Extracts from English Papers.

The great Council of the British Empire has assembled, and although the time has been short since the commencement of their deliberations, much business that is important, in a commercial point of view, has been transacted. The three principal measures being the entire remission of the Corn Duty, the suspension of the Navigation Laws, and the proposed admission of the use of Sugar into breweries and distilleries. These have already exercised an important influence in our markets for home, foreign and colonial produce. An enormous business has been done in Sugar during the fortnight.

All the old party landmarks has disappeared under the influence of the calamity which has overtaken Ireland. The Protectionist leaders were found sailing in the same boat with the Ministerial party, and the members of the late Government appeared to coincide with all that was said and all that is to be done.

On Tuesday the Royal assent was given to the Corn and Navigation Bills.

The most important article of commerce, in almost every port in Europe, at the present time, is that of Bread-stuffs. Our report, published for the departure of the Sarah Sands, on the 20th ultimo, left the two chief markets in England—Liverpool and London—with a downward tendency in prices, and the operations by consumers and speculators much more limited. Since that day the imports have been very extensive, and, although large sales have been made, the stock of Flour in Liverpool alone, is estimated at 500,000 barrels, with a corresponding stock of Grain. There is a prevailing opinion that the British corn growers hold large stocks, which, with the temporary suspension of the Navigation Laws, and the repeal of the import duty, tend to check speculation, and will, it is assumed, produce a re-action both in prices and also in the extent of future operations. This action was felt in London, on Monday the 1st, where Wheat declined from 4s. to 5s. per quarter; at Liverpool, on the following day, prices were 4s. per quarter lower on Indian Corn; 4s. per barrel on Flour; 2s. per load on Meal.—Willmer and Smith.

PRICE OF GRAIN.—In England and Ireland there continues to be a 'lull.' The downward process we noticed last week goes on. In London, on Monday, Wheat receded 4s. and in some cases 5s. per quarter. A proportionate fall is observable in most of the large English markets. In Liverpool Wheat was sold on the 3d Feb. at a decline of 4d. to 6d. per bushel, and Flour at 2s. 6d. per sack and barrel less than last week. Western Canal Flour, which was selling on the 19th of Jan. at 43s. per barrel, is now selling at 38s. 6d. But the most striking fall is in the Irish markets. In Dublin Wheat and Oats have fallen 2s. per barrel, Oatmeal 1s. and Flour 6d. per cwt. below last week's prices. Altogether, there is such an aspect in England as indicates lower prices and healthier trade.

A letter from Mullingar communicates the gratifying announcement that at the market held there on Wednesday, Oats, which that day week fetched 25s. to 27s. were sold at 18s. per barrel, while a corresponding reduction took place in the rate of Meal—namely, from 27s. to 28s. per cwt. to 20s. and speculators very tardy in effecting purchases.

Steam-ship building on the Clyde is at present in an enterprising state. Besides the Simoon war ship of 1,000 horse-power, and nearly as large as the ill-fated Great Britain, the Glasgow Citizen enumerates about twenty other steam vessels, principally intended for mercantile purposes, which are at present in the course of construction in the different building ports of the Clyde.
