NOTICE.

YORK, to wit:

EDWARD W. MILLER, Esquire, High Sheriff of the County aforesaid, having received His Majesty's Writ for the Election of Four able and discreet Persons to represent the County aforesaid, in General Assembly, does in obedience thereto, proclaim and give Public Notice, that the said Election will take place at the County Court House in Fredericton, on Monday the Eighth day of December next, at Eleven o'clock in the forenoon, when and where all persons interested therein will be heard, and are to attend accordingly.

E. W. MILLER, Sheriff.

Fredericton, 23d November, 1834.

To the Independent Freeholders of the County of Sunbury.

GENTLEMEN, YOU are again called upon to exercise the very important franchise of Election—one of the dearest of our constitutional Rights, and one which the County of Sunbury has always used with becoming consideration and independence.

Interested in the County as a Landholder, attached to it by recollections of my Family and Childhood, connected with it by my official situation among you, it has long been an object of my ambition to be the Representative of its Inhabitants in the Provincial Assembly. I have therefore the more readily complied with the wishes of my friends, and present myself before you to solicit your support.

In the office I have had the honor to hold, you have had opportunities of observing my conduct. In my professional character I have come frequently under your notice. Have my endeavours to serve you by a straight forward performance of my duty been crowned with success? Are my character and abilities, as a man and a Lawyer, such as you can confide in? These are considerations worthy of your attention: satisfied on these points, you have the best pledge I can give you for continued and increased exertion, if placed in the honorable situation of your Representative.

Unconnected with party, it shall be my study to remain so, and at all times to support those measures which I may believe will tend to the public good, while I will firmly oppose every infringement upon your rights and privileges.

I have the honor to be,

Gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

G. F. S. BERTON.

Burton, 28th November, 1834.

To the Electors of the County of York.

GENTLEMEN, THE unexpected dissolution of the House of Assembly, with the short time allowed before the opening of the Poll for a new selection of Members to serve in the General Assembly of this Province, has afforded but little time to any Person wishing to come forward as a Candidate for that selection. As to myself it has been still shorter. Having been in Saint John, endeavouring to collect the property of many of you whom I have the honor now to address, and trying to save it from being lost in the ice, I was prevented from sooner announcing to you my intention of offering myself as one of the Candidates for your suffrages at the ensuing Election.

I am not conscious at any former period in my Legislative capacity of ever betraying your interest. It would be impossible, situated as I am—a Farmer and a Merchant—to do so, without material injury to myself. There are several questions of the utmost importance to the welfare, not only of this County, but of the Province at large, unsettled—which will come before the Legislature the ensuing Session—and which I should much like, if possible, to see settled to the satisfaction of all parties. As to these points in question, it would be natural to suppose that any person intimately acquainted with them, would be the most competent to settle what had been before commenced.

If it should be your good pleasure to nominate me as one of your Representatives, I shall again endeavour, to the utmost of my power, to do that which, in my opinion, will be for the benefit of the County of York, and the general good of the Province at large. I have the honor to be,

Gentlemen,

Your most obt. humble servt.

JEDEDIAH SLASON.

1st December, 1834.

TO THE FREEHOLDERS OF THE COUNTY OF YORK.

Gentlemen, AS it will very soon become your duty to elect Four persons, to represent you in the General Assembly of this Province, it is my design to offer myself as a Candidate for your suffrages.

If you should not find among the other Candidates those in whose talents and integrity you can place more implicit confidence, I shall be most happy to devote myself to your service.

I am,

Gentlemen,

Your humble and faithful servant,

THOMAS PICKARD.

Fredericton, 24th November, 1834.

TO THE ELECTORS OF YORK.

GENTLEMEN AND FELLOW-COUNTRYMEN, IN common with all other portions of the world we have our changes. The political, as well as the natural, atmosphere has its periodical agitations. Pursuing the even tenor of our way, we have, in an instant, been thrown into commotion, by the just exercise of a legitimate prerogative power. A portion of our fellow-countrymen being disfranchised, or only partially represented, the decree has gone forth which will open up the way to them, in common with all, for the exercise of one of their dearest rights.

Among the number who will shortly present themselves for your election, I purpose to appear. But yesterday, unanimously chosen as one of your Representatives, to-day, am I thrown back upon you, stripped of my Representative character—let down from my political elevation and again standing among you, at once a Constituent and a Candidate. Although I am thus returned upon your hands divested of your delegated power, yet am I unchanged in zeal for your interest—unshaken in my attachment to the Country. The land of my birth—the place of my education—every face almost is familiar to me—every spot around me is hallowed by the recollections of youth—every scene awakens associations which enhance my "love of country"—and strengthen my devotedness to your welfare.

The Genius of our Provincial population—a people truly British—is daily gathering new strength and is rapidly extending its nervous arm over the resources of the Country, bringing hidden treasures to light, and laying open avenues to wealth for the industrious and enterprising. The grey dawn of our prosperity is past—the light of a perfect day is now being diffused—and New-Brunswick is about stepping from adolescence to manhood. As with mankind, so with Kingdoms and Provinces, this period more than any other, requires discreet direction and resolute control.

Never, as at this time, have I been so impressed with the importance and responsibility of the Legislative office. Desires of making every possible return for the confidence which you had reposed in me, I have not passed my time since the election in June thoughtless of your wants and your interests; but have endeavored to prepare myself for the proper discharge of those Representative duties which I supposed would be long devolve upon me. In these preparations, the horizon of duty has become enlarged—the sphere of operation has expanded, and the sense of my responsibility has proportionably become quickened. Truly the charge is great—truly your Representatives should be zealous—discreet—and indefatigable. Their hearts should be knit together as the heart of one man—"United" should be their motto, your interest their aim.

A word or two more, and I shall conclude. May a spirit of Independence be manifested in your choice—may no persuasion lead you into personal pledges which may shackle your liberty of franchise at the hustings; but may you think and speak and act as the free men of a free Country.

I have the honor to be, with devoted attachment

Gentlemen,

your humble servant,

L. A. WILMOT.

Fredericton, 22d November, 1834.

TO THE FREE AND INDEPENDENT ELECTORS OF THE COUNTY OF YORK.

Gentlemen, HIS Excellency having been pleased to dissolve the General Assembly of this Province, and to order Writs to be issued calling a new Assembly, you will soon be called upon, in the just exercise of one of your dearest rights as British subjects, to select persons duly qualified to represent you in the Provincial Assembly.

By the solicitation of a number of very respectable Freeholders, I am induced to offer myself as a Candidate for your suffrages at the approaching Election. In so doing I am under the influence of no party, nor have I any personal interest to serve, being fully aware that a strict and faithful attention to the duties of a Representative of the people would occasion some loss to my own private business; however, if I can be of any service to the Province at large, but more particularly to this County, I shall be fully compensated.

I need scarcely tell you, Gentlemen, that my future success in life depends upon your prosperity, for you are well aware that the Agricultural, the Mercantile, the Lumbering and the Commercial interests of the Province are so closely interwoven to admit of separation without serious injury to the whole.

There has, perhaps, never been an era in the Political History of our Province when the people were more loudly called upon to make a wise selection of persons to be entrusted with their Rights and Privileges than the present; for I do not hesitate to say, that heretofore too little encouragement has been afforded to the industrious and enterprising inhabitants of our Province: That, while large portions of our Public Revenues have been lavishly expended to useless purposes, the permanent improvement of the Country has been almost wholly neglected; and it is no doubt still in your recollection, that questions, involving your deepest interests, have been recently agitated in the Province, and are still likely to come before the Legislature—the settlement of which may very much depend on your present choice of Members to serve you in the Provincial Parliament.

My situation in business, for the last six or seven years, has, I presume, given the most of you an opportunity of forming some acquaintance with me; and how far I am qualified to fill the important and honorable situation of a Representative for the County of York, is for you to determine. I can only say, Gentlemen, that no person can feel more deeply interested for the general welfare of the Province than I do—indeed nothing would be more gratifying to my feelings than to be able to promote the various interests of my native Country.

Should you, Gentlemen, by a majority of your independent Votes, elect me to this responsible situation, I pledge myself to use my utmost exertion, on all occasions, to protect your Rights and to advance your interests.

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen,

with great respect,

Your most obedient and very humble servant,

JOHN T. SMITH.

Fredericton, 22d November, 1834.

TO THE INDEPENDENT FREEHOLDERS OF THE COUNTY OF YORK.

Gentlemen, IN consequence of the unexpected dissolution of the House of Assembly, you are again called upon to make choice of Four duly qualified persons to fill the highly important situation of Representing you in the General Assembly of this Province.

Actuated by a sense of gratitude for your very liberal support on a former occasion, and by a sincere desire to employ my utmost exertions to advance your interests, I beg respectfully to offer myself again as a Candidate for your suffrages, and to assure you, that, if favoured with a continuance of your confidence, my best endeavours shall be devoted to your interest, and to a faithful and conscientious discharge of so important a trust.

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen,

Your much obliged, and most obedient servant,

JAMES TAYLOR, JUNR.

Fredericton, 24th November, 1834.

TO THE ELECTORS OF YORK COUNTY.

Gentlemen, WE are once more on the eve of a General Election, and I beg leave a Second time to come forward as a Candidate for the honour of representing this fine County in the General Assembly of the Province.

I am, Gentlemen, deeply sensible of the important nature of the situation, and the great responsibility incurred by the Individual who undertakes to represent British Freeholders; and I regret that my talents are not such as I would wish to devote to your cause—the cause of our Country. But, Gentlemen, confident in the uprightness of my principles, in a zealous devotion to your welfare, and in an intimate knowledge of what is requisite to promote your interests, I shrink not from the responsibility, and beg to assure you, that if I should have the honor to be chosen one of your Representatives, I will Legislate honestly, independently, and to the best of my judgment for the furtherance of all objects likely to tend to your general prosperity. That an ample field is now open for exertion in your behalf, all must acknowledge; and whether I am worthy of being one of your Husbandmen I now leave to the decision of your unbiased judgment; and confident that you will exercise the most highly valued privilege of British Subjects, with independence and discernment, I shall bow cheerfully to your decision however I may be affected thereby.

I am, Gentlemen,

Most respectfully,

Your very obedient servant,

JOHN A. BECKWITH.
