

timber, logs, masts, spars and other lumber which may float down said Jacquet River, and for the purpose of rafting the same, and separating therefrom all timber, logs, masts, spars and other lumber belonging to the said James P. Doyle, James S. Morse, and Robert Moffatt, from the logs and lumber belonging to other parties.

2. The Boom or Booms shall be so constructed as to admit the passage of rafts and boats, and to preserve the navigation of the said river.

3. It shall be the duty of the said James P. Doyle, James S. Morse, and Robert Moffatt, to cause the passage-ways or open space in the said Boom to be carefully guarded, so that no lumber may be permitted to escape; and if the owner or owners of any timber, logs, masts, spars or other lumber do not wish the said parties above named to raft their timber, logs, masts, spars or other lumber, it shall be the duty of the owner or owners thereof to raft and take said timber out of said Boom on getting notice from any of the persons named in the first Section so to do, such notice to be in writing and served on the owner or owners, his or their agent; but in case the owner or owners of such timber, logs, masts, spars or other lumber permit the same to remain in the said Boom for three days after such notice as aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the said parties in the first section of this Act mentioned to raft the said timber, logs, spars, masts and any other lumber safely and securely in joints with all reasonable dispatch, and to secure the same below the Boom twenty four hours; and if the owner or owners on the expiration of the term last aforesaid, have not removed or taken charge of the same by putting his or their ropes or fasts thereon, the said parties above named may remove or secure the same in some convenient place, and the owner or owners shall pay such expenses as may be incurred in the removal and securing the same; and should any person suffer loss in consequence of the neglect or carelessness of the said persons named in the first Section of this Act, their agent, or workmen, the said parties above named shall be accountable for such loss, but the said parties above named shall not be bound to drive any timber, logs or other lumber into the said Boom which shall be a greater distance than one mile above the Boom aground above it.

4. If any person or persons shall wilfully injure or destroy the said Boom or any part thereof, or any pier, chain or fastening connected therewith, such person or persons so offending shall upon conviction thereof before any two of Her Majesty's Justices of the Peace for the County of Restigouche, forfeit and pay a sum not exceeding forty dollars with costs of prosecution, to be levied by any constable of the said County by warrant of distress and sale of the offender's goods and chattels, and in default of goods and chattels whereon to levy, the said warrant shall direct the said constable to commit the said offender or offenders to the common gaol of the said County, there to remain without bail for such period as in the said warrant may be specified, not exceeding thirty days.

5. There shall be allowed to the said James P. Doyle, James S. Morse, and Robert Moffatt, a toll or boomage upon all square timber thus boomed of five cents per ton, and for rafting and securing the same as aforesaid, the sum of ten cents additional, and the sum of ten cents per thousand superficial feet for the boomage of all logs and other lumber, and the sum of forty cents per thousand feet superficial additional, for rafting and securing the same, as aforesaid, and the said James P. Doyle, James S. Morse and Robert Moffatt shall have a lien upon all timber, logs, masts, spars and other lumber thus boomed or rafted, for the payment of all such tolls or boomage and other expenses; and the person or persons owning such timber, logs, masts, spars and other lumber shall furnish to the before named parties, their agent, or boom-master, a proper and correct description of his or their several marks, before the same comes into the Boom; the said before named parties shall not be bound to secure or take care of any timber or lumber until the marks are so furnished.

6. All timber, logs or other lumber floating into or against the said Boom, upon which no marks are found, and for which no owner appears, shall be sold by the said parties above named by public auction, after ten days' notice of the time and place of such sale, posted in three public places in the Parish where the said Boom is erected and established, and the proceeds thereof to be appropriated, after payment of boomage, rafting, and expenses of sale, among the owners of the timber, logs and other lumber secured in and by the said Boom the same season, in proportion to the quantity owned by them respectively.

7. All the rights, powers and privileges given by this Act to and vested in the said James P. Doyle, James S. Morse, and Robert Moffatt, and all the duties and liabilities by this Act imposed upon them, shall vest in and attach to their heirs and assigns, as fully and effectually in all respects as the same are vested in and attached to the said James P. Doyle, James S. Morse, and Robert Moffatt; provided that this Act shall continue and be in force for ten years and no longer.
