Gentlemen,—

I thank you for your Address, and for your welcome to this extensive and fertile division of the Province.

It is satisfactory to me to learn that the inhabitants of this County, bearing as it does the name of the Sovereign, are animated by and entertain a loyal attachment to Her Person and Throne—appreciate at its true value their connection with the Mother Country—and fondly cherish the privileges which as Britons they enjoy.

In every part of the Province which I have visited, I have received assurances of a similar nature, proffered with similar sincerity. You may rest assured that these sentiments are appreciated by the Queen and the people of England, and that, whatever may be said to the contrary, you may, if you remain true to yourselves, rely with confidence upon the hearty support of your fellow-subjects in Great Britain in the hour of need.

I rejoice to perceive everywhere the signs of an abundant harvest, and I deem myself fortunate in visiting this County at a period when its agricultural resources are so well displayed.

From the Magistrates and other Inhabitants of Edmundston, and the upper section of the County of Victoria.

To His Excellency The Honorable Arthur Hamilton Gordon, C.M.G. Lieutenant Governor and Commander in Chief of the Province of New Brunswick, &c. &c. &c.

May it please Your Excellency,

We, the Magistrates and other inhabitants of Edmundston, and the upper section of the County of Victoria, beg to offer Your Excellency, on this your first official visit amongst us, a cordial and hearty welcome; and at the same time assure Your Excellency that we hail with pleasure the arrival of the Representative of our beloved Queen, affording us as it does an opportunity of expressing our sincere loyalty and attachment to the British Crown.

We feel assured from the interest taken by Your Excellency in visiting other portions of the Province, that Victoria will receive a due share of attention.

Although at present suffering from the depression of the Lumber Trade, and stagnation of business caused by the unfortunate Civil War now raging in the neighbouring Republic, we cannot but feel thankful to an all-wise Providence for the promising aspect of a plentiful harvest.

We trust that Your Excellency's tour in Canada may not only prove satisfactory and pleasant to yourself, but at the same time tend to the general welfare of the Province.

In conclusion we wish Your Excellency a safe return to your government.

Gentlemen,—

I receive your Address with pleasure, and thank you for your kindly greeting.

I acknowledge and appreciate your expressions of loyal devotion to the Queen, and I am aware that, among the inhabitants of a loyal Province, the people of this District have ever been eminently distinguished for their attachment to the British Crown.

I rejoice to perceive on all sides the signs of an abundant harvest, which I trust will materially alleviate the suffering caused among us by the Civil War in the United States, and the consequent depression of trade.

I thank you for your kind wishes with respect to myself, and assure you that I have much gratification in visiting, for the first time, this flourishing portion of the Province which has been committed to my care.
