SACKVILLE, N. B., APRIL 16, 1896.

A REPORT has been received that Cecil Rhodes, the Napoleon of South Africa, is dead. The story has not been confirmed.

MAJOR McKinley's chances of reaching the White House at Washington are good. There is less talk of a third term for Cleveland.

SOME very good authorities are of the opinion that the efforts of Turkey to get rid of missionaries in Armenia are due to Russian Coercion. It is believed that the Czar has established a virtual protecturate over Turkey.

The Transcript says "Laurier's reply to Tupper had the ring of confident anticipation of victory about it,' Yes, the liberal leaders are always confident, and if it does them any good to be in such a frame of mind and to anticipate a little now and again who will object? It's all they will ever get poor fellows.

THE POST is informed that there is some talk of Kings Co. running solicitor General White for the Commons instead of Hon Mr. Pugsley, Fowler to go into the local government. With a third candidate in the field Mr. Pugsley's chances of election are not very encouraging. There is some talk of him running for St, John.

IN A recent debate in the senate with reference to the action of the British government in excluding Canadian cattle, Senator Ferguson of P. E. I. pointed out the utter fallacy of the contention that pleuro-pneumenia existed in Canada was shown by the fact that since the imposition of the schedule 100,000 cattle had been examined and the lungs of over 5,000 animals had been dealt with by experts, and not a single case of disease discovered.

THE MONTREAL Star is of the opinion that the general elections will be brought on by the 20th of June or thereabouts. It poirts out that this would be between seeding time and haying time when the farmers would have a Lull which would enable them to give up more time to politics than they would be able to earlier or later. The Post is strongly of the opinion that an election will be brought on much earlier than June 20.

THE LIBERAL PARTY in St. John is very much divided. There is the Telegraph, —H. H. McLean,—Col. Tucker, faction and then there is a large body known as the young liberals who are very much opposed to the old party. The young men have refused to accept the nomination of Col. Tucker and have sent word to Hon. Mr. Davies to that effect. The young liberals came out ahead about a year ago and it looks as if they might succeed on this occasion.

THE Cuban war continues, and the end is apparently no nearer than it was six months ago. General Weyler has had nearly two months experience and notwithstanding the extreme measures he has resorted to, has failed to bring the insurgents under subjection. Gomez the rebel leader is still alive according to the latest report. He seems to bear a charmed life for his death has been reported many times. The rainy season will soon begin on the island when the insurgent leaders hope for a brief respite. They also look forward to serious losses by fever from the troops under Weyler.

FAST TRAVEL.

Travelling in a railway train at the rate of several hundred miles an hour may sound very much like an Arabian Night story, yet according to a report just received such a rate of speed upon our railroads is not only possible but very likely to be realized in the immediate future. V. A. Emond of Quebec city and his son O. V. A. Emond have it is stated invented the article designed to revolutionize the present system of railroad travel. Roughly speaking, the invention consists of inverted-V-shaped runners for the car, which slide upon rollers arranged in grooved rails. It is very simple, the track is attached to the car, while the wheels are made to serve as a track. Among other advantages claimed are that trains can be run at a greatly increased rate of speed without danger of derailment; that all risk from obstruction on the track is obviated: that as the rail is entirely covered and provided with holes at the base for the escape of water, etc it offers advantages, hitherto unattained, in contending against frost, snow, rain and dust; that the trucks have no wheels, nor shafts, nor bearings, liable to break at any moment, do not require oil nor packing, and will not involve any daily expense in service, while they will also be much cheaper in construction, and the combination will permit of the use of much lighter cars, thus lessening the cost of rolling stock and motive power. Trains may be run by steam or electric engines, trolley or cable.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Of 1,000 men who marry, 385 marry younger women, 570 marry women of the same age, and 89 marry older women.

Sir John Schultz, ex-governor of Manitoba died in Mexico, where he had gone for the benefit of his health, on Sunday last.

They have discovered a way in the United States to make maple syrup from corn cobs which looks and tastes like the genuine article.

The London correspondent of a New York paper remark that "Poor Mrs. Maybrick seems destined to remain in prison." Poor roisoned Mr. Maybrick seems also destined to remain dead.

The Duke of Marlborough and his bride, formerly Miss Vanderbilt, of New York, have arrived at their home, Blenheim, from their honeymoon trip. They were enthusiastically received by the villagers and tenantry.

Mr. Edward Blake, M. P., left London on a trip on Thursday last and in perfect health. The sensational stories circulated in Canada by the Great North Western News Agency as to his being suddenly and dangerously stricken in the House of Commons are without foundation.

YOUR STREETS, SIR.

The Necessity of Good Streets and Sidewalks in a Town.

A recent issue of the Montreal Witness contains a very suggestive cartoon. Spring, represented by a young and beautiful woman is just emerging from the back ground. Before her bowing low is a man wrapped in furs. He is labelled Montreal "Welcome Miss Spring," the man in the fur coat is saying "but what has made you so late in coming out?" to which the fair creature makes reply "Your streets sir." And do not the streets to some extent prevent the approach of spring in Sackville? In this particular, our town is behind. It has no better streets, and its sidewalks are in many cases inferior to those of small villages with a population of two or three hundred. Of course the character of the soil has very much to do with the making of a good street and the soil around Sackville is not the best.

But one thing seems plain, mud will not make a street, there must of necessity be a foundation of a more solid and lasting material. Stone may be difficult to obtain, gravel does not seem to be within easy reach, yet both are obtainable and if instead of going over the streets year after year filling up the few holes made by water and frost, with natural soil, gravel were hauled and placed upon the streets which are in the greatest need of it, would the community not be very much benefited and the town made more attractive? It might not be possible to repair all the streets in one season, but surely something might be done each year and if done well in a few years Sackville would possess good streets. The amount of road money collected in this neighborhood would seem to warrant such a step being taken. Another thing which should not be lost right of. Sackville is growing rapidly. A larger number of residences were erected last year than year before and the outlook is brighter this year than last, Every one is, or should be anxious to have outsiders move into the town. The benefits to be derived from increased population must be obvious to all. But there must be something to attract people from other localities and streets such as the town now possesses, do not constitute an attraction. The sidewalks of Sackville are not at all calculated to impress a stranger either by their picturequeness or their soundness. Many of these sidewalks demand immediate attention, and not until recently was "road money" expended upon them. Good sidewalks in a town of this size are almost as necessary as good streets and while there may be no law authorizing the expendicure of road money upon sidewalks, yet we are of the opinion that the road officials would be justified in setting aside a certain amount of road money each year for the repair and extension of sidewalks. Possibly half the rate payers in this town make use of the sidewalks very much oftener than they do the streets. They do not drive over the streets once a month perhaps, while they are on the sidewalks several times each day. Surely then this class of citizens have rights should be respected. Good streets and sidewalks go a long way in making an attractive town, which is impossible without them.

CHARLOTTETOWN LETTER.

Government Will Continue to Assist Factories—$65000 Church—A Bicycle Rink.

CHARLOTTETOWN, April 15.—Has any of the towns which the POST reaches a Bicycle Academy? Charlottetown has. Mr. W. P. Doull, a talented citizen, has opened a "training" rink where the young bicycle ides, is taught to "shoot" He has already over fifty students of the art and will have many more. I should count on two hundred new wheelmen, this summer, in Charlottetown not forgetting out "bloomer" friends!

The Legislature has taken up the Cold Storage question; appointed a Committee on it; the Committee have heard the evidence of six or seven experts, including the Dairy Supt., T. J. Dillon; have communicated with all the island factories, and have given in their report. They left the matter to the option of the Government, expressing an opinion neither one way nor the other.

Mr. John Robertson, brother of Professor J. W. Robertson, Dairy Commissioner, is expected on the Island shortly.

The Dominion Government have decided to run fourteen of the cheese factories this season. The rest will do their own financing and their own bookkeeping, but Prof. R. offers every help they require and will sell their cheese for them if they request him. He has appointed an assistant, with Mr. Dillon, to visit and superintend the factories this summer.

The contract for the new R. C. cathedral has been awarded to Quebec architects. The edifice will cost $65,000. Mr. W. C. Harris, of this city, will design the interior decorations.

John Tucker and wife have moved in to the house lately occupied by Nelson Tucker.

The Steamer Stanley being unable to reach Georgetown for a day or two, the ice-boat men were called on again last Saturday and are still at work. Surely some one must have blundered, when they were discharged only Sunday before last. The crossing is splendid now there being very little ice.

A boat in charge of Magee Allen, left last Friday night after the train had arrived and with six passengers proceeded to Cape Traverse and returning the same evening were back about dark. A fair number of passengers have crossed by the Cape route last week, because of its being cheaper and quicker than by the Stanley.

"To My Life's End."

Old age brings many aches and pains which must be looked after if health is to be maintained. This depends more than anything else on the kidneys. "I am 85 years old," writes A Duffin, farmer, Aultsville, Ont, "and have had kidney trouble five years. My son advised Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and I obtained immediate relief. I shall use them to my life's end." You will find Chase's Pills equally effective for that lame back.

The report of the Superintendent of Education for P. E. I. shows the schools of that province to have been in a flourishing condition last year, there being 559 teachers employed, an increase of six over the previous year, and the daily average attendance of pupils was 13,251, against 12,840 in 1894. The committee from the St. John Sunday School Association have completed the work of taking a religious census of the city. The Newfoundland sealing season has not been a successful one. Ten ships are empty. The steamers Ranger and Walrus have been badly crushed. Although the latter has a fair catch, it is feared that this will be the worst season for many years. Not a hundred thousand seals have yet been reported as caught, as against 500,000 last year. The season is like unequalled for disasters. Two vessels, the Wolfe and Windsor Lake, have been lost, and the Hope has been disabled. Two others were crushed off Newfoundland, and nearly foundered while trying to reach port.

A. M. Wheaton, Manager of the Minudie Creamery for the season of '95, has been offered a position in the creamery at Nappan, which he has accepted. Mr. Wheaton should consider himself highly honored as only the best butter and cheese makers are wanted on the experimental farms.

On Friday evening April 3rd the tenth anniversary of the Upper Sackville Helping Band was celebrated. The large number of friends accepting the invitations of the various members show plainly the esteem in which the social gatherings of this Order are held. The report of the Secretary, showed the neat sum of six hundred dollars as having been raised in the ten years. With this amount sidewalks have been built, W C T U. aided, and many improvements added to the Church.
