FRUIT-A-TIVES

Mrs. Corbett Read the Advertisement and Tried It

Avon, May 14th, 1914.
"I have used 'Fruit-a-tives' for Indigestion and Constipation with most excellent results, and they continue to be my only medicine. I saw 'Fruit-a-tives' advertised with a letter in which some one recommended them very highly, so I tried them. The results were more than satisfactory, and I have no hesitation in recommending 'Fruit-a-tives'."

ANNIE A. CORBETT.
Time is proving that 'Fruit-a-tives' can always be depended upon to give prompt relief in all cases of Constipation and Stomach Trouble.

THE HAY CONTRACT

interesting side-light upon the contract and the profits of the Atlantic Hay Company of New Brunswick, which is the concern in which B. Frank Smith of Florenceville, and James McDonald and others were much interested. This company obtained a hay contract from the agricultural department of the dominion government to ship hay from New Brunswick overseas and the contract was of such a character that it was exposed by F. B. Carvell, M. P., in parliament. The debate that followed was read with great interest in New Brunswick, but James McDonald, one of the company, now supplies the missing statements on oath in the court above referred to, which proves that Carvell's exposure of the transaction saved the country at large the considerable sum of $30,000.

James McDonald is a hay and grain merchant in the city of Montreal, and on pages 11, 12, 13 and 14 of the court record the following sworn testimony appears:

Q—Now, when is the financial year of the Atlantic Hay Company ending?

A—It will end as soon as the contract ends.

Q—What do you mean by that?

A—If the contract ends tomorrow, then the year ends. If it does not end, it will continue on, until the contract ends.

Q—Well, surely you strike a balance some time?

A—They do not strike a balance until the contract is completed.

Q—What contract is that?

A—The contract with the government for pressing hay.

Q—And you are going on and getting along all the time without striking a balance?

A—It only takes three or four months. They only work in the winter time. They do not work in the summer. It is only a small contract.

Q—So you cannot tell me what profits have been realized by the Atlantic Hay Company?

A—I could not tell you because the government has limited them to $1 a ton, and an auditor is going to be put on the books.

Q—You are limited to $1 per ton profit?

A—Yes.

Q—How many tons?

A—Fifteen thousand tons.

Q—So that the Atlantic Hay Company will realize $15,000?

A—Yes, and the government has limited it to that. They had a better contract before in which they made about $45,000 or $50,000 but it was cut down after Carvell got after them in Ottawa. He is responsible for getting $2 a ton cut off.

Q—When do you expect to finish the contract?

A—I think they will have about another month's work—three or four weeks.

Q—And then you close up the year?

A—Yes.

Q—And divide the profits?

A—Yes, whatever the government allows us to divide. The government has been very good this year.

Q—Now, about this contract between the Atlantic Hay & Grain Company and the government, you say that originally the contract was for $23 a ton, and you were to make $3?

A—We were making $3 out of the $23.

Q—And you say it has been cut down now?

A—Yes, so as to let us make $1 a ton. That is all the company can make.

Q—When was that done?

A—When did this order come to the company?

A—I could not tell you that, but I know it has come. It is mentioned in the papers that Burrill and Carvell were at one another about it. I know we are to make $1 a ton out of it.

Q—Well, that is for the present, but for the past, you must have received these $3 a ton?

A—No, from the start of the contract. It is retroactive.

Q—And you agreed to that?

A—B. F. Smith agreed to it. I had nothing to do with the making of the contract.

Q—And you agreed to that?

A—B. F. Smith agreed to it. I had nothing to do with the making of the contract.

Q—And you agreed to that?

THE LIQUOR COLLECTION

Abuse is not an argument. Hon. Mr. Baxter has yet to learn this truth. Yesterday in the Legislature he used his favorite weapon in dealing with the exposure of the raid upon the liquor dealers made by E. S. Carter in his letter to L. A. Dugal, M. P. P., which that member read in his speech. What is wanted is an investigation into this whole business. It is admitted by the liquor dealers that large sums—thousands of dollars—were collected from them while amendments to the Liquor License Act were under consideration. What was the reason for collecting this large amount of money? People who employ lawyers to protect their interests against adverse legislation, know that no

business man can afford to neglect

the liquor interests of his business men. It is a fact that the services of J. A. Barry and G. Earle Logan

were not costing them thousands of dollars. What, then, was the reason for such a large sum?

Were they falsely led to think that the opinion of the Legislature could be influenced by money?

It is to their best interests, as well as the interests of the Legislature, that the facts should be exposed.

There has been too much speculating about this wretched business. Mr. Carter says one company paid $800 to this fund.

What for? What representations were made to this concern and to others that would make them

think it necessary to pay over such sums? We can understand that the liquor interests would protect themselves as far as possible. But to protect themselves would not be an expensive matter of itself.

There is evidence that even

while their legal representatives were here demands for more were sent to St. John.

Why? That is what a Royal

Commissioner would find out.—

Gin Pills

FOR THE KIDNEYS

Why Recommended

"My case was very serious and I was so sick that everybody expected my death any day. No suffering could ever be worse than what I had to endure.

I could feel at first the gravel passing through my bladder but now I am as strong as ever. I weigh about 20 lbs. more than when I started to take Gin Pills.

I beg you to publish my letter so that people may know what Gin Pills had done for me. The first box relieved me a good deal, and eight boxes were sufficient to cure me entirely, and bring me back to perfect health.
