PORTRY. (Selected.)

THE WHITE LADY. Translated from the German by Lord F. Leveson Gower.

Our troops went forth on Sarfeldt's morn, Beneath their monarch's eye ; And merrily pealed the yager's horn, As the guard was passing by.

And first and last the howitzers past, And the battery's iron train; And all to throw the desperate cast Upon Jena's fated plain.

The march they play'd was sweet to hear, The sight was fair to see ; It smooth'd our Frederic's brow austere, And Blucher smiled with glee.

That sight was fair to all but those Who own'd prophetic fears; And sweet that martial strain arose To all but gifted ears.

And was there none in dream or trance, Could follow the column's way ; And with the vulture's precient glance, The death-doom'd troops survey ?

Yes, close at hand she had taken her stand, I saw and I mark'd her well; none to make it familiar to my thoughts; or rance! He inhaled it as though it were the manner, under the fear of that death which they caused the dissolution of the House of myself, patient of its errand. My thoughts, breath of continued life. And there was a are desirous of procuring. myself, patient of its errand. My thoughts, breath of continued me. And there was a are desirous of procering. Trather, will flee from me, and I grow mad in freshness in the landscape, and in the rippling We have heard a story of a countryman, as British Subjects. The electing members to be rights looking at it. Oh ! for a deep sleep to fall upon of the calm green sea, that fell upon his wi- who had made up his mind to ' shuffle off this me ! That so in death's likeness, I might em- thering heart like dew upon the parched earth. mortal coil,' and only waited until he had setme! That so in death's likeness, I might em- inering neart like dew upon the particuled carthe the most comfortable way of to offer myself as a candidate for your Suffrages, with brace death itself, and drink no more of the How he gazed, and panted, and still clung to the brace with himself assurance on my part should your conductive with cup that is presented to me, that my fainting his hold ! sometimes hanging by one hand, dying. Not being able to agree with himself assurance on my part, should your confidence in me spirit hus already tasted !"

pitcher of water, had been conveyed, as be- ed, and his hands swollen and benumbed, he would take it as a great favour if he would at large. fore, into his dungeon. But this circumstance dropped helpless down, and lay stunned for a assist him in the accomplishment of his purno longer excited his surprise. Ilis mind was considerable time by the fall. as not to yield some support to a heart bend- before his sleeping fancy; but gradually his fall a tree upon him, and put an end to his life current of air to seize that moment for giving beneath their veiled lids, at the sun's radiance, directly. his worst fears being visionary.

strengthen me for the trial you permit !"

Another morning dawned upon the wretched captive, and the fatal index of his doom met his eyes. Two windows !--- and two days--- and

The mysterious visit had been paid, though he had implored in vain. But how awfully was his prayer answered in what h. now saw !-

The roof of the dungeon was within a food of his head ! The two ends were so near, that in six paces he trod the space between them.

Vivenzio shuddered as he gazed, and as his steps traversed the narrow area. But his feelings no longer vented themselves in frantic wailings. With folding arms and clenched teeth-with eyes that were blood shot from much watching, and fixed with a vacant glare upon the ground-with a hard quick breathing, and a hurried walk, he strode backwards and forwards in silent musing for several hours ---

What mind shall conceive, what tongue utter,

or what pen describe, the dark and terrible character of his thoughts ?" Like the fate that moulded them, they had no similitude in the wide range of this world's agony for man.-

Suddenly he stopped, and his eyes were riveted upon that part of the wall which was over his bed of straw. Words are inscribed there all would be over ! Fresh food-fresh water nights I have to live? There is no power sight. How exquisite was the cool breeze as so strong, that persons who are resolved on To the Electors of the County of York within me to bid the bideous spectre hence- it swept across his cheek, loaded with frag- suicide, sometimes conduct in a very ludicrous sometimes by the other, and then grasping the on this important point, he informed a neigh-In the midst of these lamentations, Viven- bars with both, as loath to quit the smiling bour of his whom he met with an axe on his Assembly, you may rely on my rely In the midst of these lamentations, Viven- bars with both, as loath to quit the sining bound in a line of the was resolved upon death, and assembly, you may rely on my utmost exertion on all cocasions, to promote the best interests of the County is noticed that his accustomed meal, with the paradise outstretched before him; till exhaust- should take it as a great favour if he would at large overwhelmed with others of a far greater mag- When he recovered, the glorious vision had the candidate for a change of worlds, told him, nitude. It suggested, however, a feeble hope vanished. He was in darkness. He doubted he was just going into the woods to chopping, of deliverance; and there is no hope so feeble whether it was not a dream that had passed and that if he would accompany him, he would ing under despair. He resolved to watch, du- scattered thoughts returned, and with them with very little trouble. ring the ensuing night, for the signs he had be- came remembrance. Yes ! he had looked I'm very much obliged to you, said the fore observed ; and should he again feel the once again upon the gorgeous splendour of weary of the world, and shall consider myself fore observed ; and should he again feel the once again upon the gorgeous spiel dour of weary of the world, and should be killed [HE demise of our much beloved Sovereign George gentle, tremulous motion of the floor, or the nature ! Once again his eyes had trembled bound to you for life. I'll go and be killed the Fourth, of glorious memory have been george audible expression to his misery. Some per- and sought repose in the soft vendure of the Accordingly he followed the axe man to the audible expression to his misery. Some per- and sought repose in the soft for undulating woods. A tall tree was chosen and he was di- most respectfully offer myself to your notice as one of son must be near him, and within reach of his olive-tree, or the gentle swell of undulating woods. A tall tree was chosen and he was di- most respectfully offer myself to your notice as one of son must be near him, and within reach of his onve-tree, of the gentie swell of the stand, so as to receive the the Candidates for a share in that important trust, voice, at the instant when his food was suppli- waves. Oh, that he were a mariner, exposed for a share foll the fixed himself on the Should I meet your approbation, and he waves. voice, at the instant when his lood was suppli-ed; some one, perhaps, susceptible of pity. - upon those waves to the worst fury of storm full force of its fall. He fixed himself on the of your Members, trust me. I shall not returned one ed; some one, perhaps, susceptible of pity. _____ upon those waves to the worst fully of storm full force of its fail. In force of its fail. In force of its fail. In force of its fail, of your Members, trust me, I shall never deceive you, or if not, to be told even that his apprehen- and tempest; or a very wretch loathsome with spot, folded his arms and prepared to wait the nor desert the rights of the people of the pe sions were just, and that his fate was to be disease, plague-stricken, and his body one event. The chopper began to lay on with visions were just, and that his fate was to be disease, plague-structure, and hot intention. I shall what he foreboded, would be preferable to a leprous contagion from crown to sole, hunted gorous blows, while the death's candidate kept endeavour to maintain in its purity the British Constiwhat he foreboded, would be preferable to a preferable to gasp out the remnant of infectious life his eye upon the top of the tree, to see when tution, which is the boast of our nation, and the admi-suspense which hung upon the possibility of forth to gasp out the remnant of infectious life his eye upon the top of the world - thereby construction, and the admibeneath those verdant trees, so he might shun it would fall. He stood very composed for a ration of the world; thereby secure and maintain the The night came ; and as the hour approach- the destiny upon whose edge he tottered ! while ; but at length began to appear uneasy ed when Vivenzio imagined he might expect Vain thoughts like these would steal over his and not perfectly satisfied with his prospects. the signs, he stood fixed and silent as a sta- mind from time to time, in spite of himself; but And while the axe man seemed to him to redou-

I take this method of informing you of my intention

I have the Honor to be Gentlemen, Your most obedient humble Servant JEDEDIAH SLASON Fredericton, 15th September, 1830.

To the Freeholders of the County of York.

GENTLEMEN.

necessary for you to elect four persons duly qual fied. to represent you in General Assembly-I, Gentlemen, will be in judgment, and not from intention. I shall rights and privileges of the Inhabitants of this highly favoured Province. Next, my care and exertion will be to promote to my utmost the best interests of this extensive inland County. How far I am qualified to tak Farming, which I prosecuted with success, and having for the last ten years been engaged in an extensive mercantile business in this County, I trust an appeal for a liberal share of your suffrages on this occasion will not be made without success.

'T was she who wanders through the land, Whose name I fear to tell.

They saw not her form, nor her vissage of grief-And their glances were fixed on him.

But I knew her at once by the long lank hair, And the garments as white as snow; And she lingered there in her still despair, And scowl'd on the troops below.

I knew her at once for a lady who wends, Impell'd by the curse divine ; And who wanders abroad when woe impends, Upon Prussia's regal line.

A have kept the night-watch, where she chiefly is To roam by the ruinous stair; I should not have trembled, I should not have fled-For I could have faced her there.

For I fear'd not the sight of the lady in white By the moonlight's spectral ray; In the hall of our kings, at the hour of night, But I shrunk from the vision by day.

Yet I thought that the fortunes of Prussia decreed By questioning her to know; So right to that lady I spurred my steed, Till no nearer he would go.

For he rear'd at the sight of the lady in white, And he stopp'd in his full career ; She spoke, and her words, when I heard them aright They curdled my blood for fear.

'Now trouble me not-! list to the shot-On Sarfeldt I see thee dead ; Disturb me no more-I weep for your lot !' Was all that the lady said.

She strided away, and I could not tell where, For a shuddering seized my frame; And whither she vanish'd I cannot declare, And as little know whence she came.

the signs, he stood fixed and silent as a sta- initial from that stupor into ble his blows, he kept winking and winking, a part in this important matter, you Gentlemen, are tue. He feared to breathe, almost, lest he they scarcely moved it from that stupor into ble his blows, he kept winking and winking, a part in this important matter, you Gentlemen, are might lose any sound which would warn him which it had sunk, and which kept him, during he thought he perceived the tree begin to nod, the best and only judges. From the circumstances of of their coming. While thus listening, with the whole night, like one who had been drug- and that the next moment would be his last. my having in early life been instructed in the art of every faculty of mind and body strained to an ged with opium. He was equally insensible The cold sweat began to issue from his skin, But fixed on his troops were the eyes of their chief, agony of attention, it occured to him he should to the calls of hunger and of thirst, though the his limbs trembled-he could stand it no longbe more sensible of the motion, probably, if he third day was now commencing since even a er ! He took to flight and never looked behind stretched himself along the iron floor. He ac- drop of water had passed his lips. He remain- him untill he had got at least forty rods, when cordingly laid himself softly down, and had not ed on the ground, sometimes sitting, some- he ventured to stop. He was pursued by the been long in that position when-yes-he was times lying; at intervals, sleeping heavily; axe-man, who on coming up, asked him why he certain of it-the floor moved under him !- and when not sleeping, silently brooding over ran away.

He sprang up, and in a voice suffocated near- what was to come, or talking aloud, in disor. Oh, said he, I was afraid if I staid there I ly with emotion, called aloud. He paused- dered speech, of his wrongs, of his friends, of should be killed !

the motion ceased—he felt no stream of air— his home, and of those he loved, with a confu- I thought returned the chopper, you came on purpose to be killek.

all was hushed-no voice answered to his--he sed mingling of all. burst into tears ; and as he sunk to the ground, In this pitiable condition, the sixth and last Ah true, ' replied the man with great simpliin renewed anguish, exclaimed, --- 'Oh, my morning dawned upon Vivenzio, if dawn it city, but I forgot that. -- O how I tremble ! If God ! you alone have power to save me now, might be called—the dim, obscure light which I'd staid there a minute longer, I should have A come forward as a Candidate for your suffrages at faintly struggled through the one solitary win- been a dead man. What a crash it made when dow of his dungeon He could hardly be said it fell !

to notice the melancholy token. And yet he Crash ! why the tree is standing yet. did notice it; for as he raised his eyes and saw merely chopped with the head of the axe. the portentous sign, there was a slight convul- With the head of the axe ! do you say so? sive distortion of his countenance. But what O you cheating rascal! but I'll never trust you did attract his notice and at the sight of which to kill me again, I'll be hanged if I do.-Newhis agitation was excessive, was the change York Constellation.

his iron bed had undergone. It was a bed no longer. It stood before him, the visible semblance of a funeral couch or bier ! When he FILE demise of our late Gracious Majesty King beheld this, he started from the ground ; and, the President of this Province to dissolve the General Asin raising himself, suddenly struck his head against the roof, which was now so low that he And I having thereupon received His Majesty's Writ for the Election of Four of the most able and discreet could no longer stand upright. "God's will be done !" was all he said, as he crouched his body, and placed his head upon the bier; for such it was. The iron bedstead had been so obedience thereto, hereby give Public Notice, that the contrived, by the mechanical art of Ludovico TUESDAY, the 19th day of October, at eleven of the Sforza, that as the advancing walls came in clock in the forenoon, when and where all persons inter-produced upon concealed springs, which, when made to play, set in motion a very simple though ingenious contrived machinery, that effected the transformation. The object was, of course, to heighten, in the closing scene of and anguish, which the preceding ones had persons duly qualified to represent the said County in the GENERAL ASSEMBLY of this Province, do, in contact with its head and feet, a pressure was ested erein will be heard, and are to attend accordingly E. W. MILLER, Sheriff. Fredericton, 21st Sept. 1830.

> To the Electors of the County of York. GENTLEMEN.

this horrible drama, all the feelings of despair THEN I had the honor of addressing you, at the close of the last General Election, it was with aroused. For the same reason, the last win- a full determination, of not again offiering myself as a dow was so made as to admit only a shadowy Candidate for your suffrages; under the impression,

I am Gentlemen,

Your most obedient humble servants THOS. LEWIS LANGEN Fredericton, Sept. 29th, 1830.

Τu

nel

Ge

the

fou

ble

nes

P

after

arrat

Land

Office

veyez

Tract

ea ch

be lo

tricts

paym

whole

on pa

The I

cultiv

plicat

Fhat

chase

and is of ima

theref

uate i

He ha

there

Frida

Belwe

Jacob

his Bil

int, o roces

ng hir

int ha

laina

or had with t

and th

truth c atisfa fendan ore th

Tuesd etwee

eter F Croo

ston,

youn NOE

certifi

Fra

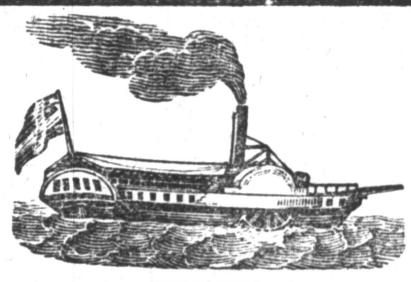

2nt

To the Freeholders of the County of York.

GENTLEMEN.

A T the request of a number of my friends, I have port I have received from every section of this fine and extensive County, are the more gratifying to my feelings as being a pledge that my conduct, during the many years I have served you in an important public station, has met with your unqualified approbation; and be assured Gentlemen, that if I am by your free and unbiassed suffrages, elected to the HONORABLE situation of a Representative for York County, I will serve you with zeal and independence, and my time and talents will be unremitingly exerted for the advancement of your Interests. I am Gentlemen,

Your most obedient servant, JOHN A. BECKWITH Fredericton, 1st October, 1830.

NOTICE

HOSE indebted to the Proprietors of the Steam Boat SAINT GEORGE, not having paid the amount of the several claims against them in pursuance of the Notice given; and it being necessary that the accounts should be immediately settled in consequence of the death of one of the Proprietors of the said Boat, the Accounts have been placed in my hands for collection, of which CHARLES P. WETMORE Fredericton, 15th March, 1830.

NOTICE.

George the Fourth, having induced His Honor sembly, and to order new Writs of Election to issue-

But at Sarfeldt's fight, since the morning light, The Frenchmen had fired well; And the lady had spoken the moment aright, When Louis of Prussia fell.

VARIETIES.

THE IRON SHROUD ;----OR ITALIAN VENGEANCE. BY THE AUTHOR OF THE "FIRST AND LAST."

(Concluded from our last.)

on Vivenzio; but it was high noon before his ed to his unhallowed purpose !- Miserable mind shook off its stupor, or he awoke to a full wretch, whoe'er thou art, that readest these consciousness of his situation. And what a fixed lines, fall on thy knees, and invoke, as I have energy of despair sat upon his pale features, done, His sustaining mercy, who alone can as he cast his eyes upwards, and gazed upon nerve thee to meet the vengeance of Tolfi, armthe THREE windows that now alone remained ! ed with his tremendous engine which, in a few The three !- there were no more !- and they hours, must crush you, as it will the needy seemed to number his allotted days .-- Slowly wretch who made it !"

and calmly he next surveyed the top and sides, A deep groan burst from Vivenzio. He and comprehended all the meaning of the di- stood like one transfixed, with dilated eyes, exminished height of the former, as well as of panded nostrils, and quivering lips, gazing at

of York. what matchles inhumanity it was to doom the verzio behold its golden beams streaming to avoid the pressure in front. Thus he reufferer to such lingering torments-to-lead him through one of the windows. What a thrill of mained for more than an hour, when that deaf-GENTLEMEN, A N opportunity will soon be afforded you, of elect- can be struck off at the shortest notice. lay by day to such appalling a death, unsupport- joy shot through his soul at the sight ! It was ening bell beat again, and again there came A ing Members, to represent you in the General Asd by the consolations of religion, unvisited by a precious link, that united him, for the mo- the crash of horrid death. But the concussion sembly of this Province. any human being, abandoned to himself, de- ment, with the world beyond. There was was now so great that it struck Vivenzio down. Having, at the last General Election, been honored serted by all and denied even the sad privilege eastacy in the thought. As he gazed, long As he lay gathered up in lessoned bulk, the with your support in a manner far exceeding my most SAINT JOHN, sanguine expectations, and conscious of having to the SAINT ANDREWS, of knowing that his cruel destiny would awak- and earnestly, it seemed as if the windows had bell beat loud and frequent-crash succeeded best of my abilities, endeavoured faithfully to discharge DORCHESTER, en pity ! Alone he was to perish !-alone he lowered sufficiently for him to reach them.-- crash-and on, and on, and on came the mys-was to await a slow coming torture, whose With one bound he was beneath them--with terious engine of death, till Vivenzio's smo-portant trust, then committed to me; I am induced to MIRAM portant trust, then committed to me ; I am induced to MIRAMICHI, most exquisite pangs would be inflicted by that one wild spring he clung to the bars. Whe- thered groans were heard no more ! He was offer myself a second time, a Candidate for your suff- KENT, (COUNTY OF YORK) ther it was so contrived, purposely to mad- horribly crushed by the ponderous roof and very solitude and that tardy coming. rages, assuring you, that should I again be successful, WOODSTOCK, and my utmost exertions shall, at all times, be used to pro- NORTHAMPTON, "It is not death I fear," he exclaimed, "but den with delight the wretch who looked he collapsing sides-and the flattened bier was mote your interests, and protect your privileges. the death I must prepare for ! Methinks, too, knew not; but, at the extremity of a long his Iron Shroud. I have the honor to be SHEFFIELD, could meet even that-all horrible and revolt- vista, cut through the solid rock, the ocean, Doctor Barker, -0000-Gentlemen ing as it is-if it might overtake me now. But the sky, the setting sun, olive groves, shady THE MAN THAT WISHED FOR DEATH.-The GAGETOWN, Your most obedient Servant, Mr. Asa Davidson, KINGSTON, where shall I find fortitude to tarry till it come ? | walks, and, in the farthest distance, delicious habit of avoiding personal danger, or the in-WILLIAM TAYLOR. HAMPTON. How can I outlive the three long days and glimpses of magnificent Sicily, burst upon his stinct that leads to the preservation of life, is Fredericton, 15th September, 1830. SUSSEX VALE, J. C Vail Esq.

A human language, traced by a human hand He rushes towards them ; but his blood freezes as he reads,-

"I, Ludovico Sforza, tempted by the gold of the Prince of Tolfi, spent three years in contriving and executing this accursed triumph of my art,--When it was completed, the perfidious Tolfi, more devil than man, who conducted me hither one morning, to be witness, as he said, of its perfection, doomed me to be the first victim of my own pernicious skill; lest, as he declared, I should divulge the secret, or repeat the effort of my ingenuity. May God The morning of the fourth day dawned up- pardon him, as I hope he will me, that minister-kind of gloom rather than light, that the wretched captive might be surrounded, as it proaching death.

Vivenzio seated himself on his bier. Then he knelt and prayed fervently; and sometimes tears would gush from him. The air seemed thick, and he breathed with difficulty; or it might be that he fancied it was so, from the hot and narrow limits of its dungeon, which were now so diminished that he could neither stand up nor lie down at his full length. But his wasted spirits and oppressed mind no longer struggled within him. He was past hope, would have fallen beneath it almost unconscious of a pang. But such a lethargy of the soul, after such an excitement of its fiercest passions, had entered into the diabolical calculations of Tolfi ; and the fell artificer of vice

June 21, 1830. The tolling of an enormous bell struck upon suppose my not canvassing for your votes arises from the gradual approximation of the latter .- this fatal inscription. It was as if a voice from the ears of Vivenzio ! He started. It beat FOR SALE. any want of respect for you, but from a conviction in The contracted dimensions of his mysterious the sepulchre had sounded in his ears, "Premy own mind, that the means, too generally resorted but once. The sound was so close and stunprison were now too gross and palpable to be pare !" Hope forsook him. There was his ning, that it seemed to shatter his very brain, to, to obtain votes at an election, are highly uncon-the juggle of his heated imagination. Still sentence recorded in those dismsl words. The stitutional, inconsistent with the true freedom of elecwhile it echoed through the rocky passages IIII S tion, and as degrading to the electors to submit to, as lost in wonder at the means, Vivenzio could future stood unveiled before him, ghastly and like reverberating peals of thunder. This was they are to the candidate who practices them ; added nut no cheat upon his reason, as to the end. - appalling. His brain already feels the decend- followed by a sudden crash of the roof and contains, is well adapted for a boarding House to which, many of you must have often enough expe-By what borrible ingenuity it was contrived, ing horror, his bones seem to crack and crumble walls, as if they were about to fall upon and For further particulars apply to rienced, that the promises and plausible professions that walls, and roof, and windows, should thus in the mighty grasp of the iron walls ! Unknow- close around him at once, Vivenzio screamed, GEORGE K. LUGRIN. of civility and friendship you generally receive at elecilently and imperceptibly, without noise, and ingly what it is he does, he fumbles in his gartions, are merely for the purpose of the present, calcuand instinctively spread forth his arms, as August 11, 1829. without motion almost, fold as it were, within ment for some weapon of self-destruction. He though he had a giant's strength to hold them lated only to deceive, and lasting no longer than till the vote is obtained; and I trust you have all too each other, he knew not. He only knew clenches his throat in his convulsive grip, as back. They had moved nearer to him, and THE ROYAL GAZETTE, much good feeling and sound sense to think the worse they did so ; as he vainly strove to persuade him- though he would strangle himself at once. were now motionless. Vivenzio looked up, of a man, who respects both you and himself too much TERMS-16s. per Annum, exclusive of Postage self it was the intention of the contriver, to Hestares upon the walls, and his warring spirit and saw the roof almost touching his head, to attempt such a course, to obtain your support. rack the miserable wretch who might be im- demands, "Will they not anticipate their office even as he sat cowering beneath it; and he felt I am Gentlemen, mured there, with anticipation, merely, of a if I dash my head against them ?" An hyste- that a farther contraction of but a few inches With sincere respect and good will, will be inserted for Four Shillings and Sixtate, from which, in the very crisis of his ago- rical laugh chokes him as he exclaims, "Why only must commence the frightful operation. Your most obedient Servant, should I? He was but a man who died first Roused as he had been, he now gasped for GEO. FREDERICK STREET. ny, he was to be reprieved. Fredericton, 15th September, 1830, Gladly would he have clung even to this pos- in their fierce embrace ; and I should be less breath. His body shook violently-he was ibility, if his heart would have let him; but he than man not to do as much." To the Freeholders of the County bent nearly double. His hands rested upon elt a dreadful assurance of its fallacy. And The evening sun was descending, and Vi- either wall, and his feet were drawn under him

(from the result of that contest,) that it was not the wish of the majority of the Electors, that I should represent the County, in our Provincial Parliament; and all Persons indebted will take due notice, and pay the were, with every seeming preparation for ap- while Iremained under that impression, nothing should several and respective balances forthwith.

have induced me, to come forward a second timehaving no wish to force myself upon you. But having been informed, from various parts of the County, that it is now the general wish, that I should be chosen as one of your Representatives, I am induced to offer a gain-at the same time in doing so, I stand upon those strict constitutional principles, which prevent my personally soliciting a vote from any one. 1 have no selfish object to gain, in getting a seat in the House of Assembly. On the contrary, I know, I must, in going there, devote so much of my time to the public service, as to cause serious loss and inconvenience to myself. But this will not deter me, if I can be of any and fear shook him no more. Happy if thus service to the County at large ; that Gentlemen is a revenge had struck its final blow; for he matter entirely for your consideration. I am pretty generally known among you, consequently you are able to judge how for I possess those qualifications, ne cessary to make a good and efficient member I can only say, if you think preper to honor me with you confidence, in this respect, it will be my study to serve you faithfully, and to the utmost of my power-but his designs had imagined a counteracting de- my election must be the voluntary independent act of yourselves, and not the result of any undue influence or persuasion on my part. You must not therefore

Y the Subscriber two span of large young HORSES, four voke of good OXEN, also, one Farm WAGGON, one new Market ditto., and one SOCIABLE.

A liberal Credit will be given with good Security. JAMES BALLOCH.

Fredericton, 19th October, 1830.

LAST NOTICE HOSE Persons who are indebted to the Subscriber are hereby requested to make payment forthwith, or call and settle by Note of Hand, either with himself the Agents for the Gazette, otherwise their Accounts or will be put in suit. GEO. K. LUGRIN.

THE House in which the under signed now resides; it is an ev cellent stand for mercantile business, or from the number of apartments it

Advertisements not exceeding Twelve Lines pence the first, and one Shilling and Sixpence, for each succeeding Insertion. Advertisements must be accompanied with Cash, and the Insertions will be regulated according to the amount received. Blanks, Handbills, &c. &c AGENTS FOR THE ROYAL GAZETTE. Mr. Peter Duff, Mr. George Miller, E. B. Chandler, Esq. J. W. Weldon, Esq. Edward Baker, Esq Geo. Moorhouse, Esq Mr. Jeremiah Connell, James Tilley, Esq. & Mr. Wm. F. Bonnell, Jun. Mr. Somuel Hallett, Jr