ADDITIONAL ARTICLE.

Whereas by Article IX. of the Treaty of Amity, Commerce, and Navigation, concluded and signed this day between Her Britannick Majesty and the Oriental Republick of the Uruguay, it is stipulated that the subjects of Her Britannick Majesty, residing in the said Republick, shall not be compelled, under any pretext whatsoever, to pay any charges, requisitions, or taxes, greater than those which are or may be paid by native citizens; and whereas, by a law of the Oriental Republick of the Uruguay, a foreigner pays for the license to open a shop, or other establishment included in the provisions of the said law, a sum greater than that which is paid by a native citizen: Her Britannick Majesty engages, notwithstanding the provisions of the above-mentioned Article, not to insist upon the abolition of this distinction, so long as it exists impartially with regard to the subjects or citizens of every other foreign nation.

And His Excellency the President of the Oriental Republick of the Uruguay engages, on his part, that if at any future time, the amount payable by British subjects for such license should be increased, a corresponding increase shall at the same time be made in the sum payable by native citizens of the Republick; so that the proportion between the sum payable by British subjects and the sum payable by citizens of the Oriental Republic of the Uruguay, respectively, shall never be altered to the prejudice of British subjects.

The present Additional Article shall have the same force and validity as if it were inserted, word for word, in the Treaty signed this day. It shall be ratified, and the ratifications shall be exchanged at the same time.

In witness whereof, the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed the same, and have affixed thereto their respective Seals.

SECOND ADDITIONAL ARTICLE.

Whereas a strict and immediate execution of that part of Article VI. of the Treaty of Amity, Commerce, and Navigation, signed at London on the 26th of August, 1842, between Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and the Oriental Republick of the Uruguay, which stipulates that a ship must have been actually built within the territory of the Oriental Republick of the Uruguay, to be considered a ship of that Republick, would, in the present state of Uruguay shipping, deprive the Republick of the full advantage of the reciprocity intended to be established by the Treaty; it is agreed that, for the space of seven years from the date of the exchange of the ratifications of the said Treaty, any ships, wheresoever built, being owned, navigated, and registered in conformity with the provisions of Article VI. of the Treaty, shall be considered as ships of the Oriental Republick of the Uruguay: Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland reserving to herself the right to claim, at the end of the said term of seven years, the strict enforcement of all the stipulations contained in the said Article of the Treaty, relative to the conditions which are to determine the national character of vessels of the Oriental Republic of the Uruguay.

The present Additional Article shall have the same force and validity as if it had been inserted word for word, in the aforesaid Treaty of the 26th of August, 1842. It shall be ratified, and the ratifications shall be exchanged at the same time and place as those of the Treaty.
