this station. This ceremony has produced a great effect upon the minds of some of the audience, while others seeing a bigoted Brahmin has embraced Christianity, were convinced of its truth.

BURMAH.—We mentioned awo weeks ago that a very remarkable revival of religion had taken place on board the ship R. B. Forbes, on her way to Rangoon from Boston. On her arrival at Rangoon a series of meetings was commenced in the new chapel, and continued for a fortnight, when twenty-five were baptized, fourteen from the ship, and eleven from the shore. Among those baptized were four officers from Her Majesty's army, six Burmese and one Eurasian.

SIAM.—The King of Siam seems to have little respect for Buddhism, and is doing much to diminish the number of priests.

AFRICA.

From the West Coast Bishop Paine, Episcopal, writes encouragingly. We have the following respecting the Eastern coast:—

The "Wesleyan Times" says—'A providential opening for a mission to Eastern Africa has manifested itself. Our readers will remember our account of Dr. Krapf's travels in that region. This led to a correspondence between the committee of the United Methodist Free Church, and that gentleman, which resulted in his coming over from Germany to confer with them on the subject of a mission to that part of the African continent. Finding that the Doctor's theological views substantially accorded with their own, the committee had no hesitation in availing themselves of his offers of service. Mr. Eckett and Mr. Cheetham have been deputed to visit a missionary seminary in Switzerland, brought by Dr. Krap under the notice of the committee as likely to supply them with young men qualified for the intended mission. The proposed plan is to send out four missionaries, two from Switzerland, and two who are now preaching among the United Methodist Free Churches, with Dr. Krapf, who has engaged to give two years to their introduction. The party will sail in April."

JUDGE WILMOTS LECTURE.—Last evening the Hall of the Mechanic's Institute was filled to overflowing, aisles, platform and gallery being crowded. The subject was China. At the outset the President informed the audience that the lecture would take two evenings, and appointed Friday for the second part. This lecture being taken up chiefly with geography, population, and early history, did not call forth all the lecturers well known power. In spite of this however the interest was kept up without abatement for two hours. The lecture was full of useful information, and the second half will be as eagerly listened to as the first.

Mr. J. W. Swift who was severely injured by a fall from the Scaffolding of St. Jude's Church, Carleton, is rapidly recovering.

DISTRESS AND ANARCHY IN NEWFOUNDLAND. Starvation, sickness and riot have become frequent in Newfoundland. The population of St. John's is 22,000 and the number of deaths the past year 1500. During the Christmas and New Year holidays the streets were infested with ruffians in masks, who assaulted people indiscriminately. One young man had his brains beaten out by a gang of them. Men of property did not dare to appear in the streets at night Altogether at the present time, the country presents a dreadful picture of destitution, disease and crime such as is met with in no country possessing the advantages of a free constitution; and what the end will be, no man can tell. Even moderate men are beginning to think people must protect themselves.

The Anderson case still excites much feeling among the Canadians. There seems to be an almost unanimous determination that he shall not be surrendered. Anderson himself is now in Brantford Jail. The Toronto Globe thinks that he ought to be relessed on bail.

From the United States the news is of the deepest interest, and upon the whole encouraging. The Southern States which have seceded are South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, and Florida, and other States threaten immediate secession. South Carolina has seized a United States Steamer, fired into the "Star of the West" which was bringing reinforcements to Fort Sumpter, and has taken possession of Castle Pickney, Forts Moultrie and Johnston. Georgia has garrisoned forts Pulaski and Jackson; Alabama has seized the important Fort Morgan, at Mobile, and Fort Barancas and the Navy Yard at Pensacola, have been taken possession of by Alabama and Florida troops.

The Northern States are determined that the Union shall be maintained in its integrity. The period of hesitation and uncertainty has passed away. The violence of the Southerners has excited those in the North, who were once regarded as pro-slavery, to become the most determined enemies of secession. The New England States are ready to furnish arms and men to put down rebellion.

The treachery of many of the members of the Cabinet has been discovered. Secretary Floyd has sent 500,000 stand of arms to the Southern States, and has sold for $2.50 each 100,000 muskets, which cost the Government $14 apiece. The traitors have injured the credit of the country, armed the rebels, and given information as to the other actions of the government. It is satisfactory to know that Floyd, Toombs, Cobb, and Thompson are now no longer members of the Cabinet.

The Government now seems inclined to take some steps towards the preservation of the Union. The timid or treacherous President has been obliged to send reinforcements to Major Anderson, and provide against the threatened attack on Washington. By this time Fort Sumpter is in a position to defend itself against South Carolina, and the friends of Union need not fear for Washington. The "New York Examiner" states:

"It has been definitely ascertained that an extensive conspiracy had been concocted in Virginia and Maryland, to seize Washington and the government property, and not only prevent Mr. Lincoln's inauguration there, but to hold it as the capital of the new Southern republic. It is said that 12,000 men were pledged to this movement, and that others were threatened with assassination, or the destruction of their property, unless they united in it. Effectual measures have been taken, under the direction of General Scott, to guard against such a treasonable attempt."

The energetic action of Major Anderson in abandoning Fort Moultrie, and taking possession of Fort Sumpter, has been approved of by vote of the House of Representatives, and nearly all the Northern cities have testified their approbation of his conduct, by the firing of cannon, the ringing of bells, etc.

Meanwhile the Southerners themselves are beginning to reflect on the consequences of rebellion. South Carolina has sent in its ultimatum to the government, and is waiting for an answer. The State seems to be governed by a mob, much to the disgust of those who have property at stake. In North Carolina there is a strong conservative element, and the friends of Union are now boldly expressing their sentiments. We clip the following from the "Standard" of Raleigh, North Carolina, as expressive of the views of many in that State:—

The rabid secessionists in this State are moving heaven and earth, to commit the people to favor their views and plunge the State into revolution. While I am sorry to say, all those who are for demanding their rights in the Union, are doing nothing comparatively. Warn the people to arouse from their lethargy, before it be too late, or they will find themselves betrayed, and overwhelmed in ruin.

The recent visit of certain gentlemen to Raleigh to obtain the countenance of Gov. Ellis, to an act of treason, by them contemplated, ought to be exposed, and they should be held to a strict accountability for any overt act they may commit.

North-Carolina or nine-tenths of the people at least in the State, are for demanding their rights in the Union and under the Constitution; they are for exhausting every honorable, legal, and constitutional method, to obtain these rights, and only when these fail are they for revolution.

Political demagogues now representing the people of North-Carolina in Congress, who, in this crisis, desert their position, and refrain from using all means to bring about a fair adjustment of the question at issue, are doomed men. Mark the prediction! Their political sun has gone down—never, under any change that may take place, to rise again.

The following was delivered in the House of Representatives North Carolina by the Hon. C. Brown:—

Are we to be hurried on by the principal actors in this great drama—he would say tragic drama—are we to be pressed headlong with no time to think, and told in effect, that we are not free agents to act, and that circumstances and necessity, the latter the tyrant's plea, leave no other alternative than to follow blindly the lead of one or more States?

"My Author and Disposer, what thou bid'st, Unargued, I obey."

They have spoken—we have no right to speak, but to echo their will. They have acted—we have no right to act, only to say we are to obey! Where is the professed devotion to liberty when this language is uttered, and where the love of States' rights so often spoken of, when this course with respect to North-Carolina is urged? The true English of it is, that the rights of States belong only to the States about to secede, which he wished them to exercise undisturbed, and that others are to be shorn of their own sovereignty—shorn of the attributes of sovereignty, the right to think and the right to act, and to wheel into line as attendants and satellites, by a law above their own control. In other words, we are to have a Southern "higher law" overruling the will of our people, and overruling the very sovereignty of our States,—showing that Northern and Southern extremes meet in a "higher law," setting aside State rights and constitutional obligation.

Delaware, Maryland, Mississippi, and even Missouri, seem inclined to preserve the Union, at least they will not be forced into rebellion by South Carolina, but will consider the question by the light of their own feelings and interests.

There is some talk of making Delaware, Maryland and Missouri free States. It is intimated that if the planters were paid for their slaves, there would be no difficulty in accomplishing this result.

MISSOURI.—The Governor of Missouri, in his late message, deprecates the action of South Carolina, and says our people would feel more sympathy with the movement had it originated amongest those who, like ourselves, have suffered severe losses and constant annoyances from the interference and depredations of outsiders. Missouri will hold to the Union so long as it is worth the effort to preserve it. She cannot be frightened by the past unfriendly legislation of the North, or dragooned into secession by the restrictive legislation of the extreme South. The Governor denies the right of voluntary secession and says that it would be utterly destructive of every principle on which the national faith is founded; appeals to the great conservative masses of the people to put down selfish and designing politicians, to avert the threatened evils, and closes with a strong recommendation to adopt all proper measure for our rights; condemns the resort to separation; protests against hasty and unwise action, and records his unalterable devotion to the Union so long as it can be made the protector of equal rights.

It is probable that Virginia and Tennessee will not get out of the Union before the 4th of March, inasmuch as there secession ordinances, if adopted, are to be submitted to the people for ratification. But unless a change of an almost miraculous nature occurs in the popular sentiment of those States, secession will be carried out, no matter how much it may be regretted afterwards.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Gen. Sandford has tendered the First Division of the New York State Militia to the Commander-in-Chief, to be ready at an hour's notice.

It is reported from Washington that Major Anderson has been ordered not to permit further indignities to the American flag, and if another instance occurs to open his batteries immediately.

The Washington correspondent of the Tribune says the Governor of North Carolina has informed the President that the forts recently seized will be promptly restored, and condemns the seizure as lawless and unauthorized.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16, 1861.—A careful and systematic inquiry has been made here by authority, which shows, without the least doubt, the existence of an extensive combination in Maryland and Virginia to depose the authorities at Washington, to obtain the prestige given by the possession of the archives, treaties, &c., of the Capital.

The conspirators boast that they have ten thousand men, bound by oaths and pass-words, and are confident of their power to overcome any force which General Scott can bring against them. The assassination of Lincoln while in Maryland is a part of the contemplated plan.

General Scott has obtained considerable information of the signs, oaths, numbers and rendezvous of the Maryland Conspirators. The head-quarters of the conspiracy is located further South.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16—The South Carolina Commissioners demand the immediate surrender of Fort Sumter, or the State will capture it, regardless of consequence. This is their ultimatum.

The State authorities, however, prefer a peaceful transfer of the Fort, by which civil war will be stayed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18, 1 P. M.—Kansas will pass the Senate and become a State to-day.

Mr Holt, now Postmaster-General, will be confirmed to-day as Secretary of War. He would have been confirmed yesterday but for the Senate rules allowing the nomination to lay over one day upon objection being made.

The secessionists are alarmed at the delay in signing the Secession Ordinance by the members of the Convention of Alabama.

The advices from Georgia and Florida are cheering. In the former the Co-operation party is unexpectedly strong, and in the latter State the Union men are beginning to speak out against Secession.

Arkansas is considered as sure to the Secessionists.

A Republican Senator having requested Senator Slidell, of Louisiana, to pair off, the latter declared that he had been grossly insulted.

THE ALBAMA CONVENTION TELEGRAPHS TO THE ALBAMA CONGRESS MEN TO RESUME THEIR SEATS IN CONGRESS.

Hon. Mr. Hemingway, of Arkansas, writes to this city under date of Jan. 9th, that Arkansas will surely go out of the Union. The bill for calling the Convention was rejected by the Legislature because it contained a provision for submitting the doings of the Convention to the people. A new bill not containing the provision is before the Legislature.

It is stated that Ex-Gov. Aiken of South Carolina, was informed the other day that he was expected to lend the State $40,000; and when he demurred, was told that in the event of his refusal, he would be declared disaffected, and his Charleston property, worth very much more than that amount, would be confiscated and sold. Upon this he raised the money, through with much difficulty, and paid it over. But he declared that he would be better off if he were a Northern mechanic earning his $2 per day, than he now is, if such exactions were made. He is now on the list of the disaffected.

The Times Washington correspondent says that Senator Hemphill, of North Carolina, intends to deliver an anti-secession speech. He is a South Carolinian.

Mr. Peden of Florida, formerly Charge to Buenos Ayres, has arrived in Washington from Florida, and declares emphatically that immediate secession is not the sentiment of the people, as is clearly confessed the by refusal of the Legislature to submit the ordinance of secession to a popular vote. The treasury is also empty.

"The port of Charleston no longe exists. It is for a time blotted from the charts, its light-houses dark, its beacons destroyed, the channel to its harbor a pathless maze or worse—a lure to unwary captains. As I write, it is a voyage of great peril for a vessel to either arrive at or to leave this port, and if underwriters and captains govern their action by the shippers, interest, the port of Charleston will be avoided as a curse. This view leaves out of question all other than self-interest. Merchants here have already decided that the trade of Charleston, and in reality, of the whole State, no longer endures.

A vessel is ashore. It is a British barque, and was outward bound for Liverpool. This is only, however, a beginning."

[By Telegraph to "Colonial Empire."]

WASINGTON, Janoary 21.

The action of Georgia in declaring herself out of the Union, causes no excitement. Secession is getting to be an old story; the minority and majority in Georgia are nearly equal, and it is believed that any concessions will be accepted by the people of the State. The reports from Charlestown to day are re-assuring.

The Senators from Georgia Alabama and Florida, formally withdrew from Congress this morning, amidst much feeling.

NEW YORK, January 22nd.

The Steamer "Marathon" has arrived from Liverpool, whence she sailed on the 8th inst.

The Cotton market was quiet, but steady.

Breadstuffs had slightly declined.

Provisions were dull.

The political news by this arrival is not important.

Consols stood at 91¼.

Commerce was generally checked, the Banks of England and France having advanced the rate of interest to 7 per cent.

There is considerable excitement in New York to-day, in apprehension of an attack upon the Navy Yard at Brooklyn, by parties in the interest of the secessionists.

NEW ORLEANS, January 21.

Cotton freights to Liverpool have advanced to seven-eights of a penny per pound.

Vessels are scarce.

Fifty vessels now loading at this Port have taken clearances in advance, from the Federal officers, the accessionists of Louisiana being anticipated.

ARRIVAL OF THE "ASIA."

NEW YORK, 19th.

The steamer Asia arrived to-day, bringing one million six hundred thousand dollars in specie

It is stated that the English Government had sent strong protest to France against the occupation of Syria.

Breadstuffs steady. Provisions dull.

Consols 92 3-8 to 92½.

Bullion in the Bank of England had decreased £145,000.

The Political news is unimportant.

The Ship Golden Star, from Mobile for Liverpool, was wrecked near Wexford. The captain, wife, servant girl, and sixteen of the crew perished. The mate and six men were saved.

The Bremen brings $380,000 in specie.

The Golden Star had a cargo of 3,750 bales of cotton.

Emperor of Austria has pardoned and liberated Count Teleki, he having promised that for the future he would be a faithful subject.

China dates are to the 18th of November via St. Petersburg. They give nothing new.

The telegraphic despatch to Queenstown, of the 6th, states that Her Majesty's Government has sent a note couched in strong terms to the Emperor of the French, remonstrating against the extensive war preparations of France, and against the continued occupation of Syra.

It is further stated, that an unsatisfactory correspondence had transpired relative to the French Fleet before Gaeta, which fleet, however, is said to have been withdrawn.

The PRINCE OF WALES will be appointed LORD LIEUTENANT OF IRELAND.
