LATEST INTELLIGENCE FROM ENGLAND.

[From the N. York Albion, London, 19th Dec. 1838.]
Sir Charles Wetherall has, it is said, obtained a fortune of £60,000 with his bride, daughter of the late Col. Warrford. It is believed, the Hon. and Learned Gentleman's third matrimonial alliance. His second lady was the daughter of Sir Alexander Croke, a retired colonial Judge.

THE QUEEN. WINDSOR.—We are happy to state that Her Majesty and her august Mother continue in the enjoyment of perfect health.

The Duke and Duchess of Buccleuch, the Earl of Dalkeith, and family, left Paris on Monday last for Naples. The splendid yacht belonging to the Duke now lies at Greenwich taking in luggage and stores, and is expected to sail for Naples on Monday next.

SIR JAMES ALLAN PARK.—On Saturday last Sir James Allan Park, one of Her Majesty's Judges of the Court of Common Pleas, expired in the 73rd year of his age, at his town residence, No. 32 Bedford square. His Lordship had been confined for several days to his bed. The whole of his family and relatives were in constant attendance upon him. The poor of all descriptions have sustained a great loss by the demise of Sir James; indeed his loss will be universally felt throughout the country. On Thursday the remains of Sir J. A. Park were removed from Bedford square for interment in the family vault at Ewbury Church, in the county of Durham. The carriages of the Lord Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, Lord Denman, Lord Abinger, and others, amounting in all to twenty one, formed a part of the melancholy cavalcade, and proceeded as far as the foot of Highgate hill.

THE HON. MRS. HERRIES.—This lady died yesterday week at Edinburgh, in the 30th year of her age, of a severe attack of typhus fever. Mrs. Herries, was the wife of William Young Herries, Esq., of Spottes, in the county of Kirkcubright, and daughter of the late Admiral Lord de Saumarez, G. O. B.

Six Inspectors General of the Prisons in the West India Islands, are to be appointed at a salary of £500 a year each.

One of the London Sunday Papers, known or at least believed to be the unofficial organ of Lord Palmerston, says, it is "enabled to declare that the Emperor of Russia has recently given to our Government the most frank assurances of his pacific feeling towards this country, and the most positive denial of his having had recourse to any measures, either open or secret, tending to the injury of British interests in any quarter whatsoever."

LIVERPOOL, Monday.—This morning, in consequence of information having been received that the Captain Ross had arrived with prisoners from Quebec, a great number of persons were congregated on the St. George's Pier. The Captain Ross anchored in Bootle Bay, and a steamer was sent out to bring back the convicts who arrived about 8 o'clock, and they were immediately conveyed to the Liverpool Borough Jail. A desperate attempt was made to mutiny during the passage home, but it was happily frustrated by the determination of Capt. Morton, who placed the whole of the prisoners in heavy irons.

An augmentation of the rank and file of the Army has, as we previously announced, been ordered, and the total increase is about 10,000 men, of the Infantry of the Line. The twenty one regiments of Infantry in India have some time ago received orders to enlist 74 over their regular establishment; the twenty two regiments in the United Kingdom to 80 over their regulated numbers, and the remaining regiments serving abroad to 110 men over their establishment. The exertions now making to raise the men, in every district of the kingdom, remind us of the energetic measures of the war time. We have been informed, that during the last fourteen days recruiting has been very successful, and that a fine class of men are offering themselves. The mere chance of a war seems to have induced a large number to enlist, who would not else have left their agricultural or manufacturing pursuits. The spirit of Old England if once roused, is that of a Lion, and the Russian Bear may well fear even his distant roar.—Naval and Military Gazette.

FORTIFYING THE COAST.—Surveys are being made on the east coast of this country and the River Humber, for the most eligible sites on which may be erected batteries, in the event of hostilities with Russia. Whether a war now takes place or not it is intended to secure the ground in the event of any future occasion. A site at High Paul and the opposite coast will be again occupied as military establishments for the defence of the Humber.—Hull Paper.

COPY.—RECRUITING DEPARTMENT.

Horse Guards, 8th Dec., 1838.

Sir, I have the honor to notify for your information, that with a view to assist the Recruiting for the Infantry Regiments serving in the East Indies, the General Commanding in Chief has approved of Recruits being received for these corps half an inch below the present standard of 5 feet 6 inches, until further orders. You will be pleased to make the necessary notification thereof to the respective depots.

I have, &c.

J. GARDINER, Dep. Adj. Gen.

To the Commandant of Chatham.

The above confirms what we advanced last week, relative to the difficulty of recruiting, and the reduction of the standard. We hope soon to hear of the increase of bounty and removal of the restriction to men not under 20 for the regiments in India.—Ed. N. & M. G.

SIR JOHN COLBORNE.—Mrs. Jameson, in her "Rambles in Canada," which we shall shortly notice, says, "Sir John Colborne, whose mind appeared to me to be cast in the antique mould of chivalrous honor, and whom I never heard mentioned in either province but with respect and veneration, was then occupied in preparing against the exigency which he afterwards met so effectually."

An increase in the establishment of the depots of every Regt. of the Line in India, to meet the emergent duties of the extra recruiting, has been granted by the Secretary at War and Board of Control. Each depot will in future consist of 1 Capt., 1 Colour Sergeant, 5 Sergeants, 5 Corporals, and 1 Drummer. These are to supply the several recruiting parties—the drill duties of the depots, and the ordinary garrison duties of Chatham garrison.

It is stated in the provincial journal to be the intention of the Roman Catholics to erect a magnificent cathedral in London, and that 100 wealthy peers and commoners are expected to subscribe £1,000 each towards it.

Since the opening of the Great Western railway there are 73 stage coaches less than the former number pass through Houslow.

THE DUKE OF WELLINGTON.—Undeniably great as is the Duke of Wellington's military fame, we consider it as nothing compared with the noble traits the publication of his despatches of 1815 has given as to his character. The "military hero" is as dust in the balance when put in competition with the "merciful man." His despatches have raised a monument for him which will outlast the hardest granite, and his name will be perpetuated by them long after the emblem of a nation's gratitude are crumbled in the dust.—Leeds Mercury.

THE DARLING FAMILY.—Her Majesty has been graciously pleased to present the handsome sum of £50, to the fund now raising for the reward of the Darlings and the North Sunderland boatmen, for their humane and heroic conduct in saving a number of lives at the wreck of the Eorfarshire. Grace Darling and her father waited, by desire of the Duke and Duchess of Northumberland, on their Grace at Alnwick Castle last week, and experienced a most kind and courteous reception. The Duchess presented Grace Darling with a beautiful shawl, and his Grace placed in her hands a liberal present for her mother. The Noble Duke afterwards presented the father and daughter with two splendid gold medals from the Royal Humane Society, of which institution his Grace is the munificent patron and president, commemorative of their heroic conduct.

LATEST FROM CANADA.

[From the Montreal Gazette, January 23.]
The Court Martial met to day, at the usual hour, when the prisoner Hindenlang entered upon his defence, urging some points of law as objections to the legality of their proceedings. It therefore only remains for the Court to pronounce sentence on the prisoner.

The following prisoners will be put upon their trial for high treason to-morrow:—Pierre Remé Norbonne, Amable Daunais, Constant Bousquet, Pierre Lavoie, Antoine Dore, Antoine Con. Lorrain, Theodore Bechard, François Camrié, François Brunesse, and François Nicolas. These men are mostly from Napierville, and two of them, Nicolas and Daunais, were principals in the atrocious murder of Chartrand.

[From the Montreal Herald.]

RETURNING JUSTICE LIFTS ALOFT HER SCALES.—There are circumstances occasionally occurring which are more peculiarly than others considered special instances of Divine interposition to punish the guilty in this world. Of such there are few more evident than the capture, on a charge of High Treason, of Nicolas, one of the murderers of the ill-fated Chartrand, who was, with his fellow murderers, acquitted by a Canadian jury. If the circumstances are also taken into consideration that Jacques Robert and Petit Hamelin, two of the individuals who were hanged on Friday last, were on that very jury, and that Nicolas was taken prisoner at the very hour they were ushered into eternity, we have a combination of events at once striking and solemn. Another singular circumstance connected with the two brothers Sanguinet, who were also hanged on Friday, is the fact that their father became proprietor of the Seigneurie of La Salle, in consequence of its being confiscated to the Crown on the conviction for High Treason of one Cazeau about 1785, who was reputed to be one of the wealthiest men then in the Province. Cazeau had some property, that the Government did not know of all that he had, and old Sanguinet quietly took and kept possession of La Salle. Jacques Robert was an old man about sixty years of age, was considered wealthy for a Canadian, and had no less than twenty eight brothers and sisters. Deceigne, the fifth malefactor, was also up in years, and was a person of good education. After his sentence was officially announced to him, he gave himself up to the utmost dejection and wild despair, so much so, that at one time it was supposed he would not live till the day of execution. Two or three days before it was to take place, he was visited by his wife, an American lady, who continued with him till half past seven o'clock on Friday morning, and by her strength of mind and religious consolations, contributed to bring peace to his troubled soul, enabled him to view his departure from life as an entrance into heaven, to look with calmness and fortitude towards his ignominious fate, and to conduct himself with manliness and coolness on the fatal scaffold, which astonished all. The short speech he delivered was beautiful in style and language, and singularly melodious in tone. The conduct of Madame Deceigne is above all praises and truly shows that

"Love's watchfire burns most bright
Mid the gloom of sorrow's night."

The latest accounts from the frontiers contain no information of importance. McKenzie has returned to New York. His paper of the 5th January, pretends that he was to be kidnapped by the British Government. We believe that the British Government, as well as the Colonial Government, would be very glad to be rid of the trouble and the expense of trying and hanging rebels and traitors; but there are many loyal and peaceable subjects in the Canadas who would not begrudge a little trouble to deliver over the like of McKenzie to justice. Perhaps such characters would do well to keep at a respectable distance from the frontiers, where there are now many American citizens, who have reason to regret that they ever had any thing to do with Canadian "patriots."

"MONTREAL, Tuesday even. Jan. 22.

"The Court Martial was occupied this day with the trial of Hindenlang. At four o'clock the case for the prosecution was closed, and the prisoner has got till Thursday at noon, to prepare his defence, if he will offer any. I understand that the evidence against him is clear and conclusive, and that it is the opinion of one of his legal advisers, that no defence will be made. During the day he looked less concerned than many of the spectators; and while walking from the room in which the Court is held, in company with the Provost Martial and a guard of soldiers, handcuffed, his countenance displayed a pleasant and cheerful appearance. He left the Court House in a sleigh along with the Provost Martial, followed by a guard of the Queen's Light Dragoons.

"The trial of Nicholas, Donnais and Narbonne, will commence on Friday."

The outbreaks in Canada seem to have had the effect of putting aside all matters on which there was discussion in the Lower Provinces.

The following is from our Montreal Correspondent:—

"Montreal, Friday evening, Jan. 25.—The Court Martial did not sit to day. The trial of Narbonne, Daunais, &c. will commence to-morrow morning.

"It is expected that some of the prisoners recently tried, will suffer death on Friday next. Brouson, the carpenter, I have heard, has got orders to make seven coffins for the bodies.

"Letters from London, Upper Canada, of the 18th, mention the death of the Hon. Col. Maidland, of the 32d Regiment.

"Saturday evening, Jan. 26.—The Court Martial was occupied to-day with the examination of witnesses against Nicolas and others from Napierville. At this early stage of the trial, sufficient evidence was elicited from the few witnesses examined to convict nine of the eleven prisoners. Nicolas's case is about the worst.

Montreal, Jan. 24.—We have received a letter from London, (U. C.) dated the 14th instant, which mentions that Albert Clark from Ohio, one of the Brigands was hanged that morning, making three who have been executed at that place. The total number of prisoners are forty-nine, of whom seventeen have been tried and convicted, but their sentences were not confirmed owing to the absence of Sir George Arthur from Toronto. The brigands seem to have had plenty of officers, as one General, one Colonel and two or three Captains, fell in the field; 1 Captain and 1 Adjutant have been hanged, and two Majors await his Excellency's pleasure.

We understand that a stripling named James McLean, a tailor from Lockport, who had joined the 'patriot army' there, was killed at Windsor, having been pierced by three balls. This lad was the son of Donald McLean, tailor formerly a resident in that town, and now living, we believe in Churchill, for which he left a few weeks before the outbreak of Young Street. It is said that he and his son, who now fills a premature and a traitor's grave, left home for the purpose of joining Mackenzie's band of rebels, but that on hearing of their dispersion and flight, they quietly re-converted the sword into a needle, and the shield into a goose. The youth worked in this town all last summer, and only left in the fall for Lockport. According to a letter received in town, communicating the intelligence of his ignominious fate, and part of which had been written by himself, previously to his joining this wild and wicked crusade, he was comfortably situated and profitably employed at Lockport.

"Train up a child," &c.—Niagara Chronicle.

Two pieces of artillery, six pounders, were, on Saturday night last, seized by Mr. Porter, Collector at Youngstown, aided by a detachment of military, and taken into Fort Niagara. The guns were found covered with straw in the barn yard of a "sworn hunter," named Peter Towers, about two miles in the rear of Youngstown, where they had been concealed for some months, in readiness for the frontier 'maintainers of neutral relations,' as soon as they mustered sufficient pluck to 'take Canada.'—Id.

There are in this town, studying the "art of war," under the auspices of the officers of the 1st Dragoon Guards, detachments from the cavalry troops of Captains Dickson, L'Micking, Macdonald, Rykert, and Conkle, of this District; of Captains Servos, Aikman, and Wilson, of the Gore District; Captain Martin, we understand, is highly pleased with the appearance and discipline of these representatives of our Yeomanry Cavalry, and there is no doubt but the instructions received from that gallant officer will be most beneficially felt in the Provincial service.—Id.

In these "piping times of peace" when the veracious gazetteers of Market Square, having paused to take breath, we cannot raise a rumour within our own borders that is worth the listening to, it is pleasant to observe that Niagara has passed beyond what is meant by a "lively place," and has resolutely assumed the character of a fashionable one. The Guards and the 43d Regiment have given an impetus to society and display which is calculated to produce the best effects on the feelings as well as interests of the inhabitants. Balls and assemblies follow each other in rapid succession, and the Niagara Sleigh Club, formed under the auspices of the resident gentlemen and the officers of the regiments mentioned above—would make the listless loungers of Rotten Row raise their eyes in wonder and bless their stars for the luxury of an excitement. The Club had a splendid field day on the 1st of January, when near a score of tandems turned out in tip top style, the members arrayed in their colours and all alive to the pleasurable occupation. The Club of course is the ornament of the town, and therefore the rage among such of our gallants as can sport a "brace of bloods," and then the "fair ladies" seem as fond of tandem driving as are the "Lords of creation."—Id.

Hamilton, Jan. 14.—Thank God, our frontier is now completely guarded, by as brave a set of fellows as ever were collected together in this or any other country; to say nothing of the various Regiments of the Line placed along our coast from Amherstburgh to

Quebec, our Militia are certainly not a whit behind, at least in spirit and inclination and determination to prove to the world that the "sympathizing" sons of Yankee land, shall never tread Canadian Soil with impunity. —(Gazette.)
