

The President had not arrived on the 8th. She was 27 days out.

The political news is not important either in England or on the Continent, and the arrival gives us, indeed, no news of interest.

It is stated in a letter from Rome on the 23d, that the celebrated Bergami, who figured in the trial of the Queen Caroline, of England, died a few days before, at his villa of Fossombrone.

Public opinion seemed to have settled down with the belief that peace with this country will continue uninterrupted, and the papers are chiefly discussing other subjects.

[From the Globe of the evening of the 7th.]
STEAMSHIP PRESIDENT.

5 1/2 o'clock, P. M. There is no account whatever of the President (or any other ship supposed to be her) since she was last seen by the Orpheus very early on the morning of the 12th ult. I mention this to obviate the many absurd rumors afloat.

Whether the steamer has put into Fayal, returned to New York, or met with a more melancholy destiny, is, at the moment we write, entirely a matter of visionary speculation.

CITY, 12 o'clock. The President steamer has not been heard of, and the greatest alarm prevails regarding her; yesterday insurances upon her were effected as high as 20 per cent. premium, and more will probably be demanded to-day. Beyond the usual mails from the Continent, we have no foreign arrivals, and nothing in the shape of news is stirring.

[From the Shipping Gazette, April 7, evening.]

HALF PAST THREE.—25 per cent. has been paid out of doors on the President, and there is a doubt whether anything less than 30 per cent. would be accepted at Lloyd's. She was first insured at five per cent.

PARIS, April 3. We have received the following letter from Toulon of 30th March:

"Yesterday evening orders were given to the Mediterranean squadron to prepare to put to sea with all speed. A great bustle was immediately in the Port; every exertion was made to deliver to the ship under the command of Rear Admiral Hugon, the articles of which they are in want. At this moment, three ships of the line, the Ocean, bearing Admiral Hugon's flag, the Suffren, and the Scipion, are ready. Only 10 or 12 can be sent to sea, the others being on the coast of Africa under repair to the port.

"The squadron will go to exercise the crews off the Hieron Islands. It seems that this measure has been solicited by Admiral Hugon, in order to give some eclat to the important command which has been confided to him, and which is a real sinecure.—Courier Francais.

ROBBERY AT WINDSOR CASTLE.—The party suspected of being concerned in the depredations of plate at Windsor Castle, has been apprehended. His name is Richard Lovegrove, and it is stated that he has made some extraordinary disclosures, tending to implicate other parties in the well planned system of depredation which must have been long pursued at the Castle.

The Great Western encountered very severe weather, and fell in with large islands of ice. On the 18th from 9, 15 passed several small pieces; blown the engines, and at 9, 30 run into a field of ice extending as far as the eye reach; at 10, 15 succeeded in getting the ships head to the eastward, and at 11 got clear of the field. On the 19th and 20th was completely surrounded by ice.

The Earl and Countess of Roden, accompanied by Lady Maria Jocelyn, are expected to arrive in town early in the ensuing week from Italy, where the noble Earl and Countess have been residing for nearly twelve months, with the intention of being present at the nuptials of their eldest son, Viscount Jocelyn, and Lady Fanny Cowper, youngest daughter of Viscountess Palmerston. We are happy to hear the health of the amiable Countess is completely restored by her residence at Nice and Naples.

The Marquis of Normanby has appointed Major J. G. Burns, the youngest son of the poet, a sub-inspector of factories.

At the Levee, on Thursday last, Captain Douglas, late commander of the Cambridge, merchant ship, was presented to the Queen by Viscount Palmerston, when Her Majesty was graciously pleased to confer on him the honour of knighthood. The case of Capt. Douglas is one of which this great maritime nation may well be proud. He arrived at Singapore the peaceful master of a merchant ship, but hearing there the condition in which Captain Elliott and other British subjects in China were then placed by the oppressive conduct of the Chinese authorities at Canton, he at once got rid of his cargo, purchased some 32 pounds of ammunition, and gallantly set sail for the Canton river; and all this he did entirely on his own personal responsibility. In this short passage from Singapore not a moment was lost in working his willing crew at the guns. He entered the Canton river, cleared for action, and gallantly took his station inside the valuable fleet of British merchant ships there lying at anchor. There happened to be no vessel of war in Canton river at that moment, but Capt. Douglas was alone sufficient to afford protection. He repelled all assaults, but he was unfortunately severely wounded in the attack upon the Chinese junks at Kow-lun, on the 5th September, 1840. Well, when British vessels of war did arrive, it necessarily followed that the gallant mission of Captain Douglas was at an end; but we have not yet done with this Capt. Douglas. On the arrival of the British vessels of war, he fell back into the merchant seaman. We need scarcely add that Captain Douglas has already been reimbursed for the expenses he incurred in the public service, and we sincerely trust that there is truth in the report that both he and his gallant crew have, moreover, received a handsome gratuity from Her Majesty's Government. To Captain Douglas himself has been awarded £2,000; to the first officer, £1,000; to the second, £600; to the third and fourth, each, £500; to the surgeon and purser, each, £400; to the warrant officers, £40 each for those engaged in the action of Kow-lun, and £30 each for those not engaged; to the petty officers, £15 for those engaged, and £10 for those not engaged; to seamen in action, £8, to those not in action, £4; while two seamen who have been severely wounded are allowed £20 each. It is an interesting feature in this affair, that it is the first instance of an officer of a private merchant ship receiving the order of knighthood for his services, although officers in the East India Company's service have been known to receive that distinction.—Observer.

The news from Spain comes down to the 26th ult. On that day the Cortes were constituted, and Arguelles elected their President. The great question of the Regency, whether it is to consist of one regent or three, occupied the members of the Cortes out of doors.

THE EASTERN QUESTION.—We have it in our power to announce, that the French Government has given its adhesion to the new treaty agreed upon in London for the settlement of the East. The signature of the French Charge d'Affaires has not yet been attached to the convention, but the principle of the treaty is admitted and recognised. The main condition of the treaty, relates to the restoration of the command of the Bosphorus and Dardanelles to the ancient usage of the Ottoman Empire, and consequent renunciation of all renewal of the treaty of Unkar Skelessi. The essence of the treaty, is that the isolement of France ceases, and that France is restored to her proper position of equality and amity among the great powers of Europe.—London Morning Herald.

The Chamber of Deputies rejected on Saturday a petition, for restoring the effigy of Napoleon on the cross of the legion of honour, and praying that his family may be allowed to return to France.

The Hospitals of Paris admit and provide for 12,000 old and infirm persons, and receive from 70,000 to 80,000 sick into the hospitals, 4,600 foundlings, support 16,000 at nurse in the country, and apprentice 500,—and in fine, furnish food to more than 30,000 indigent families at their dwellings.

Letters from the Hague, received in Paris on Sabbath, state that the King of Holland was menaced with a most dangerous malady, which would oblige the Legislature to confide the regency of the kingdom to the young Prince of Orange.

According to La Presse, preparations were being made to forward the works of the fortification of Paris with the utmost rapidity. 3000 wheel barrows were ordered, and 30,000 labourers would be engaged, independently of the troops to be employed for the same purpose.

"The Prefect of the Mouths of the Rhone, to the Minister of the Interior.—Anarchists of the lowest description, attempted last night a revolutionary movement. Twelve or fifteen individuals, most of whom were provided with arms and ball-cartridges, have been arrested. Justice has instituted an enquiry. All is perfectly tranquil."

The True Scotsman newspaper, one of the organs of the Chartists, was discontinued on Saturday last. In announcing its end, the editor stated it as a known fact, that no Chartist newspaper published in Scotland was paying itself.

We, (Dublin Evening Mail) are enabled to announce, upon authority—and do so exclusively—that Lord Seaton, late Sir John Colborne, is actually appointed Governor General of India. At a time when our possessions in the East are held by so precarious a tenure, and when our vast territories in that quarter of the globe are threatened by foreign invasion and torn by internal feuds, it is a satisfaction to know that the supreme power has been confided to the keeping of a man of energy and talent, of probity and honour, and one, combining in his own person all the characteristic qualifications of the statesman and the soldier. The following communication reached us this morning:—

"Half-past five, Saturday Evening.

"Lord Seaton—late Sir John Colborne—has been this afternoon offered, and has accepted, the Governor Generalship of India. The offer from Lord Melbourne was, I understand, quite unexpected by the gallant and noble General—and the answer was prompt and decisive. Nothing is known as yet in public of this very creditable appointment, which will first appear in the columns of the Evening Mail.

SCORBUTIC OINTMENT.

THIS OINTMENT is made from a Recipe of the late celebrated Professor, JAMES HAMILTON, of Edinburgh, who was a member of that bright constellation of the Eighteenth century, which illumined the whole Medical World, and, in fact, there is scarcely a Physician of any standing or talent at present who has not been taught by them.

When Dr. Hamilton gave the writer of this his Recipe, he stated that an English Nobleman who had two sons sorely afflicted with ringworm, had sent them to London and put them under many of the most eminent Physicians of that City, without any benefit; he heard of his celebrity, and sent them to Edinburgh, and in a few months he sent them home perfectly sound by the use of the above Ointment.

This excellent Ointment is far superior to anything hitherto used, for those who are afflicted with eruptions of any part of the body, but particularly the young of both sexes, when they arrive at the age of puberty; they are often troubled with eruptions of the face, which are very obstinate of cure. The finest face may be injured and the countenance entirely destroyed by freckles and other skin diseases. The patient has only to use a box of the above Ointment with a box of the pills, to be convinced of the invaluable nature of both. Ladies who are bilious and their faces of a dark or yellow hue, will do well to use the Ointment and pills, as they will invariably turn the complexion to its proper colour and agreeable whiteness.

The above Medicines will never fail in inducing a healthy action of the whole frame, without which no person can enjoy a good state of health; in fact the very lustre of the eye, as also the muscles of the face are lost and destroyed in sickness. The old adage is certainly true "a sound mind in a sound body" is surely preferable to any other situation in life, but to see the young, who shall always be gay and cheerful, suffering, and who cannot often go into company on account of some deformity of the face, is really dreadful in the extreme. In vicers of the lower extremities (which is often the case in old people,) it will be found a valuable remedy.

Children afflicted with skin diseases of the head will find it answer better than any other application whatever; and in cases of bald head, the Ointment induces a healthy action of the scalp, when the hair grows beautifully.

The writer of this has been abroad for 25 years, and during that period he has never failed in one instance in making the most complete cures.

The Ointment and pills may be had at No. 6, Belvoir Terrace, Vauxhall Road, near the toll bar, Pimlico. All orders from the country punctually attended to by addressing A. B. Manson.

A work on the diseases of Children (addressed to Parents and Guardians of Children,) will be published in a few weeks, by a Physician of 25 years' standing, and whose practice has been very extensive amongst the young of both sexes. Also, two Works, one on Yellow Fever and the other on Asiatic Cholera.

The Advertiser has for sale 3,000 acres of fine Land in Nova Scotia, North America.
