined.

The election for two Members to represent King's County in General Assembly, terminated on Wednesday last, when the Poll stood as follows:—

Mr. Wetmore,	535	Mr. Vail,	506
Mr. Freeze,	355	Mr. Knox,	292

The Sheriff then declared Mr. Wetmore and Mr. Vail, to be duly elected.

The state of the Poll for the County of Charlotte, as it closed at the different places, since our last, was as follows:—

	St. Stephen.	St. David.	St. Patrick.
H Mackay,	154	251	326
J. Campbell,	160	229	313
J. Porter,	141	239	245
N. Clarke,	157	212	221
P. Stubs,	74	136	220

SAINT JOHN, JUNE 28.

An hour ago we witnessed the close of an Electioneering contest, the most close and anxious that has been known in this County during the last 20 years. The choice of Messrs. CHIPMAN, RITCHIE, and WILMOT, has been many days in effect determined—the doubt has latterly only existed between Mr. WHEELER, the late Member, and Mr. SIMONDS. At two o'clock to-day the polling ceased, agreeably to Law, when the numbers stood for—

Mr. Chipman	456
Mr. Ritchie	430
Mr. Wilmot	423
Mr. Simonds	309
Mr. Wheeler	302

which being declared by the High Sheriff—Mr. WHEELER briefly adressed the Meeting, expressing in substance—

That the moment having arrived in which he was priviledged to demand a scrutiny, it became him to declare, that contested elections were affairs not agreeable to his taste or feelings, and that the artifices too often practised in them, were opposite to his principles—that he had continued the strife, he trusted, in an honorable manner, sufficiently long to shew those friends who had zealously and nobly supported him, a fare opportunity to have their wishes gratified—that for himself, he acted from public motives—that he had long held in reserve eleven votes of Freeholders, which he deemed lawful—might have brought them at the last moment, and knew the Sheriff could not resist their being polled, and which would have given him a lead; but these being from men of colour, he also knew it would create another contest in the House of Assembly—the evil consequences, of which to the Province he too deeply deplored to allow himself to be the cause of it, having lately been a public witness to a most unfortunate instance of this nature—he hoped that his motives were too correct and public spirited, and his ambition too moderate, to allow him to be thus led astray. For which reason, he declared his intentions were that no scrutiny should be held—hoped that all the animosities that had unavoidably arisen should cease at the present moment, concluding by thanking his competitor for the moderation he had evinced, and wished him a happy and useful career.

The amicable tendency of Mr. WHEELER'S Speech drew forth the loudest plaudits from all
