crew of robbers.
But can England be seriously invited to rally to such a standard, and to imitate and consecrate the principles which flourished under it? God forbid!
But the truth must be spoken; many are now at work in the same manner as they worked in the year 1793, and it is against such people that we desire to guard the unwary. One effectual way will be, that Government, should give no occasion to popular discontent. We truly hope, bad as have been the fruits of this liberty and social order under it; France may enjoy it. We wish her every good, but we much doubt it. We wish her every good, in the way of liberty, public peace, and happiness; but we augur no good result from this standard.

SCOTLAND.
On the evening of Monday last, the Rev. Dr.
Burns of Paisley preached a very able and eloquent discourse, in Greyfriars Church of this city, in behalf of the North American Colonial Society—an institution than which there is not, among the majority of religious and benevolent Associations which grace our land, one more important, or more truly deserving the support of the Christian public. It is well known that the circumstances of the times have of late years compelled thousands of our countrymen to seek a haven and a home, beyond the "Western wave," and of all the sacrifices made by our ex-patriated brethren in thus leaving the land of their father, we may be assured, there is none that will be felt by them with a keener or more enduring pang than their deprivation of the public ordinances of its pure and holy faith. This has been frequently and most affectingly expressed by many of the emigrants now settled in the provinces of British America, who, it cannot be denied, next to those who remain at home, have a claim upon our christian sympathy, and is all but irresistible. It is to meet this claim that some few years ago the Glasgow Colonial Society was first established. It has done much to supply the means of religious knowledge and instruction to the settlers in these Colonies, by selecting and sending out Clergymen of the Church of Scotland; but much yet remains to be done; and many important stations in that almost boundless tract of which demand our serious and immediate attention. Under this impression, we have observed with pleasure the institution of a society in this place auxiliary to that of Glasgow. The principles upon which it is founded, and the object it has in view were fully narrated in our last, and they are such as can need no argument of ours to commend them to the cordial good wishes, and active support of a benevolent public.

STONEHAVEN.—On Friday se'night, the inhabitants of Stonehaven were much gratified by the ascent of a magnificent balloon, prepared by the joint labours of the most eminent savans of that place.
It ascended from the schoolmaster's garden, amidst the shouts of the whole population, who crowded the neighbouring heights, and after sailing through "heaven's blue sea" for the space of half an hour, it descended on the top of a hill in the southern part of the parish of Dunnottar. It is not yet known whether it ascended quite so high as the Editor of the Literary Journal did on a late occasion, but its appearance as it descended seemed, to some labourers who were at work in the neighbourhood, to be sufficiently unearthly. We are told that after gazing at it, as it came nearer and nearer, at first with wonder and then with dismay, they at last with one accord fled on the wings of terror, to a neighbouring ditch, in the hope that the terrible monster would thus pass over without observing them. In would thus be so far right. But as it alighted at but a short distance from them, and seemed, by its incessant and vigorous hopping, to be too watchful for affording them any change of escape, there is no saying how long they might have thus that held in "durance vile," had not a dog, which they at last succeeded in bounding at it from their place of concealment, and put an end to its alarming gambols by tearing it to pieces, to the great mortification of the learned men of Stonehaven whose messengers, despatched to bring back the balloon for another voyage, were in time only to receive its mutilated remains.

CRAIL.—Capture of a Shark.—On Saturday the 4th inst one of the small boats belonging to this town, (with only one man on board), on going off to sea, observed a large sea monster, which at first sight he took for a small whale. The fish had been sickly at the time, and upon being struck with a small clip, nearly took board, man, and clip after it. The fisherman, after recovering from his fright, made all despatch for land; and immediately reported to the men of the coast guard the account of this wonderful phenomenon, who instantly proceeded to sea in search of what he called "a great sea monster." In a short time they fell in with it, and with a good deal of difficulty, brought it on shore. It turned out to be a large shark apparently sick. It measured 10 1/2 feet in length, and 4 1/2 round the thickest part of the body.
Its mouth, when open, was about 15 inches square, with six rows of teeth in the upper jaw, and two in the lower. On opening it, the liver was found to be of an enormous size, and required a large tub to contain it. A great number of people have been to see this monster of the deep.—Fife Herald.

COUNTRY CIRCUITS.—The proceedings of the Circuit Court of Justice in Glasgow were concluded on Friday; there were five cases of murder tried two of incest, and exposing a child, and one of rape, there were 46 cases in all. One man has been sentenced to be executed for the murder of his wife; one person to be transported for life, 16 are to be transported fourteen years, and 17 for seven years.

EXTRAORDINARY DISPATCH.—This morning, just as the Iron Church of Glasgow struck the hour of six, two stage coaches belonging to rival proprietors started for this city; one was full inside and outside, and the other had a fair complement of passengers. The horses being of the best description, and the roads in excellent order, the passengers were safely set down in Prince's-street this forenoon at 18 minutes before ten o'clock, the coaches having performed the journey of 44 miles in 3 hours and 42 minutes. As most of the passengers were men in business, they disregarded the peril, and were highly delighted with the saving of time by the extraordinary speed with which the journey was accomplished.—Scotman.

THE DUKE OF BUCKLEIGH.—His Grace has received an accession of £370,000 to his enormous fortune, by a decision of the Court of Chancery, which assigns him, as residuary legatee of the Duke of Queensberry, the accumulations of the personal estates of that nobleman, after principal and interest of the legacies had been paid.

SINGULAR FACT.—A very strange and seemingly unaccountable circumstance happened at Falkirk on the midnight following the late thunder storm.
A respectable person belonging to Falkirk, accompanied by his son and another man, had to see some passengers by the Union Canal passage-boat. They were standing at the north end of the tunnel looking towards the canal about one o'clock, A. M., when flashes of lightning were still illuminating the heavens, and thunder was growling at a distance.
Without the least consciousness of any cause by himself, and nothing being seen or felt by his companions, the person above mentioned was suddenly lifted from his feet and precipitated into the water, in which he immediately found himself, heels uppermost. By considerable exertions he was caught hold of and drawn out, but was at first scarcely able to walk, and is still lame of one leg. It is remarkable that it was unseen by the others close by him, and that it should have made the sufferer himself lose all recollection.

NETHERLANDS.
EXTRAORDINARY MEETING OF THE STATES-GENERAL.
The extraordinary sitting of the States General was opened at the Hague on the 18th of September.
The following is the King's Speech.
HIGH AND MIGHTY LORDS.—The extraordinary meeting of your High Mightinesses which I this day open, is, by the pressure of afflicting events, become an imperative necessity.
In peace and friendship with all the nations in Europe, the Netherlands saw also the war in their colonial possessions happily ended. Peacefully they flourished—by order, commerce, and industry. I employed myself with the care of lightening the burdens of the people, and in the home department gradually in bringing into action the improvements which experience had pointed out—when suddenly Brussels, and following her example, several other places in the kingdom, burst into rebellion, marked by scenes of conflagration and plunder of which the description to this assembly would be too afflicting for my heart, for the national feeling, and for humanity.
In the expectation of the co-operation of your high Mightinesses, whose assembling was my first thought, every measure depended on me was taken without delay to stop the course of the evil—to protect the good intentioned from the bad—and to save the Netherlands from civil war.
To enter into the nature and origin of that which has taken place—to examine your High Mightinesses its true character, its tendency and probable consequences—are less the interest of our country at this moment than to find the means by which the peace and order of the Government and laws may not only be temporarily renewed, but much more durably fixed.
But in the midst of the conflict of opinions, the ex-citation of passions, and the different views and interests which arise, it is a very difficult task, high and mighty Lords, to reconcile my wishes for the happiness of all my subjects with the obligations which I have contracted towards all, and which I have consecrated by the obligation of oaths. I invoke then all your wisdom—all your deliberation—all your firmness—all order—that being strengthened by the consent of the Representatives of the nation I may take, in concert with them, the measures which the safety of the country requires.
In more than one quarter an opinion has been manifested that, to attain this object, it would be desirable to proceed to a revision of the fundamental law, and even to a separation of the provinces which treaties and the Constitution have united.
This question, nevertheless, cannot be resolved except in the forms prescribed by the same fundamental law, which we have solemnly sworn to observe.
It will be the principal object of the deliberation of your High Mightinesses. I desire that your opinions may be formed, and that they may also be manifested with that calmness and perfect freedom which a question of so much importance requires.
For my part, animated above all other sentiments, by a desire to ensure the happiness of the Belgians, whom Providence has confided to my care, I am ready to concur with this Assembly in any measure likely to lead to it.
This meeting has also for its object to acquaint you that circumstances imperiously require that the Militia should remain embodied beyond the time during which, by the terms of the fundamental law, it ought to be annually exercised in arms.
The means of providing for the expenses which will result from this measure, and many others arising out of these late troubles, will be found for the present in the credit already opened. Its regulations, shall be submitted to your deliberations in the next ordinary Session.
Noble and Mighty Lords—I rely upon your fidelity and patriotism.
Exposed before to-day to the tempest of the revolution, I shall neither forget the courage, the attachment, and the fidelity, which threw off the foreign yoke, re-established the national existence, and placed the sceptre in my hands, nor the valor which upon the field of battle, has secured the throne, and consolidated the independence of the country.
Though entirely disposed to comply with reasonable desires, I will grant nothing to a spirit of faction, and will never consent to measures which would sacrifice the interests and prosperity of the nation to passion or violence.
To conciliate, if it be possible, every interest, is the sole wish of my heart.
From the Hague Extraordinary Court.
Never on such occasion did the King and Prince of Orange receive more marks of attention and respect by the innumerable multitude, on their way from the Palace to the States-General, as well as on their return.
In the Hall a great number of Members, and the people, when the King, on the conclusion of his Speech, descended from the throne, also manifested the greatest enthusiasm.
The King and the Prince left the Hall amidst an interrupted cry of "Long live the King!" and "Long live the Prince of Orange!" After this, a Royal Message was read, in which his Majesty submits two questions to the consideration of the Chamber, namely—"Whether, experience had shown the necessity of revising the fundamental law?"
"Whether, in that case, the relations established by treaties, and by the fundamental law, between the two great divisions of the Kingdom, for the promotion of their common interests, require to be altered in their form or their nature." Juan Van Halen, who is now Commander-in-chief of Brussels, is a Spaniard by birth, but of Belgic origin. He was exiled from Spain on account of his political opinions. He is Quiroga's brother-in-law. After the fall of the constitution, in the establishment of which he was Quiroga's associate, he entered into the Russian service, and was with the Russian army in the Georgian campaign. Most people have heard of his book, or read it, detailing his detention in the prisons of the inquisition, and his adventures in making his escape. The Ramon steam-boat which brought the news of his appointment as Military Governor of Brussels, was named after the virtuous and intrepid female by whose assistance he effected his escape.

BRITISH AMERICA.
LOWER-CANADA.
QUEBEC, OCT. 21.
Yesterday at three o'clock, His Excellency the Lord Aylmer was sworn in Administrator of the Government of the Province of Lower-Canada, with the usual ceremonies. A salute was fired from the Cape, by a detachment of Royal Artillery, in honor of the occasion.
At four o'clock His Excellency Sir James Kempt left the Chateau, for embarkation in H. M. Yacht Herald, for Portsmouth, having previously given over the command of the Forces to Lieutenant General Lord Aylmer, and taken leave of the Troops in Garrison in a General Order published the day before.

Sir James was saluted on leaving the Chateau by a guard of honor consisting of the Grenadier Company of the 15th Regiment, with the Regimental Color and Band. He rode through the Lower Town at the head of a splendid cortege composed of the Staff, and mounted Officers of the Garrison, and accompanied by His Excellency Lord Aylmer, to the King's Wharf, where another guard of honor of the 24th Regiment was stationed to receive, and pay him the accustomed honors. On His Excellency leaving the King's Wharf, he was several times cheered by the assembled multitude—a Salute was fired from Cape Diamond—the yards of the Herald were manned—and on reaching the Yacht, the Salute from the Cape was returned by the guns of His Majesty's Ship.
The day was fine, until after four o'clock, and the scene altogether attracted a great concourse of people.
One of the circumstances attending the ceremonies of the day deserves mention, as having been highly gratifying to the numerous assemblage.
The new Bells, belonging to the English Cathedral, and which have been lately hung in the Belfry, were for the first time set in motion, and at the moment when the present Administrator of the Government was sworn in and rung a merry peal. The Guns were afterwards fired in honor of the occasion.
To all accustomed to the sound of chimes, the association must have been highly pleasing. Reminiscences of one's native land forcibly strike us, more especially when connected with religious ceremonies; and we feel much pleasure in congratulating the subscribers to the erection of these Bells, on the successful issue of their praiseworthy exertions.
The Bells have been hung under the direction of Mr. B. Cole of this City; the frame-work is admirably constructed, and reflects great credit on the ingenuity of that individual. It is expected that the remaining work will be completed in time to chime them previous to the morning service on Sunday next.
H. M. Yacht Herald, Capt. Maxwell, sailed this morning about 8 o'clock for Portsmouth, with His Excellency Sir James Kempt, G. C. B. Lieutenant Colonels Couper and Yorke.
THE EARL OF DALHOUSIE.
With reference to the paragraph in the last Gazette copied from the Montreal Herald, containing an unfavorable account of His Lordship's health, we have the pleasure of stating that a letter written by the Earl, since the attack spoken of by the Herald's correspondent, has been received by a gentleman of this City. His Lordship wrote in good spirits, was so much recovered that he was about undertaking a journey up the country to Simla, and entertained every hope of restoration to his usual health.
ADDRESS FROM THE CITY OF MONTREAL.
To His Excellency Sir James Kempt, Knight Grand Cross, of the Most Honorable Military Order of the Bath, Administrator of the Province of Lower-Canada.
We, His Majesty's loyal subjects, inhabitants of the city and vicinity of Montreal, most respectfully beg leave to wait upon your Excellency, to express our sincere regret at your approaching departure from this Province.
The feeling, in which we are persuaded all participate, is the more powerful, from the conviction, that if your stay had been prolonged amongst us, the energy of your Excellency's character, and the wisdom and moderation of your policy, would have been productive of the most beneficial effects to the general interests of this important Colony.
We beg to assure your Excellency, that the talent, industry and urbanity so eminently displayed in your Excellency's too short administration of the Government of this Province, assumed at a period of great excitement and difficulty, have deservedly gained respect, the confidence and the gratitude of all classes of His Majesty's subjects.
We pray that your Excellency, on your arrival in your native Country, may meet with the reception from our gracious Sovereign, which your long public services so well merit, and that during your future life, you may enjoy that unalloyed satisfaction which belongs to the well founded consciousness of having effectually contributed to the happiness of a loyal and faithful people.
ANSWER.
GENTLEMEN.—I receive with the greatest satisfaction the Address which you now present to me.
Having unceasingly endeavored to discharge the duties of my station in a diligent, impartial, and constitutional manner, and to promote the welfare of all classes of His Majesty's subjects committed to my charge, it is peculiarly gratifying to me to be assured, on my departure from the Province, by so large & so respectable a portion of the Inhabitants of Montreal, that they approve of my conduct in the Administration of the Government. They will, I trust, believe that I fully appreciate the value of their good opinion, and that I sensibly feel the kind expression of regard and good wishes, which they are pleased to convey to me on the present occasion.
Quebec, Oct. 15, 1830.
Address to His Excellency Sir James Kempt, G. C.
B. Sc. Esq. Sec. of the Literary and Historical Society of Quebec.
May it please your Excellency.—We, the President and Members of the Literary and Historical Society of Quebec, beg leave most respectfully to address your Excellency on the eve of your departure from this Province.
We most gratefully acknowledge the continued favour and protection with which a Literary Institution we have been honored, by your Excellency's becoming the patron of the United Societies established in this city for the encouragement of Arts and Sciences, and for Literary and Historical pursuits, in which capacity your Excellency has so liberally followed the example of the Earl of Dalhousie, in the munificence and zeal which distinguished his Lordship as the founder of one of those institutions.
We particularly beg leave to offer our sincere thanks to your Excellency for your steady co-operation in all measures, having for their object the extension of knowledge and general information in these provinces; and we shall always recognize in your Excellency's liberal donation to the Funds, and in the presentation to the Society of a superior Astronomical Instrument, proofs of the value which your Excellency sets on the prosecution of the more important inquiries of Science.
For your Excellency's kind attention to the personal comfort and accommodation of the members by permitting to them the use of the apartments they continue to occupy, we most respectfully tender our sincere acknowledgements.
Hoping that a fortunate passage may enable your Excellency soon to reach that native land, from which in situations of high trust and importance to the Empire, you have been so long absent, and praying that your Excellency may enjoy uninterrupted health and happiness, we beg your Excellency to accept our warmest wishes and our most respectful farewell.
NOVA-SCOTIA.
The Provincial Legislature of Nova Scotia was convened on the 8th inst at Halifax, when His Excellency Sir Peregrine Maitland opened the Session with the following Speech:—
SPEECH.
Mr. President and Gentlemen of His Majesty's
Council,
Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House of Assembly,
I deeply regret that the severe indisposition which occasionally separated me from you during the last Session of the Legislature. Since my return to resume the Government, the melancholy intelligence of the death of our lamented Sovereign, by which the Crown has devolved on His Most Gracious Majesty KING WILLIAM the Fourth, has been announced in dispatches, the copies of which shall be submitted to you.
In consequence of these events the late Provincial Parliament has been dissolved, and I lost no time in directing Writs to be issued, in the name of His present Majesty, for the election of a new Assembly.
I fear that this is not the most convenient Season to call you, Gentlemen, from your homes; but, I thought, that in the present state of our affairs, the Public good required that the Legislature should be assembled without delay. I have therefore convened you on the day of the return of the writs, and I feel assured that you will cheerfully submit to any private inconvenience which the performance of your duty to the public may occasion.
Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House of Assembly.
I shall direct the proper Officers to lay before you the Public accounts and the estimates for the service of the approaching year.—I rely on your readiness to grant the necessary supplies to his Majesty, for the exigencies of the Public Service. I shall most scrupulously apply them to the purposes for which they shall be appropriated by Law.
Mr. President and Gentlemen of His Majesty's
Council,
Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House of Assembly.
It is the earnest hope and recommendation of his Majesty's Government that you will enter upon the discharge of your Public Duties with a disposition to cultivate that spirit of harmony in your proceedings, for which the Legislature of this Province was so long conspicuous, and which has proved so conducive to the best interests of the Country.
In this hope I most earnestly participate, being convinced that to our labours for the general welfare, we shall best ensure a successful issue, by prosecuting them in the disposition recommended.
It is my fervent wish to see peace, content and prosperity prevail throughout the Province; and you may rely upon my cordial co-operation in every measure which can tend to secure and increase these blessings.

ALMS HOUSE AND WORK HOUSE.
Commissioner for next week, HENRY SMITH, Esq.
Saving's Bank.
TRUSTEES NEXT WEEK.
HENRY G. CLOPPER, ESQ.
JAMES TAYLOR, ESQ.
GEORGE MINCHIN, ESQ.

Civil Appointment.
Messrs. William Barbarie and Oliver Cou-gle to be Commissioners, in conjunction with A. E. Botsford and Robert Scott, Esquires, to explore the new line of road on the northeastern end of Portage Mountain, in King's County, in the room of Mr. George Pitfield, whose appointment has been cancelled.
We have collected together for this weeks impression such articles as are of most importance, remaining to be noticed from our advice by the October Mail, which were up to the 10th October; since which we have no later intelligence from England.
The sentiments expressed in the whole tenor of the several Addresses presented to His Excellency Sir James Kempt on his retiring from the Government of Lower Canada, are convincing proofs of the high estimation in which His Excellency was held by all classes of the community. The upright and impartial conduct of His Excellency in the discharge of the important duties of his exalted station, has made him extremely popular, and his sudden and unexpected removal has universally excited the deepest regret.
ACCIDENT.—On Friday se'night, Mr. Henry Cole, and David Mailman, his Brother-in-law, aged 15 years, started from Carleton for Black River, in a whale boat. When near the latter place, a flaw of wind struck the sail, the boat went over, and the two persons left the boat, thinking they could swim to the land. They had proceeded but a short distance, when Mr. Cole said he was afraid he could not make the land; the lad, who was a good swimmer, looked round to see Cole, but he had disappeared, having just uttered the words "I'm gone —Lord have mercy on my soul!" which the lad distinctly heard. The boat having discharged her ballast rose partly above the water, which Mailman seeing he swam for and got upon her bottom. In this situation he remained for 24 hours, when he was taken off by a schooner bound across the Bay.
Mr. Cole was 32 years of age, and has left a wife and one child to lament the loss of an affectionate husband and parent.—He was Assistant Alderman for Brook's Ward, and was much respected in that office, and as a member of society. His body has not yet been found.
On Tuesday last, as a small boat, in which were four men and two women, was attempting to go through the Falls, near this City, being too early in the tide, it was caught in the whirlpool, and immediately went down. Fortunately the two females and two of the men were rescued from a watery grave by the timely assistance afforded by Mr. Cunnabile, and others, from the Carleton shore. Mr.
Samuel Tidd, owner of the boat, and a coloured lad, sunk before help could reach them.—Courier.
GLOUCESTER COUNTY ELECTION.—The Poll for the election of a member to represent this county, closed at Bathurst, on Friday the 29th ult. when W.
End, Esq. was declared duly elected. A scrutiny, we understand, was demanded by Mr. Munro, the Sheriff refused to grant, stating, as Mr.
E. had such a very large majority, he did not conceive there were sufficient grounds. The numbers were as follows at the close of the Poll: END 269 MUNRO 149.—Mir. Gleaner.
TERIBLE.—The British Brig Matilda, it is stated in the American papers, exploded on the 13th May last, while lying at Bombay on the coast of Africa. How the accident happened, it is added, never can be known, for every one of the ship's company, with upwards of one hundred blacks who were on board, lost their lives—the Matilda having been blown to atoms.—St. John Courier.
We are highly gratified at the appointment of Samuel Cunard, Esq. to His Majesty's Council for this Province. Few Individuals have a larger stake in the Country—few whose sphere of usefulness is more extended.—Hal. Royal Gaz.

HALIFAX, NOV. 3.—The awful Sentence of Death was yesterday passed upon sergeant Kelley, convicted of the murder of his Wife. Judge Halliburton, with whom was Mr. Justice Uniacke, in a very impressive manner addressed the wretched Prisoner; and in language at once firm, forcible and feeling, exhibited the dreadful enormity of the offence of which he had been found guilty. He cautioned him against entertaining hopes of mercy, and earnestly entreated him to devote the short period which would be allotted to him in this world, in prayer and repentance to his God.
Sergeant Kelley enlisted in the 52d Regiment in the year 1821, and, up to the period when he committed the crime which is now to be expiated by an ignominious death, his conduct was most proper—he never was punished, nor in any instance incurred the displeasure of his Commanding Officer.—[Royal Gazette.]
To CORRESPONDENTS.—We shall commence next week with the poetical pieces lately received from our attentive friend the "Stranger."
Died.
Died on Monday morning, Mary, wife of Mr. John West, aged 36 years; leaving a husband and young family to lament the loss of an affectionate and tender parent.
On Saturday afternoon, Ruth, relict of Mr. George Everitt, deceased, aged 55 years. During her unparel-led affliction while suffering under the painful and protracted nature of the disease which terminated her earthly career, not a murmur escaped her lips, nor did she betray the least impatience, but evinced in her last moments the happy triumph of Faith in a crucified Redeemer—"until the weary wheels of life stood still." Her family and numerous relatives are left to mourn the loss of a tender and affectionate mother and sincere friend.
Her funeral took place yesterday, numerous and respectably attended.
