Answer to yesterday's conundrum. Because they soar high.

Why is the ocean so restless?

What letter in the alphabet has become extinct since yesterday Mr Young? Vineberg:- "T"

Has Sgt. Sharpe seen the Jewish navy yet?

Pte. O'Malley's requirements in connection with clean linen is receiving the attention of the O.C. Meanwhile we refer him to K.R.&C.

Pte. Billy Smith (seasick) to Sig. Gerald Howard on duty. "Where in thunder do all these waves come from?" Gerald sarcastically "From the flags"

Overheard in the Galley: "Why all this waste of refuse. It's a wonder they don't keep pigs on board." enquired the pessimist of D, Company "Where would they keep 'em" retorted the ~~Saint~~ Sentry "In the trough".

Why does Sgt. Rei Moore carry a blanket? Is it for the bed of the ocean

Why is the Quartermaster like a Leicester Square tart? Because he works by night and sleeps by day, and the reason he continues to do so is because he has his Holmes to go to. Some "Mucky Pup, What!!"

If we do get hit by a submarine Darky, Fred and Bob won't worry, They always get ashore even if nobody else does.

Oh! Yes! Sgt. Lawney says that Sgt. Jacobs should be forbidden the deck after nightfall because he is an IsraeLite!!

So far the rolling of H.M.T. has in no wise interfered with Cpl. Treen's rendition of that tuneful opera "Chin Chin" in the Acting-used to be. near Sergeant's Mess.

Daily Orders:- Bombing practice as usual three times daily Location the passageway outside of Sergt Jim Milne's stateroom

Pte. "Mac" informs us that he cannot understand why the Captain steers the ship out where it is so rough. He thinks we should follow the coast as we did from Montreal to Halifax.
