VIEW NEAR JUBBERA.

The following lines, by Mary Howitt, upon the beauties of Jubbera, a village in the Himalaya regions, situated to the North of the Mussooree and Marma ridges, are taken from "Fisher's Drawing Room Scrap Book" for 1841:—

Like to that visioned token grand,
Which was at Bethel given,
Upon the earth these mountains stand,
Their tops ascend to heaven!
And like a rich celestial roof,
Of scarlet, gold, and green,
Like heaven's own gorgeous golden roof,
With not a cloud between,
Upon the mountain tops doth lie
The glory of the Indian sky.

And wondrous flowers that have no peer,
Flowers meet for angels' hands,
Spring forth, and blossom all the year,
Amid these mountain lands;
And trees—the oak, the pine,
And that which incense weeps,
The apple and the juicy vine,
Clothe all these rocky steeps;
For God this mountain land designed
To be an Eden for mankind!

And rivers strong and clear, and cold,
Spring in these mountains high,
And snows, a thousand winters old,
Their living streams supply.
Oh! fair and sumptuous mountain-land,
To which such wealth is given;
Whose lower hills like giants stand,
Whose peaks ascend to heaven,
Would God the regions held a race
As blessed as their dwelling place!

Miscellaneous.

ANECDOTE OF NAPOLEON BONAPARTE.—While about to enter upon the famous Polish campaign, the Emperor was one day playing chess in the Tuileries with Marshal Berthier, when the Persian Ambassador was announced, as requesting an audience. The game was at an interesting crisis, and Napoleon would not more permit it to be suspended than would Charles of Sweden leave his chessboard when the Turks commenced battering down his house in Bender. Bonaparte ordered the Ambassador to be shown in, and M. Amédée Jaubert was commanded to the presence as interpreter. The Emperor continued his game with Berthier, overhauling the astounded Persian with question all the while, in his usual rapid mode of asking to gain information. The Mussulman found it difficult to plant his replies suitably; the various topics being Turkey, Persia, Mohamed and the Koran, Eastern harems, wives in sacks, the vaccine, military discipline, and ten thousand other matters. The Persian, however, steered his way like the really skilful diplomatist he was. He exalted Persian institutes to the seventh heaven, or a little higher, and dwelt especially upon the horse-soldiers of Ispahan as being the finest cavalry in the world. Napoleon good humouredly disputed the assertion, and interrupted the son of Iran more than once; but the Ambassador constantly returned with his pet cavalry to the charge, and, getting warmer by degrees, pronounced his judgment with even more and more decision. "There could be no doubt about it—the foot soldiers of Europe were excellent—but the Persian horse!" Napoleon laughed outright as the interpreter rendered the sentences in French; and, carelessly addressing Jaubert in reply, said, "Tell him that to-morrow we'll show him a little cavalry here." The Persian made his salaam, and quitted the Palace. The long contested chess-game was not even then finished. While pondering over the subsequent moves, the Emperor found time to issue certain brief orders upon slips of paper, centralizing upon Paris the instant march of various bodies of horse soldiers from their cantonments in the vicinity. Like the knights on the chessboard, he had them all in his hand. The subject was not again alluded to; the game was played out; but the next morning saw 40,000 French cavalry defile before Napoleon and the Persian envoy, in all the glittering pomp of military decoration. Paris beheld that cavalry almost for the last time. Moscow, awaited them.—Fraser's Magazine.

THE LATE DUKE OF KENT.—The duke (says a correspondent of the Chronicle) was going to Windsor, when two men rode up, stopped the chaise, and said: "Your money or your life!" He folded his arms, and looking hard at the man next him, exclaimed, "Do you know who I am, sir? I am one of the royal family!" The man instantly drew back, and the carriage proceeded. During two or three minutes, when the men having apparently consulted, galloped back, one to the driver, and the other to the chaise window, saying, "We won't be trifled with; your money instantly!" "Hardiman," said the duke, "get the pistols!" The aide-de-camp immediately took them from the case, and (the man drawing back) leant out of the window, presenting a pistol, on which both the fellows galloped away. "They're gone," cried the aide. "Then drive on," replied the duke. The postillion heard, and drove on at speed, leaving Hardiman's hat, which had fallen on the ground. There were not any other words said, nor did the duke unfold his arms during the whole affair. I heard this from Captain Hardiman's own mouth immediately after.

ESCAPE OF A TIGER, AND ATTACK ON A VESSEL'S CREW.—The Adam Lodge, Capt. James, arrived at Liverpool from Calcutta on Saturday, having on board a remarkably fine Bengal tiger. On the voyage, from some strange inadvertence, the animal broke his confine and got upon deck, to the imminent danger of the sailors, some of whom made a precipitate retreat, and the remainder got up the rigging; the latter part of them, however, were not so secure from attack as they conceived, for the brute managed to ascend a considerable distance after them, and the hindmost narrowly escaped; fortunately they were provided with handspikes, which they had procured in the moment of their terror, and having beat the tiger down, safely reached the main-yard. The animal then went towards the cabin, and sprung upon Capt. James, who dexterously avoided it. A loaded piece being immediately at hand, it was seized by Capt. James, and the infuriated brute was shot through the heart, and dropped dead immediately.

ROYALTY IN EUROPE.—The Augsburg Gazette remarks:—"Within a century, 90 reigning houses have become extinct in Europe. Among them are those of Hapsburg, Romanow, Ostfries, Stuart, Montfort, Mansfield, Kirchberg, Este, Cibo, Sinzendorf, Coburg, and Rheinstadt. Among the 21 reigning dynasties, 18 are of German origin, including that of Savoy. The history of the throne of Holland is unique; in that of three sovereigns of different houses, two have voluntarily abdicated. In all probability, after another generation, six detached lines will be re-annexed to countries under a monarchical government, and reunited to the hereditary lines. The present reigning houses are composed of 688 members—viz., 346, princes and 342 princesses. The Catholic are less numerous than the Protestant houses, with the exception of Austria, which reckons 21 princes and 11 princesses. Among the Protestant houses which have only one reigning line, Wurtemberg is the most numerous, having 20 princes and 16 princesses. It was saved from extinction by the secularization of the canon, Father Frederick, the grandfather of the present king, and common ancestor of all the existing family, which took place about 80 years ago."

A CONSCIENTIOUS ADVOCATE.—The late Sir William Garraway. With all the zeal which he was ever ready to display in cases confided to him, with all the desire of wealth and honour which could inflame a youthful mind, Garraway was never ready to undertake a case which would oblige him to profess in a public manner opinions which were repugnant to his principles. Thus, at an early period of his life, when the question concerning the manner in which negroes were obtained, and conveyed from Africa to the West Indies, was in agitation, he had formed a most decided judgment on the facts and on the traffic. One day Mr. Fuller (Jock Fuller, of Rose Hill, as he called himself), a great West Indian proprietor, meeting him in the street, said, "Well, Mr. Garraway, here is plenty of business, and plenty of money for you; the committee have determined to retain you, and give you the management of all their business in Parliament, and elsewhere." He answered, "Sir, if your committee would give me their whole income, and all their estates, I would not be seen as the advocate of practices which I abhor, and a system which I detest."—Law Magazine.

THE AMARANTH; A MONTHLY MAGAZINE

OF NEW AND POPULAR TALES, POETRY, HISTORY, VOYAGES, TRAVELS, &c.

AS soon as a sufficient number of Subscribers shall have been obtained to warrant the undertaking, the subscriber will commence publishing a Periodical, in this City, under the above title. It is intended that it shall be, as much as possible, a work of interest to the lovers of Polite Literature, History, Biography, &c. and with a view to render it worthy of patronage, no expense will be spared in procuring the most sterling works of the day, from which to make such selection, as may appear of general interest.

Prose and Poetry, of merit, being original, will always find a place in the Magazine.—A synopsis of the Lectures, as well as of the general proceedings of the MECHANICS' INSTITUTE of Saint John will be given.

Price of the Amaranth.—In order to place the work within the reach of all classes of the community, the yearly subscription is fixed at the low sum of Seven Shillings and Sixpence. The size will be octavo—32 pages—good Paper and Type; and delivered to subscribers about the first of each month.

Subscription Lists will be found at all the Book Stores in the City.

Mr. HENRY S. BEEK, has been appointed Agent for Fredericton.—A Subscription will be found at his Book Store. The first Number of the AMARANTH will appear in January. Persons wishing to procure the first Number would do well to leave their names as soon as possible.

NEWSPAPER ON A NOVEL PLAN.

A JOURNAL ON A PLAN ENTIRELY NEW, WILL BE SHORTLY PUBLISHED IN LIVERPOOL, IN CONNECTION WITH THE "NEW YORK ALBION."

"THE EUROPEAN."

ITS novelty will consist in being published on the days on which the steamers severally sail, so that it may always bring the very latest news. Another feature will consist in its combining every kind of intelligence, political, commercial, and general; and it will be ready for delivery to the subscribers immediately on the arrival of the vessels. Copies for the South and West will be forwarded by the first mail. There is no single publication in Great Britain which occupies this ground, and "THE EUROPEAN" will combine all the matter of interest to American readers, of half a dozen British Journals. A comprehensive summary of all the current political, parliamentary, and general news of the day, will be given on one page, while on another will be presented an accurate digest of the Money Market, Cotton Market, and Financial and Mercantile Affairs at large. The proposed publication will indeed supersede a number of Price Currents, Circulars, Shipping Lists, &c. and will put the merchant, the politician, and the man of leisure, in possession of all the European intelligence that can interest him, a few minutes after the vessel shall be in port. The subscription for this publication will be at the low price of $4 per annum, to the public generally, but those who do or shall take the Albion also, will be charged only $2 per annum each, in addition to the regular Albion subscription. Advantage will be taken of Mr. Cunard's Steamers whenever their priority of sailing promises a priority of arrival.

Subscribers to the Albion residing in the West Indies and South America can have The European forwarded to them direct from Liverpool, on making known their wishes at the Albion Office in New York.

It is stated in the above Prospectus that subscribers to the Albion will receive the European at Two dollars per annum. Of the merits of the Albion it is not necessary to speak, as it is already so well known throughout North America. Suffice it to say, that it continues to be published with its wonted regularity, and to enjoy its usual large share of public approbation. Its embellishments and adjuncts of Plates are of a superior order, and gives much value to the work. By the following article which has lately appeared in the Albion, it will be seen that three new Plates are announced, which, together with the paper itself, offer abundant attractions to the lovers of Literature and the Arts.

"In our last we announced our intention of issuing to our subscribers two Plates in the course of the ensuing year, the subjects being the Duke of Wellington and Windsor Castle. It has occurred to us that it might be acceptable to our readers, if we were to select an American subject for one of our prints. This would seem to be but fair to our American subscribers, as most of our previous plates have consisted of English subjects; we have accordingly determined upon adopting this course. Consistently with this determination, and with our most careful endeavour to present that which shall be equally acceptable to all, we propose to offer in addition and in due course the portrait of WASHINGTON.

"The events of the Revolution has now become matter of history, and are too far removed from the present time to allow of the continuance of hostile feelings on either side. The one great nation has become two—the independence of the offspring has been acknowledged by the parent, and they meet upon the great theatre of the world on terms of equality and friendship. Situated as they are, they have a mutual interest in promoting each other's prosperity;—by peace they gain every thing, by war they lose all. The interests of no two nations upon the globe are so intimately blended, and it is impossible to injure one without inflicting a blow upon the other. In blood, in language, in laws and institutions, the two people are still one, and the only difference that the philosophic philanthropist can discover between them is, that the government of one is at London and the other at Washington.

"Such being the relative position of the two countries it behoves every virtuous citizen of both to promote and inculcate to the best of his abilities, peace, harmony, and reciprocal good will.

"In our humble labors, which have now continued upwards of eighteen years, it has ever been our aim to cherish and promote these sentiments, and we think that the offering we now design to present to our American friends, will be conducive to the same end. The plate will be produced as soon as practicable, and will be superior in execution to any that we have yet offered to our readers."—Albion, November 28, 1840.

Orders for one or both papers will be received at the Albion Office, or by any of its agents.

SCORBUTIC OINTMENT.

THIS OINTMENT is made from a Recipe of the late celebrated Professor, JAMES HAMILTON, of Edinburgh, who was a member of that bright constellation of the Eighteenth century, which illumined the whole Medical World, and, in fact, there is scarcely a Physician of any standing or talent at present who has not been taught by them.

When Dr. Hamilton gave the writer of this his Recipe, he stated that an English Nobleman who had two sons sorely afflicted with ringworm, had sent them to London and put them under many of the most eminent Physicians of that City, without any benefit; he heard of his celebrity, and sent them to Edinburgh, and in a few months he sent them home perfectly sound by the use of the above Ointment.

This excellent Ointment is far superior to anything hitherto used, for those who are afflicted with eruptions of any part of the body, but particularly the young of both sexes, when they arrive at the age of puberty; they are often troubled with eruptions of the face, which are very obstinate of cure. The finest face may be injured and the countenance entirely destroyed by freckles and other skin diseases. The patient has only to use a box of the above Ointment with a box of the pills, to be convinced of the invaluable nature of both. Ladies who are bilious and their faces of a dark or yellow hue, will do well to use the Ointment and pills, as they will invariably turn the complexion to its proper colour and agreeable whiteness.

The above Medicines will never fail in inducing a healthy action of the whole frame, without which no person can enjoy a good state of health; in fact the very lustre of the eye, as also the muscles of the face are lost and destroyed in sickness. The old adage is certainly true "a sound mind in a sound body is surely preferable to any other situation in life," but to see the young, who shall always be gay and cheerful, suffering, and who cannot often go into company on account of some deformity of the face, is really dreadful in the extreme. In ulcers of the lower extremities (which is often the case in old people,) it will be found a valuable remedy.

Children afflicted with skin diseases of the head will find it answer better than any other application whatever; and in cases of bald head, the Ointment induces a healthy action of the scalp, when the hair grows beautifully.

The writer of this has been abroad for 25 years, and during that period he has never failed in one instance in making the most complete cures.

The Ointment and pills may be had at No. 6, Belvoir Terrace, Vauxhall Road, near the toll bar, Pimlico. All orders from the country punctually attended to by addressing A. B. Manson.

A work on the diseases of Children (addressed to Parents and Guardians of Children,) will be published in a few weeks, by a Physician of 25 years' standing, and whose practice has been very extensive amongst the young of both sexes. Also, two Works, one on Yellow Fever and the other on Asiatic Cholera.

The Advertiser has for sale 3,000 acres of fine Land in Nova Scotia, North America. JOHN ADAMSON, M. D.
London, 6 Belvoir Terrace, Vauxhall Road, Pimlico, November 24, 1840.

A CARD.

MR. JACKSON begs leave to tender his sincere acknowledgments to the respectable travelling community in this Province and elsewhere, and more particularly to the Gentlemen of Fredericton and its immediate vicinity, for the kind and liberal support they have afforded him during the time he has conducted his present Establishment in this place. Mr. J. would not wish to make a parade about the principles upon which his Hotel is founded; but it is well known that he by refusing accommodation to any person that may present himself, unless he bears the impress of respectability, deprives himself of a great amount of profit. The grand governing principles of "JACKSON'S HOTEL" is "the accommodation of respectable persons," and the Proprietor flatters himself that this is fully carried out in the detail.

As it is in Mr. J.'s contemplation to close his present line of business the ensuing Spring, and to commence another here, he hopes to receive the patronage of a Community so well acquainted as this is with him; but should he still continue his services to the Public in his present line, he begs them to understand that he will do so upon a larger and improved scale.

H. JACKSON.
Jackson's Hotel, 14th Dec., 1840.

All the Editors of Papers to which Mr. Jackson is a Subscriber will please insert the above.

NOTICE.

THE Subscriber begs to intimate to the Public generally, that owing to his intention of quitting his present line of business in the ensuing Spring, and having on hand a larger stock of choice WINES than he will probably be able to dispose of by retail during the Winter, offers for sale the following Wines at the following prices:—

Old Port, @ 42s. 6d. per dozen.
L. P. Madeira, @ 44s. do.
Brown Sherry, @ 37s. 6d. do.
Claret, @ 40s. 50s. do.
Sautern, @ 45s. do.
Champaign in 1 doz. Baskets, @ 80s. do.
Champaign in 3 doz. Cases, @ 75s. do.

A large quantity of London Porter both in quart and pint bottles.

H. JACKSON.
Jackson's Hotel, 14th Dec., 1840.
