

A. E. O'NEILL'S FOR MILLINERY AND FANCY GOODS
Water St. ST. ANDREWS

STICKNEY'S
WEDGWOOD STORE

Porcelain, Ornamental and Useful
Cut Glass, Jewellery and Silverware.
Kest & Sons' Brands.
G. H. Stickney
Direct Importer and Retailer

COAL
We have on hand all sizes anthracite and Soft Coal which we will deliver on receipt of order

WOOD
All kinds of Dry Hard Wood, laid as required to any length from one to two feet. Also Spruce and Birch Edgings and Slab Wood Quoddy Coal Co., Ltd.
Water Street, St. Andrews, N. B.
Phone 49-31.

ADWAY
SHIRTS FOR MEN FIT GUARANTEED. An samples to select from RT & SON
ST. ANDREWS, N. B.

NG

Education to who you are,
to offer talent the only adverwho has to the of com-
---Elbert

Social and Personal

Ottawa, Mar. 4.—The casualty list issued at midnight contains the name of one New Brunswick man, Fred A. Woodbury, 26th Battalion, reported wounded.

St. Stephen, March 4.—A telegram from Ottawa says that Pte. Karl H. Vroom, of the 28th, was wounded Feb. 12, and is now in hospital.

Lieut. C. S. Grimmer, who left here with the C. M. R., was a returned officer on the steamer Proterius which arrived early this morning in port. He is a son of Mr. Justice Grimmer of the Supreme Court Bench. When the sixth C. M. R. were reduced to an infantry brigade, Lieut. Grimmer was held behind to act as an instructor in the Machine-Gun Corps. He is now home on leave.—St. John's Globe.

Mr. H. G. Gove, who has been spending a two-months' leave in town, left on Wednesday last to resume his duties with the Hydro-Electric Co., Toronto.

Private Chester Malloch, 115th Battalion, St. John, spent a few days this week at his home on the noon train on Tuesday.

Dr. R. D. Grimmer returned to Montreal on Monday, after spending a few days here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Grimmer.

Messrs. Osborne Rice and J. W. Matthews, Wilson's Beach, Campobello, were in town on Monday.

Capt. G. P. Ryder, St. Stephen, was in town on Tuesday on recruiting business.

Ben. W. M. Fraser spent a few days in town in St. John.

Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Odell drove to St. Stephen on Wednesday last. Mrs. Odell remained over to attend the reception of Mrs. Frank A. Dutton on Wednesday afternoon, returning to St. Andrews by steamer on Friday.

Mrs. Robert Tennant was a passenger on the C. P. R. liner Metagama, which arrived in St. John on Sunday evening last after a rough passage from Liverpool, and arrived here on the noon train on Tuesday.

Mrs. Tennant was called to her home last by the illness of her mother, Mrs. Thomas Allerton, who passed away on Feb. 2, leaving besides her husband, one son, her mother, Mrs. Tennant and one other daughter, and six sons, two of whom are Mr. A. Allerton, of St. Andrews, and Mr. W. J. Allerton, of Quebec.

Mrs. Arthur Mason entertained most enjoyably at the ten hour on Wednesday.

Mrs. Arthur Gove gave a very pleasant luncheon party to a number of her friends on Tuesday evening. Miss Minerva Hibbard delighted the guests with a few piano solos.

Mr. T. E. Sharp returned on Wednesday from a short visit in Gagetown, Queens Co.

Miss Beattie Everett of Fredericton, is the guest of Mrs. C. S. Everett at Maplehurst.

Private Joseph Pendlebury, 15th Battalion, St. John, is spending a few days at his home here.

Mrs. Elizabeth Masson and Mrs. F. W. Masson came in on today's train from Montreal, to attend the funeral of Mrs. Samuel Masson.

Mr. J. H. Stairs, Woodville, was here on business for a few days recently.

People in St. Andrews, and in other parts of Charlotte County, have heard with regret that Pte. Fred A. Woodbury, is among those at the front who reported wounded this week, and all will sincerely hope that the wound is not of a serious nature. Pte. Woodbury was on the staff of the Beacon at the outbreak of the war, and was one of the first in Charlotte County to enlist for overseas service. He had a long period of training in England before going to the front, and some of his letters written to his family and which appeared in other papers gave interesting descriptions of his life in camp and of his impressions of England. We hope he will soon be back on the firing line, to take his part in the final drive of the Hun.

We have been using MINARD'S LINIMENT in our home for a number of years and we can recommend it highly for sprains, bruises, pains or tightness of the chest, soreness of the throat, headache or anything of that sort. We will not be without it one single day, for we get a new bottle before the other is all used.

JOHN WALKFIELD,
La Havel Islands, Lunenburg Co., N. S.

Last
Cleaning-Up
Sale

OF SMALL SIZES IN LADIES' COATS and MISSSES'

From 8 to 14 Years
ALSO PLAID
MACKINAW

10 to 14 Years
ALL GO AT ONE PRICE

$2.12 1-2
See Coats on display in window. Not a Coat in the lot but worth $5.00, some $10.00.

This Sale is for the last days of this month
C. C. GRANT
St. Stephen, N. B.

Local and General

A very successful social and dance was held at Chamcook on Monday evening last, when the sum of $47.00 was raised for patriotic purposes.

The Ladies Recruiting Committee will hold a meeting in the Town Hall, on Monday evening, March 13.

The Eastern Steamship Corporation's steamer St. Andrews, Capt. Grant, which is on the Canada-Eastport route, has gone to Boston for annual repairs. A cargo is supplying in her place, carrying freight only.

It is announced from Fredericton that the Provincial Government has awarded the contract for the Waweg bridge to the Canadian Steel Co.

A Food Sale will be held under the auspices of the Women's Canadian Club in aid of the Soldiers' Field Comforts, on Saturday, March 18, in St. John's Café. All contributions will be gratefully received. Donations may be brought to the Café from 10.30 a.m. on the day of the sale.

The D. G. S. Petrol was docked at the public wharf here for a short time on Wednesday last, having come in for medical treatment for two of her crew, who were suffering from grip.

The members of the Methodist Ladies' Aid met at the Parsonage on the evening of Thursday, March 2, when a Donation Party was held. Each member brought a piece of fancy work as her gift for the summer sale, and a most attractive display was made. The serving of refreshments brought a very pleasant evening to a close.

Mr. Herbert A. McKay, representing Connors Bros., Limited, and who has been securing contracts in this vicinity for the delivery of P. H. Props along the shores of the St. Croix River and Passamaquoddy Bay, for the British admiralty, was in town on Thursday last. Mr. McKay stated that a 2000 ton steamer was daily expected in Halifax with general cargo, and as soon as unloaded would proceed to these waters to load P. H. Props, of which he thought she would carry two thousand cords.

GET FACTS, NOT PROMISES—What the REMINGTON HAS done and is doing, is more interesting to you than what other typewriting machines MAY do.

A Mine Fraser, Halifax, N. S.

BOWLING
A prize of a pipe was won on Monday evening last at the local alley by Mr. Albert Thompson, with a score of 107. The winner put it up again and it was won the second time by Mr. Warren Stinson, with a score of 99.

MARRIED
GARDNER-HOLMES
On March 4, Miss Lila A. Holmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Holmes, of St. Andrews, was united in marriage to Mr. H. Stevens, M. P. of Vancouver, B. C., and Hon. Charles Marcell, M. P. of Bonaventure, Quebec.

"That at this time when the Empire is at war, the conservation of the wealth and resources of the Dominion, and the promotion of the efficiency of our nation, would be materially aided by the prohibition of the manufacture, importation and sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes, and in the opinion of this House, the enactment of this purpose ought to be enacted forthwith."

The Quarterly Official Board of the Methodist Church, in this town, at a recent session, held on February 28, passed a resolution unanimously approving of the above contemplated action, while the congregation assembled last evening, voted 5 to 1 for the same.

Communications conveying these sentiments have been forwarded to the Rt. Hon. Sir E. L. Borden, Prime Minister, and to our representative, T. A. Hart, M. P.

Yours truly,
R. W. WEDDALL

DIED
TREADWELL.—On Monday, March 6, at Oakland, Cal., of heart failure, James Treadwell, son of the late John Peck Treadwell, of St. Andrews, aged 67 years 8 months.

OBITUARY
Mrs. SAMUEL MASON
A gloom was cast over the town on Tuesday morning last, when the news of the death of Mrs. Mason, wife of Mr. Samuel Mason, who had taken office at 6.30 that morning, became known. On Tuesday of last week she suffered the loss of her three children, about three weeks old, but was able to accompany the funeral to the cemetery on Thursday. On Sunday last she was apparently feeling quite well, and went for a walk in the afternoon. After returning home she ate a hearty supper and was all right until midnight, when she was taken suddenly ill with pneumonia poisoning. Everything possible was done to alleviate her condition, but she never rallied, and passed away on Tuesday morning in the 29th year of her age, leaving behind her a sorrowing husband and three small children, two daughters and one son.

The deceased, who had a bright and pleasing manner, and a lovely disposition, was greatly beloved by those whose pleasure it was to know her. Her domestic life had been very happy, which makes her loss all the harder to bear.

The funeral was held on Thursday afternoon, and was largely attended. The service, which was held at the house, was conducted by the Rev. R. W. Weddall, assisted by the Methodist Choir, who sang "Nearer my God to Thee" and "Abide with me." Interment took place in the rural cemetery. The pallbearers were Mr. Thomas Mason, Mr. James Mason, Mr. John Hopkins and Mr. Frank McMillan.

The deepest sympathy is extended by the entire community to the stricken family in their sad and sudden bereavement.

WILLIAM NODDIN
On Saturday, March 4, occurred the death of William Noddin at his home at Desha's Harbor.

Decceased, who was 56 years of age, suffered a stroke of paralysis over three years ago, and during the last 18 months has been in almost a helpless condition. All his sufferings during this long time were borne with Christian patience, and he only waited the time he should be freed from pain. So he has gone, and in his death the community has lost a good, honest, Christian man, and the home a loving husband and father. He leaves a widow, a widow and eight children, viz. Mrs. Theodore Wright of Beaver Harbor, and Vernon, of Back Bay; and George, Leonard, Lucinda, Nina, Lavina and Irene at home.

Michael Noddin, of Beaver Harbor, and John Dwyer, of St. Andrews, are brothers of the deceased.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. H. D. Worden on Tuesday afternoon. The choir sang "Doxa Deo Cantus." Shall we meet beyond the River, and Abide with me.

The pallbearers were Guilford Eldridge, Neil Cross, Edgar Wadlin and Daniel Thompson.

JAMES T. TREADWELL
A telegram was received on Tuesday last by Mr. Nathan Treadwell informing him of the death of his brother, James T. which took place, from heart trouble, on board a ferryboat on which he was returning from San Francisco to his home in Oakland, Cal.

Decceased was a son of the late John Peck Treadwell of this town, and was in his 68th year. He and his brother, John, went West when they were young men, and soon after located the famous Treadwell gold mine on Douglas Island, Alaska. Later they organized the Alaska Treadwell Gold Mining Company, which was subsequently sold to the Rothschilds for a large sum of money. They also made money in quicksilver mines, but suffered a heavy loss in the San Francisco fire.

Besides his wife is he is survived by his two sons, Charles and George, and one daughter, Mrs. Milton Horsey, all in the West, and two brothers, John, of New York, and Nathan, of St. Andrews, and two sisters, Mrs. James Stoop, of St. Andrews, and Mrs. Robert McQuoid, of Eagle Point, Oregon. Many of the older residents of the town remember the deceased quite well, and were shocked to hear of his sudden death.

IN REMEMBRANCE
At her home in Dorchester, Mass., on February 29, death came, gently and painlessly, to Mrs. Harriet Toppitt Todd. She was the widow of Dr. W. H. Todd, of St. Stephen, N. B., and was the last member of her generation of that family group at St. Stephen and Milltown, whom Charlotte Co. people will remember for their wide hospitality, geniality and graciousness. Fortune had prospered them and they contributed of that prosperity to the happiness of that large circle who were honored as friends, and which overflowed to friends' friends.

Dr. Todd was "the beloved physician," of genial presence, fine tastes and noble characteristics. Mrs. Todd possessed a strong personality; quick-witted, open-hearted, with a sparkling, kindly manner, generous, warm impulses, firm convictions and executive ability. Their beautiful home, set in the midst of spacious grounds and gardens, was a real home, a delight for many a guest who ended the day there with music, games or conversation, or chose to have a quiet chat with the doctor in his study.

A daughter and a niece, and, for a number of years, the dear old mother, Mr. Houghton, made up a singularly gracious household.

Mrs. Todd possessed a rich, strong, voice for singing; she was a sympathetic reader and forcible speaker, using her talents freely in every good enterprise which she was called upon to aid. She was an active church member, a valuable community worker, and took a special interest in the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. After Mr. Todd's death, some twenty-five years ago, she, with her daughter and niece, removed to Dorchester, Mass., and not long afterward was appointed to the position of Secretary of the State (Mass.) W. C. T. U., having her office on Beacon Street, Boston, for some years.

The Dorchester home, in its pretty setting, soon became filled with the same air of cheer and welcome to old and new friends alike, and here within its walls the writer spent a happy evening and a peaceful night, with talk of mutual friends and reminiscences of old times and incidents. So little apparent change there was in the dear hostess, in face or manner or opinions, that her calm statement about her own precarious health did not produce a depression upon the little group, and after our last good-byes were said in the morning, after her firm hand waved a last farewell from the window, the separation seemed transitory.

It should not be a monopoly, this gift of hearty helpfulness, of cheer, of every-day kindness, it is to be had for the using, and the earlier in life we begin its use, the more precious the legacy we leave behind.

ROLL OF HONOR

RECRUITS FOR OVERSEAS SERVICE FROM ST. ANDREWS

28th BATTALION
Anning, Donald Anning, William
Finigan, Blair
Grant, Arthur
Greenlaw, Ernest
Kelly, Alton
Kingabott, Harold Markey, James
Markey, Percy
McDowell, James Jr.
McQuoid, Charles
Patterson, Frank Richie, Clifford Ryder, Oscar
Turner, Earl
Williamson, Fred
Williamson, Guy

29th BATTALION
Woodbury, Fred A.
Young, Claude

34th BATTALION
Stuart, R. A. Jr.
104th BATTALION
McCarty, George
McMullen, Bernard
Rogers, Thomas
Sharkey, Edward

115th BATTALION
Crichton, Clarence
De Wolfe, Cecil
Duggan, Stanley
Grimmer, Frank
Horsnell, Herbert
Lowery, George C.
MacDonald, Robert McCollough, Robert
McClure, John
McKay, Robert
McMullen, Arthur
McQuoid, Fraser
McQuoid, Vincent
Nutter, Harry Pendlebury, Joseph
Reed, Philip
Rosa, George
Sommer, George
Stor, Melbourne
Taylor, Andrew
Twey, Colin

Other Battalions
Grant, George
Enlisted, but either not accepted, or returned for other reasons
Camick, Clarence
Cummins, Kenneth Gaynor, William
Grimmer, Herbert
Maloney, Benjamin
McDowell, Fred
Richardson, Hector
Rosa, William

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR
[The opinions of correspondents are not necessarily those of the BEACON. This newspaper does not undertake to publish all or any of the letters received. Unsigned communications will not be noticed. Write on one side of paper only. Communications must be plainly written; otherwise they will be rejected. Stamp should be enclosed if return of manuscript is desired in case it is not used. The name and address of the writer should be sent with every letter as evidence of good faith.—Editor BEACON.]

To the Editor of the Beacon
Sir:—

"The following resolution has been introduced into the House of Commons by H. H. Stevens, M. P. of Vancouver, B. C., and Hon. Charles Marcell, M. P. of Bonaventure, Quebec:

"That at this time when the Empire is at war, the conservation of the wealth and resources of the Dominion, and the promotion of the efficiency of our nation, would be materially aided by the prohibition of the manufacture, importation and sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes, and in the opinion of this House, the enactment of this purpose ought to be enacted forthwith."

The Quarterly Official Board of the Methodist Church, in this town, at a recent session, held on February 28, passed a resolution unanimously approving of the above contemplated action, while the congregation assembled last evening, voted 5 to 1 for the same.

Communications conveying these sentiments have been forwarded to the Rt. Hon. Sir E. L. Borden, Prime Minister, and to our representative, T. A. Hart, M. P.

Yours truly,
R. W. WEDDALL

DIED
TREADWELL.—On Monday, March 6, at Oakland, Cal., of heart failure, James Treadwell, son of the late John Peck Treadwell, of St. Andrews, aged 67 years 8 months.

OBITUARY
Mrs. SAMUEL MASON
A gloom was cast over the town on Tuesday morning last, when the news of the death of Mrs. Mason, wife of Mr. Samuel Mason, who had taken office at 6.30 that morning, became known. On Tuesday of last week she suffered the loss of her three children, about three weeks old, but was able to accompany the funeral to the cemetery on Thursday. On Sunday last she was apparently feeling quite well, and went for a walk in the afternoon. After returning home she ate a hearty supper and was all right until midnight, when she was taken suddenly ill with pneumonia poisoning. Everything possible was done to alleviate her condition, but she never rallied, and passed away on Tuesday morning in the 29th year of her age, leaving behind her a sorrowing husband and three small children, two daughters and one son.

The deceased, who had a bright and pleasing manner, and a lovely disposition, was greatly beloved by those whose pleasure it was to know her. Her domestic life had been very happy, which makes her loss all the harder to bear.

The funeral was held on Thursday afternoon, and was largely attended. The service, which was held at the house, was conducted by the Rev. R. W. Weddall, assisted by the Methodist Choir, who sang "Nearer my God to Thee" and "Abide with me." Interment took place in the rural cemetery. The pallbearers were Mr. Thomas Mason, Mr. James Mason, Mr. John Hopkins and Mr. Frank McMillan.

The deepest sympathy is extended by the entire community to the stricken family in their sad and sudden bereavement.

WILLIAM NODDIN
On Saturday, March 4, occurred the death of William Noddin at his home at Desha's Harbor.

Decceased, who was 56 years of age, suffered a stroke of paralysis over three years ago, and during the last 18 months has been in almost a helpless condition. All his sufferings during this long time were borne with Christian patience, and he only waited the time he should be freed from pain. So he has gone, and in his death the community has lost a good, honest, Christian man, and the home a loving husband and father. He leaves a widow, a widow and eight children, viz. Mrs. Theodore Wright of Beaver Harbor, and Vernon, of Back Bay; and George, Leonard, Lucinda, Nina, Lavina and Irene at home.

Michael Noddin, of Beaver Harbor, and John Dwyer, of St. Andrews, are brothers of the deceased.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. H. D. Worden on Tuesday afternoon. The choir sang "Doxa Deo Cantus." Shall we meet beyond the River, and Abide with me.

The pallbearers were Guilford Eldridge, Neil Cross, Edgar Wadlin and Daniel Thompson.

JAMES T. TREADWELL
A telegram was received on Tuesday last by Mr. Nathan Treadwell informing him of the death of his brother, James T. which took place, from heart trouble, on board a ferryboat on which he was returning from San Francisco to his home in Oakland, Cal.

Decceased was a son of the late John Peck Treadwell of this town, and was in his 68th year. He and his brother, John, went West when they were young men, and soon after located the famous Treadwell gold mine on Douglas Island, Alaska. Later they organized the Alaska Treadwell Gold Mining Company, which was subsequently sold to the Rothschilds for a large sum of money. They also made money in quicksilver mines, but suffered a heavy loss in the San Francisco fire.

Besides his wife is he is survived by his two sons, Charles and George, and one daughter, Mrs. Milton Horsey, all in the West, and two brothers, John, of New York, and Nathan, of St. Andrews, and two sisters, Mrs. James Stoop, of St. Andrews, and Mrs. Robert McQuoid, of Eagle Point, Oregon. Many of the older residents of the town remember the deceased quite well, and were shocked to hear of his sudden death.

IN REMEMBRANCE
At her home in Dorchester, Mass., on February 29, death came, gently and painlessly, to Mrs. Harriet Toppitt Todd. She was the widow of Dr. W. H. Todd, of St. Stephen, N. B., and was the last member of her generation of that family group at St. Stephen and Milltown, whom Charlotte Co. people will remember for their wide hospitality, geniality and graciousness. Fortune had prospered them and they contributed of that prosperity to the happiness of that large circle who were honored as friends, and which overflowed to friends' friends.

Dr. Todd was "the beloved physician," of genial presence, fine tastes and noble characteristics. Mrs. Todd possessed a strong personality; quick-witted, open-hearted, with a sparkling, kindly manner, generous, warm impulses, firm convictions and executive ability. Their beautiful home, set in the midst of spacious grounds and gardens, was a real home, a delight for many a guest who ended the day there with music, games or conversation, or chose to have a quiet chat with the doctor in his study.

A daughter and a niece, and, for a number of years, the dear old mother, Mr. Houghton, made up a singularly gracious household.

Mrs. Todd possessed a rich, strong, voice for singing; she was a sympathetic reader and forcible speaker, using her talents freely in every good enterprise which she was called upon to aid. She was an active church member, a valuable community worker, and took a special interest in the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. After Mr. Todd's death, some twenty-five years ago, she, with her daughter and niece, removed to Dorchester, Mass., and not long afterward was appointed to the position of Secretary of the State (Mass.) W. C. T. U., having her office on Beacon Street, Boston, for some years.

The Dorchester home, in its pretty setting, soon became filled with the same air of cheer and welcome to old and new friends alike, and here within its walls the writer spent a happy evening and a peaceful night, with talk of mutual friends and reminiscences of old times and incidents. So little apparent change there was in the dear hostess, in face or manner or opinions, that her calm statement about her own precarious health did not produce a depression upon the little group, and after our last good-byes were said in the morning, after her firm hand waved a last farewell from the window, the separation seemed transitory.

It should not be a monopoly, this gift of hearty helpfulness, of cheer, of every-day kindness, it is to be had for the using, and the earlier in life we begin its use, the more precious the legacy we leave behind.

NG

NG

NG

NG

of the deceased, and Mrs. Ezra Justason, of Pennfield, a sister.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. H. D. Worden on Tuesday afternoon. The choir sang "Doxa Deo Cantus." Shall we meet beyond the River, and Abide with me.

The pallbearers were Guilford Eldridge, Neil Cross, Edgar Wadlin and Daniel Thompson.

JAMES T. TREADWELL
A telegram was received on Tuesday last by Mr. Nathan Treadwell informing him of the death of his brother, James T. which took place, from heart trouble, on board a ferryboat on which he was returning from San Francisco to his home in Oakland, Cal.

Decceased was a son of the late John Peck Treadwell of this town, and was in his 68th year. He and his brother, John, went West when they were young men, and soon after located the famous Treadwell gold mine on Douglas Island, Alaska. Later they organized the Alaska Treadwell Gold Mining Company, which was subsequently sold to the Rothschilds for a large sum of money. They also made money in quicksilver mines, but suffered a heavy loss in the San Francisco fire.

Besides his wife is he is survived by his two sons, Charles and George, and one daughter, Mrs. Milton Horsey, all in the West, and two brothers, John, of New York, and Nathan, of St. Andrews, and two sisters, Mrs. James Stoop, of St. Andrews, and Mrs. Robert McQuoid, of Eagle Point, Oregon. Many of the older residents of the town remember the deceased quite well, and were shocked to hear of his sudden death.

IN REMEMBRANCE
At her home in Dorchester, Mass., on February 29, death came, gently and painlessly, to Mrs. Harriet Toppitt Todd. She was the widow of Dr. W. H. Todd, of St. Stephen, N. B., and was the last member of her generation of that family group at St. Stephen and Milltown, whom Charlotte Co. people will remember for their wide hospitality, geniality and graciousness. Fortune had prospered them and they contributed of that prosperity to the happiness of that large circle who were honored as friends, and which overflowed to friends' friends.

Dr. Todd was "the beloved physician," of genial presence, fine tastes and noble characteristics. Mrs. Todd possessed a strong personality; quick-witted, open-hearted, with a sparkling, kindly manner, generous, warm impulses, firm convictions and executive ability. Their beautiful home, set in the midst of spacious grounds and gardens, was a real home, a delight for many a guest who ended the day there with music, games or conversation, or chose to have a quiet chat with the doctor in his study.

A daughter and a niece, and, for a number of years, the dear old mother, Mr. Houghton, made up a singularly gracious household.

Mrs. Todd possessed a rich, strong, voice for singing; she was a sympathetic reader and forcible speaker, using her talents freely in every good enterprise which she was called upon to aid. She was an active church member, a valuable community worker, and took a special interest in the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. After Mr. Todd's death, some twenty-five years ago, she, with her daughter and niece, removed to Dorchester, Mass., and not long afterward was appointed to the position of Secretary of the State (Mass.) W. C. T. U., having her office on Beacon Street, Boston, for some years.

The Dorchester home, in its pretty setting, soon became filled with the same air of cheer and welcome to old and new friends alike, and here within its walls the writer spent a happy evening and a peaceful night, with talk of mutual friends and reminiscences of old times and incidents. So little apparent change there was in the dear hostess, in face or manner or opinions, that her calm statement about her own precarious health did not produce a depression upon the little group, and after our last good-byes were said in the morning, after her firm hand waved a last farewell from the window, the separation seemed transitory.

It should not be a monopoly, this gift of hearty helpfulness, of cheer, of every-day kindness, it is to be had for the using, and the earlier in life we begin its use, the more precious the legacy we leave behind.

NG

NG

NG

NG

NG

NG

NG

NG

NG

NG

NG

NG

NG

NG

NG

NG

NG

<