MISS WHITWELL.

RESPECTFULLY requests to announce to the public, that her School for the Education of young Ladies, will re-open on Monday the twenty-sixth of July.

Terms:—Daily Pupils from four to eight dollars per quarter. Boarders, Thirty Pounds per annum.

A quarterly notice is requested previous to each young Lady leaving the school.

Miss W. begs to take this opportunity of returning her sincere thanks to those parents and friends, who have kindly given her their sanction and support, she hopes by an assiduous and conscientious discharge of the important duties she takes upon herself, to merit a continuance of their approbation. It has been Miss Whitwell's anxious care, to train up her pupils, to a knowledge and application of those just principles, which, under the unerring guidance of religion, are best calculated to insure their temporal and future happiness; and to cultivate in their young minds, a taste for the graceful and mental acquisitions, which adorn society; and add much to the attractions of home, and are now become necessary to the completion of every young Lady's education.

Of these two leading objects Miss W. has laid the foundation of her present system, which she trusts, study and experience might mature into general usefulness.

Masters will be procured in each polite branch when a sufficient number of pupils are obtained.
