Copies of Dispatches, addressed by Lieutenant General Sir Hugh Gough, K. G. C. B., to Lord Stanley, one of Her Majesty's principal Secretaries of State, of which the following are copies, have been this day received from the Governor General of India in Council:

(Copy.)

To the Right Honourable Lord Stanley, Principal Secretary of State, Colonial Department.

Head Quarters, Woosung, June 18, 1842.

MY LORD,—I have the honor to apprise your Lordship, that the fleet, from various naval causes, which I am persuaded were unavoidable, only reached the anchorage of Woosung, within the bar of the Yang-tse-Keang, on the evening of the 13th instant.

The following morning I proceeded with His Excellency the Naval Commander in Chief to reconnoitre the long line of defences on both sides of the Woosung river, those on the left bank extending from five to six miles of the Yang-tse Keang, while the defences on the right bank consisted of a tower, with flanking batteries on a tongue of land formed by a bend of the river, which here runs from two to three miles parallel to the course of the Yang-tse Keang. The main object, therefore, was the occupation of the left bank with its defences, at the southern extremity of which the village of Woosung is situated, while the walls of Paonshaw appear a short distance in rear of the embankments, on which the embrasures are constructed, about two miles from its termination to the north west.

We had failed to obtain satisfactory information as to the points of debarkation; one of the principal objects, therefore, of this reconnaissance, was to establish the practicability of landing, so as to turn the defences; one point alone seemed adapted for this purpose, about half way between Paonshaw and Woosung, unless we were to effect a landing some miles up the Yang-tse-Keang, in which case it would be necessary to take Paonshaw before we could co-operate with the Navy. It was therefore determined that this supposed landing place should be examined during the night, and that if not found practicable, the ships of war should silence the batteries that covered the regular landing place near the village of Woosung, when the troops should land from the steamers, which, after towing in the ships of war, were to return for them to the transports.

During the night Commanders Kellett and Collinson sounded along the shore, and reported that the water shoaled to three feet about 200 yards from the banks, and that boats could not approach to land troops any where near the spot proposed. It was then decided to resort to the alternative already mentioned.

The 15th was employed in examining and sounding the entrance into the Woosung river, and six o'clock on the morning of the 16th, the ships of war were towed in shore by the steamers, under heavy, and for the Chinese, well directed fire, not returning a shot until each ship had taken her appointed station, when they opened a fire that must have appalled the enemy (though he was not entirely silenced for a considerable time). The details of this very animating scene will no doubt be fully reported by His Excellency Sir William Parker, together with the deviation from our preconcerted plan of operation, occasioned by the steamers having a grounded, except the small steamer Medusa. The troops were thus prevented from participating with their gallant comrades of the navy in occupying the river line of batteries, which were by half-past o'clock in possession of the naval force.

The troops were not landed until twelve o'clock, when having understood that a portion of the enemy, said to be about 1,500 men, had retreated on Paonshaw, I immediately moved on the town in two columns, having directed Major General Schoedde to move his brigade in rear of the place, so as to intercept the Governor of the Province, who was reported to be in that town. Upon reaching it by the sea-line, I found it was in possession of Major General Schoedde's brigade, who had entered it without opposition from the rear, the Chinese troops and the greater part of the population having fled when they found their retreat likely to be cut off leaving every thing behind them, with about fifty guns, seventeen of which were brass.

The enemy's force consisted of 4000 to 5000 men, under Admiral Chin, who fell in the batteries, in which from forty to fifty dead bodies were found. A portion of this force is stated to have fallen back upon a city within ten miles of Paonshaw, and disbanded themselves; the remainder with the Governor had fled to Soochow. We have taken altogether at Woosung and Paonshaw about 2000 guns, with quantities of powder, shot, gingals and other munition.
