

year, exclusively under the management and control of its present proprietor. It was founded by him in conjunction with Dr. Fisher, now Queen's Printer at Quebec, whose classical attainments, general acquaintance with English literature, and fine taste, at once gave it the stamp of superiority. Its steady and continued success since that period is some evidence that subsequent exertions have not been without their effects.

About half of our subscription list consists of American citizens, although we have never severed from our principles. This will evince, perhaps, that we have conducted the journal with some moderation and discretion. It certainly is a proof of the liberality of the American public.

The Albion, with its peculiar characteristics, is an anomaly—but it is an anomaly highly honorable to this country; and to this effect foreigners of distinction have often expressed themselves.

We have expanded our sheet on two or three occasions already; we have moreover introduced the additional attraction of splendid engravings—engravings indeed admitted by competent judges to be equal in value to the whole price of subscription. But this is scarcely sufficient to answer the demand of the public appetite for newspapers and periodicals have of late years so increased in number, size and general contents, as to usurp, in a great degree, the place of books. We have therefore during the last two years found ourselves—ample as our pages are—limited in space, and unable to do justice to the more numerous subjects that now so generally occupy the columns of a public journal. With these considerations then, and with a resolute determination to maintain our position in the foremost rank of the newspapers of the globe, we have resolved to carry into immediate effect, the extensive and expensive augmentation announced above.

The contemplated enlargement will not be a mere expansion of pages; but an addition, as we have stated, of an entire half sheet. The arrangement of the matter too, will be different, and upon a plan entirely new. The novelty will consist in separating the literary and scientific departments from the political and general news—each grand division occupying two different and distinct portions of the journal. The advantages of this plan will be, to enable the reader to select his subjects for perusal, instantly; while the two portions of the sheet can be so readily divided that two persons can avail themselves of it at the same time—the political portion falling to the share of those whose predilections so lead them, while others occupy themselves with the more tranquil and graceful study of the literary part of the banquet. We have devised this plan with reference to, and for the special accommodation of families, by whom our paper is so generally taken, and who are sure will duly appreciate our motives, for it, in fact, constitutes two papers, and secures economy and convenience at the same time.

We have been urged to alter the form and size of the Albion; to this we have special objections. This size has stood the test of twenty years criticism, and a long established and favorite journal should be cautious how it changes its features; few like the change after it is made—no one wishes to see a long valued acquaintance in a state of disguise, or to meet an old friend with a new face. The size we have always thought sufficiently convenient, and, when spread out on the table of the drawing room, is both beautiful and imposing. If it were folded to the octavo size it would be less expensive to us, but the reader would lose all the matter occupied by the additional margins; the external aspect of the paper too, would be mean and stunted, and at first sight would convey an idea that we had reduced its dimensions, rather than enlarged them. We feel sure such a change would disappoint our readers, and we cannot adopt it unless a more general desire be manifested for the alteration.

In conclusion—while we thank a kind and generous public for its favors, and cordially offer the compliments for the season—we devoutly pray for the prosperity of this happy country, invoke for it the protection of that beneficent Providence which guides us all, earnestly supplicate the ruler of events to preserve it in paths of peace with all nations, and avert from it now and for ever that great and terrible calamity, WAR.

We shall continue the Plates, and no addition will be made to the price of subscription, which will be as usual Six dollars per annum, payable in advance. A remittance of Five Dollars will ensure the Plates and a receipt for ten months for the paper.

TO THE SUBSCRIBERS OF THE NEW YORK ALBION.

We feel gratified in being able to announce to our readers, that the following Plates will be presented to them with all the dispatch that can be used with due regard to the execution:—

- PORTRAIT OF WASHINGTON,
- VIEW OF WESTMINSTER ABBEY,
- PORTRAIT OF SIR WALTER SCOTT,
- VIEW OF THE CAPITOL AT WASHINGTON.

Of these, the Portrait of Washington is now in very forward preparation; it will be produced from the burin of the very excellent artist who engraved the Portrait of the Duke of Wellington, already given, and the subject is taken from one of the most admired and approved likenesses of the illustrious original. We confidently expect to have it ready for publication by the latter part of January next, and it will be followed by the other subjects with all possible celerity.

The Plates heretofore issued, and which have continually exhibited progressive improvement in delicacy of execution, will be sufficient warrant for all that shall succeed, and we need scarcely add that we are as desirous to produce excellence in the graphic as in the literary portion of the journal. It is, and has not only a matter of great solicitude to us, but also to select subjects of great and general interest, but also to have them executed in a manner worthy the attention of connoisseurs in art, and we think it is not arrogating too much to say that the Plates of the Albion are in themselves well worth the subscription price of the journal.
