PROGRESS OF THE WAR

[August 10 to August 16]

During the week under review no important changes were made in the western front, though much fighting occurred from Alsace to the Yser. As has been the case for many weeks, only the scantiest news has transpired, and that somewhat contradictory. Fierce attacks and counter attacks were delivered in Argonne, and to the north of Arras, and it is believed that from those districts the Entente Powers gained some slight advantage of ground. The long-looked-for big drive of the Germans in the west has not yet begun.

As in the previous week, interest centred in the eastern arena. While the Russians have held their ground at several points, at others they have continued to fall back. The announcement last week of the evacuation of Riga was premature. The Russians continue to hold that important Port, though Teutonic land forces are close to it in the south, and an attempt by a German fleet to bombard it from the Gulf was repulsed by the Russian navy, with the reported loss of a German war ship. Fierce attacks by the Teutons on Russian fort place throughout the week, but none appear to have succeeded. In those parts of the line where the Russians continued to retire, rear-guard actions were fought with great determination; and the attempts of the Teutons to effect an embolvement of the Russian centre were all frustrated. Just how much further the Russians intend to retire is not wholly apparent, though one might conjecture that the final stand has at least been chosen.

In the Dardanelles and the Gallipoli Peninsula much progress has been made by the Allies, who have landed successfully large numbers of reinforcements from the Gulf of Saros. Only scant details of the operations have been given out, but the news published officially has all been of an encouraging kind. A British submarine is said to have made the passage of the Straits of Bosphorus and entered the Black Sea. If this is true, the beginning of the end should soon be in sight.

Fierce engagements continued on the Austro-Italian frontier, but no important Italian advances were chronicled during the week. An Italian submarine sank an Austrian submarine, the newest and most powerful type; and two Austrian torpedo boats bombarded Italian towns on the Adriatic coast, inflicting no very serious damage, however.

The activity of the German submarines "blockade" was vigorously resumed during the week, the principal victims being British trawlers and small merchantmen, and a few merchant vessels belonging to neutral nations. More than a score of lives were reported to have been lost. The exact positions of these disasters are no longer announced by the Admiralty.

Air raids by Zeppelins on the east coast of England took place during the week, and the town of Harwich in Essex, it is believed to be a place visited by these obnoxious air craft. Nearly twenty civilians, including women and children, are said to have been killed, and a number of buildings burned. On the last day of the week, reviewed, a German submarine shelled three towns on the coast of Cumberland, but the damage done is reported to have been comparatively small; and, fortunately, there appears to have been no loss of life.

Reports of earlier operations in the Cameroons came in during the week, and these appear in the news items. Intense interest prevailed in regard to the Balkan States, where the Entente Powers appear to have been continuing their efforts to compose the differences of those States and bring about another alliance against Turkey. The resumption of hostilities by Austria-Hungary against Serbia, which took place during the week, would seem to tend to precipitate events. The Greek and Serbian parliaments re-assembled on August 16, and the outcome of their deliberations is awaited with keen anticipation, if not with great anxiety. The serious obstacle to united action on the part of all the Balkan States is the claim for territory on the part of Bulgaria, which Greece and Serbia seem unwilling to concede. The impasse cannot continue much longer, and it may be possible to record great changes in the following week.

RECRUITING

The Maritime Provinces are still much behind the other Provinces of the Dominion in the percentage of enlistments for overseas service; and the demand for more men is most urgent. Something must be done to induce more of our young men to enlist. The cry comes from the trenches, from Great Britain, and from Ottawa. We must have more men. Charlotte County must raise more men. One form of service for which our fishermen are especially qualified is the naval, and from Halifax comes the call for recruits for the Canadian Navy. This ought to appeal to a great number of our young men who could be spared in these critical times. Let them read the advertisement appearing in another part of this issue, and respond promptly.

But what are the young men thinking about whom we see day after day driving about for pleasure in automobiles, or swinging golf clubs on the links? Some of these are American visitors, it is true; but many of them are Canadians, unmarried, who can well be spared for the time for the solemn duty and most glorious privilege of fighting for the land of their birth and for the Empire of which it is so important a part, and destined (if destiny receives the support demanded

INCREDIBLE RASCALITY

WE print in another column the report of two days' evidence given at the official inquiry at Kentville, N. S., into the matter of the purchase of horses for army purposes. The inquiry is still in progress, and each day evidence of a similar character has been given. It is most humiliating to think that anywhere in Canada could be found such sordid, mercenary and unscrupulous people as members of the committee. Not even patriotism, and the grave crisis in which the whole Empire is involved, could restrain these rascals from displaying their incredible meanness and greed. If some criminal prosecution could follow the finding of the Commission of Inquiry, great indignation will be felt throughout the Dominion.

SOCIAL LIFE OF ST. ANDREWS

WE print in another part of this issue an account of the Patriotic Entertainment given in the Andreale Hall on Wednesday evening of last week, the proceeds of which were handed to the local branch of the Red Cross Society as members. The entertainment was arranged and carried out by the summer residents of the Town, though much assistance was given by the President of the local Society, Mrs. G. H. Stickney, and other members. The entertainment was probably the best ever given in St. Andrews, and the large Hall was filled to its utmost capacity by a delighted and enthusiastic audience. Too much praise cannot be given to Lady Tait for the genius and untiring energy she displayed in promoting the entertainment and in making it the success it was.

Perhaps the not least pleasing feature of the event was the bringing together on this occasion the summer visitors and the townspeople. It has been a matter of comment in the past that there is very little community of feeling and interest between the temporary and permanent residents; and that purely local entertainments are never patronized by cottagers and hotel guests. The Red Cross entertainment ought to be a forerunner of the closer association of visitors with the people of the Town, and a participation in their social life and amusements. A more intimate acquaintance would undoubtedly prove to be a source of mutual satisfaction to visitors and townspeople alike.

UNUSUAL STREETS

IN a recent issue we called attention to the unsightly condition of some of the streets. These are, principally, Water Street and the lower end of the main street joining it. The most unsightly place of all is the Post Office corner. The pernicious habit prevails of scattering about old newspapers, postal wrappers, peanut shells, fruit peelings, etc., and it is much larger than the estimate by the department. The stuppance account is thus also greater than last year and far beyond the expectations of the department. In 1914 $319,000 was paid to the department in stuppance.

PREMIER BORDEN PAYS VISIT TO ADMIRALTY

LONDON, Aug. 13.—Premier Borden had a conference at the Admiralty concerning matters of importance to Canada. Subsequently he had a conference with Sir Edward Grey, the Foreign Secretary. Sir Robert also visited the soldiers' and sailors' hostel at Regent Park. The Premier has been greatly impressed with the excellent work carried on by the Canadian Red Cross Society in London and by the similarly effective work carried on by the Canadian War Contingent Association in providing comforts for the men at the front. Both these associations had been splendidly supported in Canada, and those carrying on the work in London have spoken to Sir Robert in terms of most grateful appreciation of the assistance given them by the people of the Dominion.

LISSAUER BECOMES ASHAMED OF HIS "SONG OF HATE"

Amsterdam, Aug. 14.—Even Ernest Lissauer appears to be becoming ashamed of the Song of Hate. He writes to the Berlin Zigzag saying he agrees with its view that the song is not intended for the young, and he has often advised against its publication in school books. "The Song of Hate," he writes, "was written as the result of a passionate impulse in the first week of the war, when the impression created by England's declaration of war was fresh. The Song of Hate is a political poem directed against individual Englishmen, but collectively against the English will be destruction which threatens Germany. In the excitement of those days my feelings were deeply stirred by this. Whether these feelings can continue with the cool consideration of practical politics is another question."

CAPTAIN FROM INDIA GAVE UP RANK TO GET INTO FIGHTING

LONDON, August 7.—How a captain of the British army in India left his regiment there, and under an assumed name, joined the British expeditionary force in France as a private, and as a private died bravely in battle, is told in an official statement given out by the British Press Bureau. The captain is S. Smart, of the Fifty-third Sikhs, was missing and his captivity cancelled. "Since, it has been ascertained that his action was due to his strong desire to join the force in France. He came to this country and enlisted as Thomas Hardy, in the Royal West Surrey Regiment, and, serving as a private, he was killed in action May 17 at Festubert, where he displayed such gallantry that he would have been granted the medal for Distinguished Conduct had he survived."

GERMAN TRIBUTE TO LORD KITCHENER

Amsterdam, July 24.—In an article on Britain's new armies, the Berlin correspondent of the Kitchener Volkszeitung pays a high tribute to the organizing talent of Lord Kitchener, and says "even German envy must admit that his recruiting has been an organizing performance of the very first rank." The article continues: "Certainly the new army is composed for a great part of inferior elements and is not equal, of course, in quality to the old small mercenary English Army. But

To Farmers

You would not think of letting productive land lie idle. Is your surplus money working for you? If not, we suggest that you open a savings account with us. Where but in a good sound Bank can your money—whether $10 or $10,000—be set to work earning interest, and, at the same time, remain absolutely safe and immediately available?

WANTED—WORKERS IN THE EMPIRE'S GRANARY.

Approximately fifty thousand men will be required this year to harvest the Western crop, which, from present indications, will be the biggest in the Country's history. Now is the chance for every man, more especially those with farming experience that are not at present, and who do not possess carrying arms in defence of their country, to avail themselves of the opportunity to do their share, and at the same time increase their earnings by working a few months at good wages.

INCREASE IN REVENUE FOR GOVERNMENT

The lumber cut on the crown lands of New Brunswick this year was 287,366,000 superficial feet and the stumpage yield is estimated at $416,000. This information was given out by officials at the department of lands and mines this morning. The final figures having been completed. The cut is greater than last year, when 271,000,000 feet were taken from the crown lands by lumber operators, and is much larger than the estimate by the department. The stumpage account is thus also greater than last year and far beyond the expectations of the department. In 1914 $319,000 was paid to the department in stuppance.

Up-River Doings

St. Stephen, August 16.—The Women's Canadian Club garden party last Wednesday evening at the home of Hon. George J. Clark's lawn, was a most splendid success. The grounds were decorated with flags and banners, and made bright with Japanese lanterns and electric lights. Ice cream and cakes were sold, and tickets to win a pair of wool blankets and a handsome embroidered centrepiece. Paper flowers, and a prize fasten on the stem and pretty bouquets of real flowers were also offered for sale, and all found ready and willing takers. Short's Military Band and the Milltown Cornet Band rendered some splendid music. The scene was a gay one, and all who attended the party enjoyed it greatly. The sum of $600 was realized, and will be added to the machine gun fund. The gun is to be the gift of the Women's Canadian Club of St. Stephen and vicinity.
