ARRIVAL OF THE FIRST SEPTEMBER MAIL.

Halifax, September 16.

The Royal Mail Steamship Cambria, arrived this morning from Liverpool, 11½ days. She brought 127 passengers, 18 for Halifax. The Cambria sailed at again 1 o'clock for Boston.

The following summary of news is gleaned from the European Times of September 4.

MEXICO AND THE UNITED STATES.

A debate took place in the House of Commons on Monday the 24th August, on the subject of Mexico and the United States. Lord Geo. Bentinck called attention to it by remarking that Great Britain had a great interest in Mexico, the annual exports to it amounting to £500,000 a year—British capital invested in its mines to at least £10,000,000—and the public debt to England to nearly as much more. In the conquest of Mexico by the United States, he feared the British debt in Mexico would follow the same fate as the debt of the United States. He strongly urged a firm and earnest mediation on the part of Great Britain—spoke of the unjustifiable aggression of the United States upon Mexico, their desire to annex California—and called upon Lord Palmerston to explain the existing state of our relations with Mexico. He concluded by asking Lord Palmerston what was the true state of the case with regard to an offer of mediation said to have been made as late as June last, on the part of England to the Government of the United States.

Viscount Palmerston replied that the offer of mediation had been made as stated by the Minister, but that the relations of Great Britain with the United States at that time did not place the former in that position of unbiassed impartiality which befitted the character of a mediator, and the Government of the United States did not think it proper to express any wish upon the subject. As however the Oregon question was now settled, he had instructed Mr. Pakenham again to renew the offer of mediator in a shape that shall require an answer from the United States. A corresponding communication had also been made to the Government of Mexico.

The above with some conclusions in favor of free trade, is all that was elicited from Her Majesty's Ministers on the Mexican question.
