SPURDEN, Secretary.

It has become our melancholy duty to announce the death of the Honorable Hugh Johnston, who died this morning at half past seven o'clock.—This lamented gentleman arrived in town about twelve days since from Fredericton, where he had been attending to his Legislative duties.—His health has been declining for some months past, and his symptoms, shortly after his arrival in this city, convinced his medical attendants that his disease must soon terminate fatally.—Mr. Johnston was aware of his rapidly approaching dissolution, and although suffering severely from his disease, he was patient and resigned.—In the death of Mr. Johnston, New Brunswick has to deplore the loss of a man, whom, as a Legislator and a Citizen, it can ill afford to spare, and whose honorable and independent services in the House of Assembly and in the Legislative and Executive Councils, gained for him universal esteem, to which he was justly entitled.—We sincerely sympathize with his bereaved family; and although we know that human sympathy is unavailing in such deep affliction, still it must afford them some consolation, that his Country mingles its regrets with the tears they shed for a husband and a parent.—St. John Courier.

Died,

At St. John, on Saturday morning last, the Honorable HUGH JOHNSTON, M. L. C., aged 60 years. Mr. J. was the fifth son of the late Hugh Johnston, Esquire, and was born at Grimross Neck, Queen's County.
