in four days. The English had left the residency, and fled to a little island in the Gulf, 29 miles south of Bushire. Every individual left in charge of the residency had died. The sheikh had hired 40 men, at a most exorbitant sum of money to bury the dead. Only four of these returned alive, leaving their work unaccomplished.

GRAND STEAMBOAT EXCURSION - The Journal of Commerce quotes from a long Advertisement in a Marseilles paper, the leading particulars of a proposed steamboat excursion of more than ordinary interest. It is announced that in April next, the Administration of steam Navigation of the two Sicilies will start the magnificent steamboat "Francis First," of 120 horse power, on a voyage to Greece and Constantinople.

SHOCKING RAILWAY ACCIDENT - We are extremely sorry to state that a very serious accident, attended with fatal consequences to one individual, occurred on the railway at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, at the Rainhill station. It appears that the second class train, which leaves Manchester at a quarter past seven, and stops by the way to take up passengers, stopped at the Railway station, as usual, for that purpose, about one o'clock, to take up four or five ladies and gentlemen who were waiting to come on to Liverpool.

Melancholy Death of Mr. and Mrs. Patten. - It may be recollected that about a month since we announced the death of Mr. Patten, the Barrister, late of the Home Circuit, and his lady, both of whom were unfortunately drowned in the Lake Conteret, in the Pyrenees, while viewing the beauties of the surrounding scenery in an open boat, which they had hired for the purpose. It appeared that the boatman who was in the habit of rowing strangers across the lake, had died four days previous to the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Patten, whose anxiety to view the scenery induced them to enter the boat alone, and row to the centre of the lake, from which situation the view of the surrounding Pyrenees presents the most imposing effect.

very keen contest was carried on in this town for eight days, in which nearly three thousand individuals had a right to vote, yet not one single Police report resulted from it - an example which could be very profitably followed in many older Governments; and I am persuaded it will be your anxious endeavour to persevere in that course which has been so happily begun.

Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the House of Assembly. The geographical division of the Island made by His Majesty's Proclamation of the 26th July, has had the effect of excluding the inhabitants of certain places from any participation in the rights enjoyed by their fellow countrymen. - This defect in those instructions can with most propriety be remedied by the Legislature; and I am to signify to you His Majesty's wish that such provision may be made by Law as will embrace every part of the Colony within some one of the Electoral Districts into which the Island has been divided.

Mr. President, and Gentlemen of His Majesty's Council, Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the House of Assembly. - In a Colony that has been so long without any efficient Laws to govern it, or any adequate mode of meeting, by corresponding legal enactments, the varying change of circumstances which much arise in every country, - you will be prepared to expect that a pressure of business will devolve upon you in every department of the Government, which will require your close and unremitting attention.

We believe a more gratifying sight was never before witnessed in this Colony. ROYAL GAZETTE. FREDERICTON, FEBRUARY 13, 1833. ALMS HOUSE AND WORK HOUSE. European dates to the 29th December, by way of Boston, announce the intelligence of the Surrender of Antwerp on the 24th of that month; we subjoin the only particulars which have reached us on the subject, from which it appears that it was vigorously defended until the last extremity, and at an immense loss of lives on the French side. - From the Boston Morning Post, January 20. IMPORTANT FROM EUROPE. SURRENDER OF THE CITADEL OF ANTWERP. - By the arrival at this port yesterday, of the brig Alexander, Capt. Pendleton, from Amsterdam and new Dioppe, 29th Dec., information has been received of the surrender of the Citadel of Antwerp to the French.

Mr. President, and Gentlemen of His Majesty's Council, Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the House of Assembly. The first General Assembly is now in full operation in the Island of Newfoundland; and I beg to offer you my sincere congratulations on so important an event, with my prayer that its establishment may be attended by every blessing a virtuous and free people can hope for or deserve; and if anticipations of the future may be drawn from the conduct of the people of Newfoundland, in the first exercise of the rights conferred upon them, there is every reason to trust that my wishes may not be disappointed. The harmony, order, and goodwill, that have been maintained in the course of the Elections are deserving of great praise; and I should not do justice to my feelings, or to the inhabitants of St. John's, were I not to make it known that although a COLONIAL. NEWFOUNDLAND. From the Supplement to the Royal Gazette. January 1. OPENING OF THE FIRST SESSION OF THE COLONIAL LEGISLATURE. We are happy in being enabled to fulfil the promise which we made this morning to communicate to our readers the particulars of the interesting ceremony of opening the first Session of the Colonial Legislature, and at the same time to place on official record of the proceedings on that important occasion. His Excellency the Governor, attended as we have already described, reached the Court House about two o'clock, was received at the door of the Sheriff's House by the High Sheriff and the Sergeant at Arms to the Council, who led the way to the throne, in the following order: - Sergeant at Arms. High Sheriff. Lieut. Col. Odfield, R. E. Capt. Bondant, R. N. Port Major Griffiths, THE GOVERNOR. Lieut. Col. Dunscomb, A. D. C. Major McKenzie, R. V. C. Capt. Wyatt, R. A. Private Secretary.

His Excellency was received in the House by His Majesty's Council (standing), and having taken his seat on the throne (in a chair of state prepared for the occasion), was pleased to desire the Council to be seated, and then commanded the Deputy Usher of the Black Rod to summon the attendance of the House of Assembly immediately in the Council Room; and the members having accordingly taken their places at the foot of the Council table, His Excellency addressed them in an introductory speech, which embraced an outline of the ever-changing circumstances of the Colony from time to time, and feelingly adverted to the hitherto dependent condition of the inhabitants on the mother country; on the conclusion of which the President of the Council, turning to the members of the Assembly, signified to them His Excellency's pleasure that they should repair to the place in which they were to sit, and there proceed to the choice of some proper person as their speaker; and that they should come and present the person so chosen for His Excellency's approbation.

The House of Assembly then retired, and shortly after returned again to the Council Room, when N. W. Hoyle, Esq. addressed the Governor, and stated that they had, in obedience to His Excellency's command, chosen a speaker, and had elected to that office John Bingley Garland, Esq. [Representative of the District of Trinity], whom he begged leave to present for His Excellency's approbation; upon which the Governor replied - that he approved of the Speaker the House had chosen.

The Speaker Elect then addressed the Governor to the following purport - Your Excellency having been pleased to approve of the choice the House of Assembly have made of me as their Speaker, it now becomes my duty, as such, in the name of His Majesty's loyal subjects the people of Newfoundland, humbly to demand for them that they may have freedom of Speech in their debates; that they may be free from arrest, and enjoy all customary rights and privileges; and that whenever His Majesty's service, and the interest of the colony, may require it, I, as their Speaker, may have free access to your Excellency's person.

The Governor then addressed the two Branches of the Legislature in the following speech, - which he delivered in an emphatic tone and with his accustomed grace and dignity; Mr. President, and Gentlemen of His Majesty's Council, Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the House of Assembly.

The first General Assembly is now in full operation in the Island of Newfoundland; and I beg to offer you my sincere congratulations on so important an event, with my prayer that its establishment may be attended by every blessing a virtuous and free people can hope for or deserve; and if anticipations of the future may be drawn from the conduct of the people of Newfoundland, in the first exercise of the rights conferred upon them, there is every reason to trust that my wishes may not be disappointed. The water was brought; and having mixed what was thought to be salts, she swallowed them. The moment she had done so, she pointed to the paper which had contained the drug and her friend then perceived "Poison oxalic acid," marked upon it. She lost no time in procuring assistance: the sufferer was conveyed to the Hospital, where the stomach-pump was immediately resorted to with success, and after she had partially recovered she was carried home to her parents. The following lines were found in her bosom when at the hospital. "Dear Father and Mother - Richards has proved false to me, and I shall never be happy again. So adieu forever. SUSANNAH." [We have every week such cases of fatality as this. What is the description of breeding that these poor frivolous creatures receive? There is evidently a sad want of any thing like moral discipline in families, to say nothing of religion, or it would be impossible, whenever a pale-faced shambling boy or hysterical girl met with the slightest disappointment, that they should have immediate recourse to the Apothecary's shop or the river for comfort.]
