

only reveal, but we have strong misgivings whether such a change of Government as is anticipated will lead to the restoration of the blessings of peace and tranquillity, and the downfall of despotism and tyrannical oppression to which that kingdom has for such a length of time been unapparently subjected. In consequence of the enactments contained in the "Foreign Enlistment Bill," Capt. Napier's name has been struck out of the list of the Navy.

The Emperors of Russia and Austria and King of Prussia, were, it is said to hold a Conference early in the present month in Bohemia.—The state of Poland it is said was to occupy their attention.

In the House Lords the Church of Ireland Temporalities Bill was under discussion, and had passed to a second reading.

The East India Company's Charter Bill had not finally passed the Commons.

The Revenue Returns to the 5th July, we are happy to state, present some gratifying results.

Parliament, it is supposed, would not adjourn until the middle of September.

Pariche and Abrante, it is said, have declared in favour of Don Pedro.—It is believed that when the news of the capture of Don Miguel's fleet is known at Lisbon, that city, and the whole of the southern Provinces, up to the Douro, will declare for the Constitutional cause.

Lisbon has been declared in a state of blockade.

Lord Auckland laid on the table of the House of Peers, July 15, the report of the Commissioners appointed to enquire into the Colonial Revenues.

A conspiracy against the life of the Emperor of Russia has been discovered in Finland.

Ministers have been left in the minority on a motion for the abolition of "all Sinecures, not merited by public service," also on an amendment in the "Factories Regulation Bill."

Captain Napier's Post Commission bears date, May 22, 1833.—He is directly descended from the ancient and noble family of Lennox in Scotland.

It is understood that Government has issued orders for two additional Ships of War to be put in immediate readiness for sea, and that they are to proceed to the Tagus, to afford protection to British subjects and their property, in anticipation of a violent struggle between the contending parties.

CRICKET MATCH.

In consequence of a challenge from the Military, a Cricket Match was played on Monday last between 11 Officers and men of the Garrison of Fredericton, and 11 of the Fredericton Club, in which the former proved victorious.

The townsmen had the first innings and scored 72.

The Military scored 102.

The townsmen went in again and scored 31—and thereupon gave up the match.—Several gymnastic matches were afterwards proposed and made up, which may be expected to produce some sport.

The following are the particulars of the lamentable accident which terminated the life of the late Lieutenant CLEEVE:—Returning from his ride on the Marsh Road, about three o'clock last Friday afternoon, accompanied by his friend, Dr. Lawson, his horse took alarm from the barking of a dog which had suddenly run into the road, and immediately galloped off. Mr. CLEEVE losing his stirrups in consequence of the unexpectedness of the movement, and not being able to regain them, clung by his heels to the animal, which, pricked by his spurs, continued onward till he came to the Bridge across the Creek, where he stopped short, and Mr. CLEEVE was thrown violently, and fell upon the back of his head, by which his skull was dreadfully fractured. He was instantly taken up, senseless, and carried to Fitzpatrick's the nearest house upon the road, where the best medical assistance was at once afforded him. In the evening he was carefully removed on a litter to his quarters in the Barracks, where he continued insensible, receiving the most kind and unremitting attention, until his death, which took place at twenty minutes before six o'clock on Sunday morning.

That was this much respected and beloved young man snatched suddenly away in the very bloom of life. Sad, indeed, to his relatives, will be the news of his unhappy fate, and deeply we sympathize with them for the severity of their loss.—Observer.

ANOTHER CASUALTY.—Yesterday an Inquest was held at Indian Town, on the body of PATRICK CURRIGAN, who accidentally fell into one of his own tan vats, and received so much injury that he died a few hours after he was exhumed from drowning.—St. John Courier.

WEST INDIES.

KINGSTON, (Jam.) July 26. By the Post yesterday no local news of particular interest has reached us. We rejoice, however, that various correspondents, from such parishes as have received the intelligence that the British Parliament have recognised the principle of compensation, represent that the greatest satisfaction prevails; indeed one correspondent states, "that it would be impossible to convey an idea of the great and unbounded joy created by the unexpected news." We have already expressed our opinion of the salutary effects likely to be produced by the concurrence of the local Legislatures in the views of the British Parliament—"nor shall we stop here." We hope to be able to lay before our readers the most convincing proofs for such necessity before we quit the subject. We do not see the least cause for depression on the part of the colonists, if they reflect for a moment on the long continued excitement and irritation they have been subject to by the agitation of this important question. They cannot deny but the most valuable expression among them was—"We wish to God the question was settled one way or the other." When they reflect that several members, indeed a majority, of the House of Commons, were pledged to the abolition of slavery—that petitions bearing no less than 4,000,000 of signatures were presented in the present session against the system of slavery, they cannot but rejoice that a general balance of justice has shone in the recognition of compensation by Ministers. We are far from admitting that twenty millions is sufficient to compensate for the great and various interests involved in this mighty question; yet "half a loaf is better than no bread."

As far as we can penetrate into the views of Ministers, we think they will not violate the contract they have made as to the amount of compensation; and although we do not place implicit reliance on Whig professions, yet the knowledge that the compact is to be ratified by the King and Peers of England may afford some security for its fulfilment. The idea that any surreptitious means will be resorted to, to foist any unexpected measures upon us as we deprecate, conscious that our Legislators will take all the necessary precautions to baffle and defeat any such attempt. The prevalent report that other islands will be more favoured in the distribution of the grant for compensation, than Jamaica, we consider fallacious—for no principles of honor or justice could sanction such a vicious procedure. The question now resolves itself into pounds, shillings and pence—slavery is abolished, and it is the duty of all men to unite their best exertions to effect it on the most equitable terms they possibly can.—This can never be achieved by either resistance or intemperance; and we only hope that every honest man will unite reprobating every insidious and sinister attempt made by partisans to prevent the peaceable adjustment of a question which has already created so much dissatisfaction, discontent, and uneasiness, whoever sows the seeds of disunion builds a sandy foundation on the prospects of revolution and anarchy, in which thousands of innocent persons are usually involved; and if you discover such a firebrand amongst you, allow him not to nestle in your unsuspecting bosoms.—Despatch.

We congratulate our fellow colonists on the prospect of a speedy termination of the differences which have so long existed between them and the Mother Country. That individuals, who have devoted half a century in the acquisition of wealth in Jamaica should tamely submit to its surrender, to gratify a few ranting wretches, could not be expected; however, in their they may be to make a sacrifice of a certain portion, for the sake of the country; and although, as we have already stated, that many interests will suffer, our firm conviction now is, that the Government measures will be carried into effect without any difficulty on the part of the masters; as the only complainants will be the negroes themselves! This may be doubted by those unacquainted with the negro character; but when we tell them that our peasantry look to their owner, not only as their protector and friend, but for support in sickness and in old age, we are afraid that the change in these respects will be severely felt by these poor people. The climate, however, is genial; and the wants of the labourer are easily acquired; and we hope yet to see Jamaica a happy—if not a prosperous country.—Courier.

It must be admitted that the donatory compensation stipulated by Parliament exceeds the expectation of most persons, for instead of a loan, a donation is substituted. Surely this speaks volumes in favour of national justice; and we feel confident, that were it satisfactorily shewn to Parliament, that something more than twenty millions is required to fulfil the compensatory offer, it will be granted. On the whole, we think that the foregoing amount and the loan, which is talked of, of ten millions, be granted, there can be no ground for either murmur or complaint. Any other instruction than what is embodied in the foregoing observation, would be worse than useless.

To Members of Assembly we say as his Excellency the governor has appointed the 27th day of August for you "to meet and proceed to business," it becomes you, as the voice of the people, promptly to coincide with the intentions of Government, and cheerfully to cooperate in rendering the ministerial plan both safe and expeditious. To you are left the details of the measure, thus proving, beyond a doubt, the opinion entertained of your experience and judgment by the Imperial Parliament. We shall not offend you by supposing that the language of irritation, contumacy, or defiance, will be heard in the Senate House of Jamaica, nor that the recommendations of government will be disregarded. The times call for your immediate acquiescence and individual security, happiness, and prosperity, are involved in your own measures.—Chronicle.

DIED.

At his Quarters, in the Barracks, on Sunday morning last, in the 23d year of his age, William R. Cleeve, Esquire, Lieutenant of the Royal Artillery, situated at this place. His death was occasioned by his having been thrown from his horse on the Friday preceding, as detailed in another part of this paper.—In thus recording his premature and melancholy fate we cannot but bear testimony to the high character and uniformly honorable and gentlemanly deportment, during his residence among us, by which this amiable, accomplished, and excellent young man had deservedly gained the respect and esteem, not only of those who were most intimately acquainted with him, but also of the inhabitants of the city in general, and few young men, we may safely say, have sunk into the tomb so sincerely, universally, and deeply lamented. His remains were interred on Thursday last with Military honors.

At St. John, on the 21st inst. after a short but painful illness, Mr. Thomas Pearey, an old and respectable inhabitant of that place, aged 73 years.

PROSPECTUS OF THE NEW BRUNSWICK STANDARD AND SAINT ANDREWS' COMMERCIAL GAZETTE.

A weekly Newspaper to be published in Saint Andrews, New Brunswick. In announcing the intended publication of a Newspaper under the above title, it may not be improper to state that the undertaking is unconnected with any former publication, and will be conducted on liberal principles.

The Editor considers that a Newspaper, to be generally useful here, should be pledged to no Party, but present a compendium of the opinions of the best Prints on the leading topics of the day, from which a correct judgment might be formed of the various lights in which subjects are viewed by different political parties. This method it is his intention to adopt.

British, Colonial, and Foreign news, the policy and aspect of Courts and Countries, will be industriously collected and faithfully reported.

Passing events will be detailed as early as possible, in order to enable the enquirer to keep pace with the general information of the times.

The affairs of New Brunswick demand peculiar attention and will be discussed with firmness and fairness. The vindication of liberty will not be allowed to degenerate into licentiousness; but an undaunted maintenance of political rights will be carried the whole length allowed by the Constitution.

The usual Lists relative to Commerce and Shipping will be carefully compiled; and whatever may be useful to the Farmer, the Lumberer, the Trader, Manufacturer, and Fisherman, will be diligently sought for and inserted.

Poetic Literature, a taste for which has been successfully diffused by the periodicals of the day will occupy a reasonable space in the STANDARD.—And articles of Wit or Humour will occasionally find a place; but it will be the Editor's aim to avoid frivolity, and to adapt even light reading to the improvement of the mind and morals. The flowers of Poetry will be culled with a delicate and sparing hand.

Original Communications will meet all the encouragement their merits deserve, but detraction, however high its literary claim—attack on private character, however speciously cloaked—vulgarity of language, and any violation of decency will be promptly rejected.

The strictest attention will be paid to the display of Advertisements, and in order to obviate the possibility of undue favour, it is intended that each continued insertion shall yield in place to that of more recent date.

The Editor refrains from dilating further on his views, being desirous of avoiding such professions and promises as cannot always be strictly observed, or satisfactorily performed.

THE STANDARD, and Saint Andrews' COMMERCIAL GAZETTE will be printed on a SUPER ROYAL SHEET, and published every Tuesday morning.

Price, Fifteen Shillings per annum—payable half yearly in advance.

The paper will be published about the beginning of September 1833, by Geo. N. Smith.
