

Professing the most devoted loyalty and attachment to the Government of our beloved Sovereign, we have been gratified to observe that these generous feelings have been warmed and animated in the breasts of all our Members, by the reflection that the Benevolent Irish Society has enjoyed, equally with others, the favourable consideration of His Majesty's Representative.

Disinterested benevolence, evinced in a desire to alleviate the distress, and to promote the comfort of the people of New-Brunswick, has most conspicuously characterized your Excellency's Administration: And the beneficent acts of Lady Douglas, during her residence among us, will cause her name to be long and gratefully remembered by the poor of this vicinity, who always found in Her Ladyship, a compassionate and constant friend.

While we congratulate your Excellency on the success of many public measures which have proved highly beneficial to the Province, and while we deplore, even the temporary absence of a Governor endeared to us by his public and private worth; we cannot but felicitate ourselves upon the fortunate selection which has been made by His Majesty's Government, for the investigation of a question in which we are deeply concerned, of a Personage who has the fullest acquaintance with the subject, and our best interests so much at heart.

In conclusion, we beg to assure your Excellency, that our best wishes for your happiness shall ever attend you, and that our most devout aspirations shall ascend to the Throne of Grace, that the Almighty Arm of God may shield you from the perils of the trackless deep, and conduct you in health and safety to the bosom of your family, and the merited approbation of our August Sovereign.

To which His Excellency was pleased to make the following reply.

To the President and Members of the Fredericton Society of Saint Patrick.

GENTLEMEN,

I Thank you for the sentiments and good wishes expressed in this Address.

I have had much pleasure in becoming Patron of the St. Patrick's Society in Fredericton; and, in promoting the benevolent designs of your Institution for the relief of the indigent and the afflicted, it gives me great satisfaction to learn from you, that my countenance and support of your Society have been useful. Though not connected with Ireland, yet, in the Public Station I hold, I have always felt that, equally with others, the distressed and indigent of that country, have just claims on my consideration and benevolence, in my general desire to alleviate the distress, and promote the comfort of the People of New-Brunswick.

The dates by the English Mail are only a day or two later than those previously received via New-York, and do not appear to contain any material additions. The European intelligence, however, which will be found in this impression, is of an important nature; and the extracts we have made from the Albion, under the American date, will be found to comment upon the chief subjects in an able manner. The flourishing state of the Revenue will be noticed with satisfaction.

We are happy to understand that very gratifying accounts from Lady Douglas and Family, were received by the last Mail. Her Ladyship and Family were in the enjoyment of excellent health.

A sumptuous entertainment was given to His Excellency Sir HOWARD DOUGLAS, in this Town, on the 9th ult., by the Members of His Majesty's Council, the Magistrates, and principal Gentlemen of Fredericton, and its immediate vicinity, and a number of other Gentlemen from various parts of the Province then present at the Seat of Government; under the expectation of His Excellency's immediate departure. After the usual patriotic Toasts, the Health of their illustrious Guest, His Excellency Sir Howard Douglas, was proposed in terms suitable to the occasion, and drank with enthusiasm; the Health of Lady Douglas and Family; the Lord Bishop of Nova Scotia, &c. &c. &c. This occurrence could not appropriately have been noticed at an earlier date, under the circumstances which unexpectedly succeeded; and the time which has since elapsed precludes us now from adding any other remark, than that the several Toasts were replied to in due terms, and in unison with the interesting occasion.

The Alms House in Saint John, was destroyed by fire on the 5th instant.

The violent storm of Friday last, has completely broken up the travelling in this part of the country, there being not less than four or five feet of snow on a level, and where it has drifted, in many places ten or twelve feet. The eastern mail, at 10 o'clock this morning, will have been due 48 hours.—Saint Andrews Herald, March 9.

DEATH OF BISHOP STANSER.

On the 23rd instant, suddenly, at his residence in Hampton, the Right Rev. Robert Stanser, D. D., formerly of St. John's College, Cambridge, in the 69th year of his age.

Dr. Stanser, after nearly 30 years of laborious services as a missionary from the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, in the Province of Nova Scotia, North America, was consecrated in the year 1816, Bishop for the Province, at the urgent and unanimous desire of the whole community. The highest and lowest, churchmen and dissenters, on that occasion, were all anxious to testify to his worth, and to evince their affection for him. But short, indeed, was the period allowed him for exertion in the high station he was chosen to fill; for the disease contracted in a severe climate from exposure and fatigue, under circumstances very far different from those now in existence, began too soon to prey upon his frame, and render him incapable of attending to his arduous charge; in consequence of which, His Gracious Majesty, in 1825, was pleased to allow him to retire; and in humble seclusion has he lived to this period. Devoid altogether of pride, possessing a benevolent heart, of endearing and affectionate manners, it is but due to this good man to let the world know he lived beloved and respected, and has died sincerely lamented.—London Paper.
