

battle has been made. Thiers has thus far shown himself a capital manager, and the effect of all the opposition has been to react to the benefit of the ministry.

The news from Spain is of a very encouraging nature for the cause of the Queen. The last important strong hold of the Carlists was represented as on the point of surrender; and Carlos himself had been tied a little tighter to stop his active negotiation with his adherents.

Royal Present to Lord Melbourne.—Viscount Melbourne has received a high compliment from his royal mistress and her princely husband. A very elegant piece of plate, forming a centre for the table, has been manufactured for the presentation to the noble lord, which will bear the following inscription:—
“Presented to Viscount Melbourne, as a token of regard, by Victoria R. and Albert.”

Increase of the British Navy.—Orders have been recently issued to the commissioners of the various royal dock-yards for the building of nine ships of war and six war steamers, the operations on which are to be immediately commenced, and to be completed as soon as possible: they are as follows:—A 90 gun ship to be called Albert, and a steamer of 800 tons burden, are to be built at Portsmouth; at Plymouth dock-yard, the Exmouth, 90 guns, and Niobe, 26 guns, and the Amethyst, 26 guns; at Woolwich, the Hannibal, 90 guns, and the Devastation, a war steamer; at Chatham, the Irresistible, 90 guns, and the Groedier; at the Pembroke dock-yard, the Lion, 80 guns, and the Vixen and Geyser, steamers; and at Sheerness, the Daring, 10 guns, and the Styx, war steamer.

Discontinuance of Holster Pistols in the British Army.—The new military saddles now to be made for the life guards (blue), and which are to be immediately served out to the regiments are made without holster pipes for the pistols, which are to be discontinued throughout the British Army. A new invented carbine is being made for the use of the cavalry, with percussion cocks and caps. The improvements are stated to be very great. It is also intended to do away with the grenadier caps worn now by the household cavalry, and steel helmets adopted in their places.

His Royal Highness Prince Albert evinces a decided partiality in promoting talent in British Artists, and has ordered from Messrs. Davis Brothers, the opticians, of New Bond-street, one of their newly invented patent walking stick telescopes. His royal highness highly approved of it, and observed it reflected much credit on the ingenuity of the inventors. A great novelty has been introduced at Court. Her Majesty sat at the last Drawing room: the seat employed was a sort of music stool, exactly suited to Her Majesty's height, and being completely concealed by her train, the Queen seemed to be standing just as usual. This is a great improvement, as it renders the reception much less fatiguing to the Sovereign.

BRITISH NORTH AMERICAN BANK.

Yesterday the fourth annual meeting of the proprietors of this establishment was held at the bank in St. Helen's-place, for the purpose of re-electing three directors, who vacated their office by rotation, to receive a report from the Court of Directors, to declare a dividend, and on other matters. The chair was taken by Mr. Henry Barnwell.

The minutes of the last Court having been read, the proprietors re-elected Mr. Downie, Mr. Alexander Gillespie, jun., and Mr. G. R. Robinson, as directors.

The Secretary, Mr. Attwood, then read the following report:—

“Report of the Directors of the British North American Bank to the Proprietors, at their Fourth Yearly General Meeting, on Tuesday, 24th June, 1840.

“Having stated to the proprietors in February last that the branch returns, so far as they had been then received, exhibited a steady and progressive advance in the business of the bank throughout 1839, the directors have now to lay before them, at their fourth annual general meeting, the result of the year's operations, as taken from the accounts made up to the close of that year, which will be found to be in unison with their former statement, and to show that the addition to the capital of the bank, so far as time has allowed of its being made available, has been beneficially employed.

“The political tranquility of the Canadas has not been again disturbed, and the progress of the North American Colonies, in the development of their great natural advantages, has been only impeded by the injury to which their commerce could not but in some degree be exposed, from the recent severe pressure on the financial affairs of this country and of the United States.

“The stream of emigration from the United Kingdom to British North America, which had been almost wholly suspended during the last three years, has revived in the present year. The immediate interests of the bank are now deriving benefit therefrom, in a large increase of the amount deposited here in exchange for letters of credit on the colonies; and the general prosperity of the colonies, in which the profits of this bank are necessarily involved, will unquestionably be advanced from the operation of the same cause.

“An arrangement similar to the one already subsisting between this Bank and the Provincial Bank of Ireland, and the Manchester and Liverpool District Bank, has been now concluded with the National Bank of Scotland, through the numerous branches of which establishment the same facilities for the transmission of funds to America will be henceforth afforded in all the principal towns of that division of the United Kingdom.

“Specie payments were finally resumed in Lower Canada, in June, and in Upper Canada, in November last, and the directors consequently look for a more extended circulation in those provinces than has yet been obtained for the notes of this bank.

“The anticipation of the progress of the branch at Newfoundland, expressed in the last annual report, has been fully realised. The directors have the pleasure to report that the royal charter, incorporating this bank, received ed the great seal on 23d April last, and is now in their possession.

“They now beg to submit the following statement of the bank's affairs, which they trust will be considered satisfactory:—

“The amount of undivided net profit, to the 31st December, 1838, was £19,612 3 10

“The net profits of the year ending 31st December, 1839, after deduction of all current expenses, and a portion of the preliminary expenses, and providing for all bad and doubtful debts, amount to 26,019 16 1

Together, 45,631 19 11

“From which is to be taken the amount of 3d and 4th dividends, paid to the proprietors at Midsummer and Christmas, 1839, 23,299 13 0

“Leaving amount of undivided profits to 31st December, 1839, £22,332 6 11

“The directors having raised the Christmas dividends from 12s. to 15s. per share, intend to pay a further half-yearly dividend of the like amount—viz. 15s. per share, on and after the 6th July next.

“The proprietors will not fail to bear in mind that payment of the third call of 5s. per share was not received in this country until November last, and in the colonies not until the commencement of the present year, and consequently has not contributed to the profits stated in the preceding summary of accounts to the 31st December, 1839.”

The Chairman observed that he hoped that when the monetary difficulties which had prevailed in the United Kingdom, as well as in America, were considered, the report just read was fully as satisfactory as the proprietors could have anticipated—(hear, hear). The charter of the bank had obtained Her Majesty's signature on the 23d of April last, and on the same day it had received the great seal of the United Kingdom. He (the chairman) referred to the grant of the charter with pleasure, as from the political differences which had for a long time existed in Canada, the claim of the directors had not been approved. The charter would give stability to the operations of the bank, security to the shareholders, and under its provisions, he hoped the whole capital of £1,000,000 would be brought into active and beneficial employment. His own opinion was, that the bank would become a great national undertaking, for if with the political clouds that had darkened the horizon, the establishment had been able to effect so much as it had already done, what might the proprietors not expect when emigration was resumed with activity, when the whole of the British North American Colonies were entirely tranquillised, and when the resources of that rich portion of the dominions of the crown were fully developed? The chairman then gave a succinct statement of the provisions of the charter of incorporation.

After a considerable discussion, a motion for printing and circulating an abstract of the charter was negatived by a vast majority of the proprietors present.

The chairman stated to the proprietors that the charter might be read at the company's office, or extracts taken from the document by any one duly qualified.

The report, on the motion of Mr. Gould, was adopted and ordered to be printed and circulated among the proprietors.

In reply to a question, the Chairman stated that an ample reserved fund had been kept to meet losses by bad or doubtful debts; the amount written off already under these heads was greatly below the reserved fund already established for that purpose—(hear.)

A vote of thanks was then unanimously passed to the chairman and the directors, for their able management, and the Court adjourned.
