

ceived, we fear there is little hope but the whole story is true.

The unfortunate men who wandered about the Island, state that blocks, ropes, old sails, casks, and numerous other appurtenances of sea craft, were to be seen in all directions, and the place looked like an old resort of an established gang of Pirates. The men who are taken have been recognized as reckless and abandoned characters, who have been known before without occupation or resources, and one who was present at their examination, depicts the whole affair in language most horrible and appalling.

THE ASHANTEE PRINCES.—Monday, the Prince William Quaintanassah and Prince John Ansah, nephews of the powerful King of Ashantee, arrived at New London Inn, in this city, on their route to Plymouth and Cornwall, accompanied by the Rev. T. Pyne, of Toofing. These young princes are about eighteen or nineteen years of age, and were delivered over to our Government as hostages a few years since, at the termination of a treaty with the Ashantees on the gold coast of Africa. They are exceedingly interesting and intelligent young men, and have greatly profited by the care and attention bestowed upon their education; they are now engaged in a tour through England, to inspect the principal manufactures, and other places worthy of their attention, previous to their return to their native country. They have not only been taught the Christian religion, but we believe are sincere and true converts, and the selection of a clergyman of piety and literary attainments as their present companion, reflects great credit on Lord John Russell, who has taken a lively interest in the welfare of the young princes. It is intended that they shall leave England about six months hence for Ashantee, and it is hoped their influence and exertions will not only prove of great advantage in a political view, to our settlements in the neighbourhood, but tend to impede that accursed traffic in human flesh, which, while the British are prohibited from engaging in it, is continued surreptitiously under other flags, to the great detriment of legitimate commerce and civilization.—Exeter Gazette.

POSTSCRIPT.

The New York Alliance published last Saturday reached this place about 1 o'clock noon yesterday and contains the announcement of the arrival of the Great Western, with Bristol papers to the 4th instant. She is as usual crowded with passengers, and notwithstanding constant head winds, has made her passage in a fortnight.

The political intelligence of the greatest moment relates to the affairs of France in Algiers, where her arms have met with fresh reverses from the indomitable Arabs. Genl. Vaise and his troops with him were obliged to fall back upon Algiers after sustaining much loss. The troops however behaved well, and the two sons of Louis Philippe acted with heroic bravery. Abd-el-Kader has possession of the entire open country, while his invaders are obliged to confine themselves to fortified places. The French general it is supposed will be recalled.

The King of Naples is implacable and it is said has broken off the negotiations and declared the mediation of France at an end. We cannot believe, however, that he will long hold out in a cause so indefensible, especially when he is seriously threatened with the vengeance of England. An armistice should be made will not permit him to bring on a war in the Italian peninsula with any power.

Parliament has been actively engaged on several interesting subjects.—A Clergy Reserves Bill has been brought in anew by Lord John Russell, by which a new division of the clergy property is proposed. The whole is to be divided into four parts—one fourth to be given to the Church of England, one fourth to the Church of Scotland, and the remaining two fourths to be divided among other denominations of Christians including Catholics. The Bill met with some opposition, but will nevertheless be carried through the House of Commons at any rate. In the Lords its fate may be doubted, but only doubtful, and we incline to the belief that it will in some shape prevail.

The season in Great Britain is most promising; fruit will be abundant and corn crops are every where in good order; in short the bounty of Providence is the theme of universal thankfulness and gratulation. The demand for Continental grain is therefore lessened, the bottom in the bank is re-accumulating and good times are once more approaching, the effects of which will be as visible here as on the opposite side of the Atlantic.

York Minister has again very narrowly escaped destruction. The damage done on this occasion exceeds that of the former fire. The fine old belfry was nearly destroyed and the bells have fallen to the ground. The venerable building, however, can be again repaired.

The Act of Parliament to prevent Timber ships from carrying deck loads has been renewed for two years.

Her Majesty has held another splendid Drawing Room, and her birth day was joyfully observed. She, as well as Prince Albert, are very popular.

Parliament has rejected the Corn Law Bill by a majority of 126, so that that subject is for the present at rest.

Nothing has appeared touching the North Eastern Boundary. Some weeks since Lord Russell informed Parliament that the Ministry were reflecting on a reply to Mr. Van Buren's proposition. By this ship a special messenger has come out with despatches for the British Minister, and it is supposed on the above subject.
