treatise on Osteology, by Sabatier, so much of ton.—Several of Mr. Yelverton's friends were also King. His authority, however, is an usurpation, which he got by heart, that it enabled him to pass in the Office. Mr. Gabbett received the informahimself off as a surgeon-major, and in that capacity tions of Charles Byrne, William Ledwich, and Miwas actually employed by General Donadieu, then chael Doyle. commanding at Saumar. He afterwards practised Mr. Hall, on the part of the prisoner, applied sume would not hesitate of herself to acknowledge as a civil surgeon; but in some time, becoming less to be permitted to attend the examination of Mr. his claims, but we have heard of no such admission mundane in his ideas, he became a member of the Yelverton, as every word said in his presence would being officially declared. Bcoles Chretiennes, at Toulouse, where he took a be taken against him, and nothing favorable to him Don Miguel is the youngest son of the late King house, and set up an establishment for novices would be given. When he had the house filled with them he disap- Mr. Garbert said, he should take occasion to throne by French invasion, went with all his family peared, and left them to settle accounts with the explain his reasons for not permitting Mr. Hall to to Brazil, in the year 1806. proprietor. Pursuing the course of his adventures, be present. Mr. Gabbett then turned to the Repor- After the restoration of the affairs of the Peninhe arrived at Roche Beaumont, where, to lull the ters, and said, that the reason he wished to conduct sula, King John resumed his European Throne; vigilance of the police, he took lodgings in the the examination in a private room was, that he did leaving his eldest son Don Pedro, the legitimate house of the Commissary of Police. Here he made not wish to incommode them by excluding them heir to the Portuguese crown, at the head of his the acquaintance of some officers, to one of whom from the public room, where he generally transacted South American Kingdom. In the year 1825, a he talked a great deal of his estates near the Rhone. business as a Magistrate. and of his desire to find a trust-worthy person to In a few minutes afterwards Mr. Yelverton was Don Pedro, as Prince royal of Portugal, was duly supply the place of a steward, whom he had dis- conducted through the office into a private room. recognized as Emperor of Brazil. The King died in charged. The officer proposed to accept the place He appeared to be any thing but an elegant gentle- March, 1826, leaving the Portuguese government and was given it, on condition that he should mar- man. His face was extremely dirty-he was un- a regency, under his daughter Isabel Maria, until ry, as a further guarantee of his steadiness. The shaven, and his dress was a green coat not a little the pleasure of the successor to the Throne should officer consented, his marriage took place, and he broken about the arms, a black silk stock, a light be ascertained. set out, furnished with a letter giving him full pow- waistcoat not a little spotted with what appeared to After the death of his father, Don Pedro was imers to enter upon the stewardship of estates, the have been "drops of drink," and a pair of very mediately proclaimed King in Portugal, and his precise situation of which he has, of course, not yet shabby blue pantaloons. He stamped into the office right to the Crown was admitted without dispute. been able to discover. It was not until 1819 that -gazed round him at the persons assembled in the His Majesty, however, determined to remain on the adventurous carreer of M. Anthelme Collet ter- office-uttered a loud roar, and exclaimed "I want this side of the Atlantic. He therefore drew up a minated, by his being arrested at Mons, for some a glass of grog," and then made his exit into the Constitution for his European dominions; and his obscure and insignificant infraction of the laws. private room. He was detained there for about sister, to whom the government had been com-For the last eight years Collet has been dead to the half an hour, while the witnessess for the prosecu- mitted, losing her health, he appointed the Infant world. It is singular that a genius of such infinite cution were examining in his presence; the door Don Miguel, his brother, then resident in Austria, resources should not have before this bade the bag- was opened for a moment, when we heard the pri- as Regent at Lisbon, and abdicated the Portuguese nio adieu; but, as yet, he has made no attempt at soner exclaim " --- my soul, but I must have a throne in favour of Donna Maria da Gloria, his

IRELAND.

ALLEGED HIGH TREASON .- On Saturday night last, a Gentleman went into the tap-room of a public-houe in Temple bar (Dublin,) where a number of persons were seated; and after pacing the room for some time, addressed himself to a party in a particular box, amongst whom were some active Ca- to such an examination. thelic rent collectors. He said that he was the Hon. Mr. Velverton, and was engaged in assisting the Catholic Association; that in three months a er offering any evidence they pleased. bank-note of 100l. should not be worth 5s.; that he had already enrolled 1,500 men to join O'Connell, offer. at the head of whom were Lord Clammorris, &c. After some time, another person came in the room Sir. whom he denominated his agent, and of whom he asked whether he had distributed one pound a man amongst their friends, which was replied to in the affirmative. He then asked the party in the box privately. Where such a serious charge as that of usage entirely obsolete and nugatory,) "to regulate whether they were up "to the third button?" on which his associate said it was improper to speak on such subjects in a public room, and suggested an adjournment to a more private place. The persons to whom this strange conversation was addressed made the matter known to the Committee of the Association on the next day, (Saturday,) and measures were immediately adopted to have the affair brought ed for managing different prosecutions that came gust marriage, that the succession of the Crown may under investigation at the District Police Office. before him. The worthy Magistrate then recapi- not be endangered by the delay of such necessary The investigation, which was strictly private, has been in progress from day to day during the week ed him to think that it would be a burlesque upon His Majesty's loyal subjects in Lisbon received -but the parties against whom the charge has been preferred were not arrested until last night, when they were traced, by the persons whom they are al- unsound state of mind. At first, however, the charge formed in the churches, and salutes, bonfires, and leged to have sought to seduce, to a public-house appeared to kim to be a most serious one, and it illuminations testified to the fidelity of the "faithful at Howth, and secured there by a party of police, certainly merited the time that had been devoted to Portuguese nation." assisted by the rent-collectors. The subordinate actor in the affair turns out to be the proprietor of Mr. Yelverton-it would be for his friends to prove brother's rights, and infringement of every obligathe public-house they were discovered in. This day, (Thursday,) the Magistrates of College-street of the business, whether he was insane or not. With sued on the 4th of July, the following decree. Police-Office have been occupied with the examination of the person who calls himself the Honourable Walter Yelverton. The investigation was carried on with the strictest privacy; no persons but being concerned with Mr. Yelverton in either his those immediately concerned in the investigation treason or sedition. were admitted into the Magistrates office. At the hour at which we put to press, he was still under sembled in the office left it, while the Hon. Augusexamination. Mr. Murphy, the barrister, is in attendance on the part of the Catholic Association .-Dub. Even. Post.

elf

ide

got

ved :

ose

av-

ing-

om,

des-

cot-

tak-

and,

oor,

pre-

oom,

use.

r, he was

ment

sand

fugi-

eless,

in 1

onth,

[From the Dublin Morning Register of Tuesday.]

CHARGE OF HIGH TREASON.

at three o'clock, Mr. Murphy, on the part of the tention expressed in our last, of laying before our Gentlemen, attended to hear the determination of Portugal.

and could see the prefect every day making his the Magistrates respecting the charge of High The present government of this country is an toilet. Whilst in this retreat he happened to find a Treason against the Honourable Augustus Yelver- absolute monarchy, and Don Miguel, "de facto," escape, and has conducted himself remarkably well. glass of porter-I want to get a glass of porter, and daughter. by ---- I must get a pint of porter."

tended by the Magistrate and the witnesses.

dence of the prisoner's mind before the Magistrate had furnished. Both these requisitions were at pronounced any decision. If this was a case in once complied with. Don Miguel was married to which the Officers of the Crown were concerned, his niece, by proxy,—the Portuguese received the no objection, he was sure, would be made by them | Constitution, -and Regent and people alike swore

Mr. Mureux, on the part of the prosecution, stated, he had no objection to the friends of the prison- her son; and whatever might have been the ex-tulated the circumstances of the case, which induc- espousals." He should let the charge of sedition go against respect to the other gentleman, Mr. M'Kenny, he certainly wou'd not receive informations against him, as he did not think that there was any proof of his

The Magistrate then rose, and the persons astus Yelverton was led off in the custody of the officers, crying out most lustily for a " a glass of In the Cortes de Lui, laws, patents, &c .- "Don Miguel grog."

United States.

NEW-YORK, SEPT. 27.

College-street Police Office. - Yesterday, at | We have it in our power to day to fulfil the in- Late de Barros, is dated from the Palace of Ajuda.) Association, with Mr. O'Keeffe, and several other readers a brief historical retrospect of the affairs of and his claim to the title ard privileges of loyalty are, so far as we are informed, not yet admitted by any of the European governments. Spain we pre-

of Portugal, John VI., who, being driven from his formal partition of the sovereignty was made, and

These arrangements were in part conditional. In a short time afterwards he again appeared, at- To render Pedro's act of abdication valid, Donna Marria was to be married to her uncle Miguel, and Mr. HALL wished to be permitted to offer evi- Portugal was to receive the Constitution Don Pedro to maintain it.

But the mother of Miguel had higher views for tent of his own ambition, at the instigation of the Mr. HALL: You have no right to make such an old Queen, he very soon put forward his claim to the absolute and independent possession of the Mr. MURPHY: I shall have no altercation with you, Throne. The condition of Portugal favoured his designs, and he delayed not their execution. Ev-Mr. GABBETT then entered into a very lengthen- ery thing being arranged for the purpose, Miguel, ed explanation of the reasons that induced him to on the 3d of May, issued a decree for the convohave had the examination in this case conducted cation of the Three Estates of the Kingdom, (an high treason came before him, he felt himself the succession of the Crown, according to the bound to have it conducted privately. Serious in- legal practice of the realm." After the mockery of jury, in his opinion, would follow from pursuing an this proceeding had been completed by a pretended opposite course. At the outset he distinctly dis- deliberation of several days, it was unanimously declaimed any recognition of the right of the Catholic cided, that " Senhor Don Miguel was the only law-Association to carry on prosecutions; but it was not ful King," and petitions were presented to his Mafor him to inquire by whom Counsel were employ- jesty that he would "design to provide for his au-so solemn a proceeding as a charge of High Trea- the announcement of these decisions with every deson, to carry it on against a person in evidently an monstration of joy : religious services were per-

In conclusion of this legalised usurpation of his on the trial, and not for him to decide, in this stage tion by which he could be affected, Don Miguel is-

LISBON, JULY 4.

Having approved what has been represented to me by the Three Estates of the Kingdon, convoked in the Cortes in this noble and ever loyal city of Lisbon, to consider the public law of the Kingdom, accepting the title and dignity of King. which belongs to me by its fundamental law, which it becomes me faithfully to observe, and cause to be observed, it is my pleasure that henceforward the following form be by the grace of God, King of Portugal and the Algarves, &c. &c .- In the Alvras -- " I, the King." -- In the Protarias, &c. The King, our Sovereign, orders, or commands." The decrees, &c. shall be in the form always used by all the Sovereigns of this monarchy, my glorious progenitors. (This decree, addressed to the Minister of State, Senhor

The Don's subsequent history will probably be recollected without much being said in elucidation. An ineffectual show of resistance to his authority.