TIGHT BINDING
RELIURE TROP RIGIDE

Hitherto the proclamation has only reminded the subjects of the Queen of the penalties which the law of this country denounces against an infraction of neutrality, and points out the penalties with which such offences may be visited by the law of the land or by the law of nations. But in the last paragraph the proclamation seems to go beyond this, and to make an announcement of the policy which will be adopted in cases which are provided for neither by the law of the land nor by the law of nations, but which arise out of the peculiar conditions of the present unhappy conflict.

The North see in the Southern States rebels against its lawful authority, and will probably at first at least, decline to recognise the validity of letters of marque issued under the authority of President Jefferson Davis. The South will not be slow to retaliate, and it may easily be anticipated that there will be a disposition on both sides to treat those crews of privateers who may fall into their hands as pirates, to whom the license they bear gives no protection. What would be the conduct of the British government under such circumstances? Suppose an Englishman taken on board a Southern privateer to be hanged under a sentence of a Court of Admiralty at New York—what would be the conduct of the Government of this country? The answer of the proclamation to the question is by no means encouraging. Persons enlisting in such service will do so at their peril and of their own wrong, and will in nowise obtain any protection from us against any liabilities or penal consequences. It will be observed that in this place the word 'such' is omitted. The liabilities and penal consequences are not confined to those under the act or under the law of nations, but are left wide and indefinite, as if on purpose to embrace the very case we are supposing.

We have not the presumption to suppose that anything which we could add would give additional force to the solemn admonitions contained in the proclamation of a Queen who never speaks to her subjects in vain. We have done our duty if we distinctly point out that those Englishmen who, in defiance of the laws of their country and the solemn warnings of their sovereign, rush into this execrable conflict, will do so with direct notice that if they meet with enemies as reckless and as merciless as themselves, they must bear the fate that awaits them, without any hope that the country whose laws they have broken will stretch forth her arm to shield them from the consequences of their own folly and wickedness. In this respect America has set us an example in the case of the exedition of Lopez, as well as in the piratical enterprise of Walker. The United States, otherwise so jealous of their treatment by foreign nations, have in these cases looked on with stoical indifference at the wholesale massacre of their citizens. The warning has been given in time; we hope and believe that it will prove effectual, and that the horrors of a civil war between brethern will not be aggravated by the uncalled-for intervention of the subjects of the parent State.

In the House of Lords on the 16th, Earl Ellenborough asked Government whether the term lawful Blockade, used in the recent proclamation, was to be interpreted literally or with qualification, as, according to the strict meaning of Paris agreement, it was impossible to maintain an effective blockade. He complained of the vagueness of the proclamation with respect to "articles contraband of war." Earl Granville replied that a lawful Blockade must be maintained by a sufficient force, not absolutely to render all ingress or egress impossible but to render it extremely difficult. With respect to the other question certain articles were clearly contraband of War, but certain others depended upon special circumstances and contingencies which could only be decided by a Prize Court, and which it was impossible to define beforehand. Earl Derby said there were two points upon which it was desirable that the Government should forthwith come to an understanding with the United States. They proclaimed a blockade of the whole Southern Coast which they had not the force to maintain; although they could lawfully blockade certain parts it was not desirable they should proclaim a universal blockade but only maintain a partial one. The Northern States have also declared they should treat Privateers as Pirates, but they could not do so by the Law of Nations, and that it was desirable that notwithstanding the Proclamation it should be declared that should such a penalty be inflicted on British subjects it would not be viewed with indifference by England. Lord Brougham said that Privateering, according to International Law, was not Piracy, but to join an expedition against a State at peace with England was a piratical act.—To constitute an efficient blockade a force must be maintained, to make its passage not absolutely impossible, but very difficult. Lord Chelmsford denied the doctrine of Brougham relating to Privateers. Lord Campbell said Lord Granville had laid down the Law correctly, with respect to a blockade and contraband of War. Subjects of another power holding "Letters of Marque" were not guilty of Piracy. Lord Kingsdown said the Nothern States might consider the Southern Rebels guilty of High Treason, but that principle would not apply to subjects of other powers becoming Privateers.

At a preliminary meeting of the Great Steamship Company, the Chairman said contingent orders had been given to the Captain of the Great Eastern with respect to her employment by American Government, and Ministers would be asked in Parliament whether she would be absolved from penalties if chartered before Queen's proclamation got out.

Queen Victoria held Court at Buckingham Palace on the 16th, at which Dallas delivered his letters of recall. Adams presented.

Mr. Clay, the American Minister to Russia, writes the Times on American struggle in brief and decisive terms. He says that revolted states can be subdued, but it is not proposed to subjugate, but simply to put down the rebel citizens and that England's interests is to stand by the Union, and enquires whether England can afford to offend the United States, and whether she is so secure for the future against home revolution or foreign ambition, as to venture to sow the seeds of revenge, and concludes that England is a natural ally of the United States.

During debate in Senate on petition to extend French occupation of Syria Billault explained that France would evacuate Syria on the 5th June. If evil results ensue, responsibility will rest on those who demand withdrawal. France will leave six vessels to cruise off Beyrout, and English and Russian ships will act in concert with them.

Independence Belge states that Lord Cowley has protested against the right of isolated intervention in Syria, claimed by French Ministry. A fleet was expected to sail on the 22nd for Beyroot, to bring the French army at Syria home.

The Belgian Chamber of Deputies had voted unanimously a new treaty to commence with France.

The Spanish Government had resolved to accept the cession of St. Domingo.

100,000 ducats destined to pay the reactionary bonds, had been seized, and a large depot plundered in the Neapolitan Provinces.

Negotiation was still pending respecting the Schleswig Holstein dispute.

Denmark, though preparing for war retained hopes of peaceful arrangements.

The Empress of Austria had arrived at Trieste.

Bombay mails of the 27th, and Calcutta of the 19th, had reached Liverpool. The news imparted much activity. Cotton interests advancing. Import market dull, and freights less firm. India quiet.

UNITED STATES.

ENROLMENT OF TROOPS.

WASHINGTON, May 29, 1861.

The government to-day accepted several additional regiments from Illinois. The total number of regiments accepted from that State for the war is now eighteen, inclusive of the German Chicago regiment, to be commanded by the well known German patriot, Frederic Hecker.

Nearly one hundred regiments have thus far been accepted for the war from the States of New York, Ohio, Illinois and Indiana. The contingents from the other States will bring it very near two hundred. This shows that the government does not by any means limit itself to the number called out under the second call. With the regular army, the force thus to be brought into the field against the rebels will reach two hundred and fifty thousand.

A general order has been issued from the War Department, granting to the volunteers now enlisted in the service of the United States the same money allowances for clothing as the regulars.

SEIZURES OF VESSELS BY THE SOUTH.

The Tallahassee News has the following statement, dated St. Marks, April 11:—The Spray returned here this morning, having left Cedar Keys at nine o'clock last night. Captain Johnson reports that the Spray left East Pass, at Apalachicola, at sunrise on the 9th, and ran to North Kep by five P. M., where she lay all night the tide being too low to run to the wharf. The next morning, a schooner being in sight in the South Channel, the Spray ran alongside of her, when the Apalachicola, company immediately boarded her and made her a prize to the Southern confederate government, and sailed hence for Apalachicola. The prize proved to be the schooner Atwater, Captain Allen, of New Haven Conn, with fifteen men. There was a United States officer on board the schooner, as is supposed for the purpose of inspecting the defences along the cost.

The ship Abaelinio, Capt. Smith, recently arrived at New Orleans, from Boston, has been seized by the rebel authorities.

ST. LOUIS, June 1.—The New Orleans Picayune of the 27th, announces the arrival at that port of the privateer Calhoun, with the schrs. John Adams, of Boston, and Mermaid, of Provincetown, Mass., and brig Panama, all whalers, having 160 bbls. oil aboard, as prizes.

Gen. Doniphan has declined the Brigadier-Generalship tendered him by Gov. Jackson.

WESTERN VIRGINIA.

[From the Wheeling Intelligencor, May 24.]

Capt. Planke, so well and favorably known here as the captain of the German Riflemen, is raising a crack company for three years' United States service. The captain now has sixty men, and hopes to fill up in a day or two.

A correspondent to the Wheeling Intelligencer of May 25th says:—"Your cause is just. Too long has Western Virginia been oppressed by the apostate sons of the East; and now is the time for you to vindicate your sacred honor and maintain your rights." In reference to the shooting affair near Garfton, on Wednesday night, the volunteers report that one of Captain Latham's company, Baily Brown, went out in search of a gun towards Fetterman, and, coming upon a picket guard from the secession camp, fired upon him (the guard), the ball just grazing his cheek and taking a small bit out of his left ear. The guard shot at, or another near by, returned the fire, lodging three buckshot in Brown's left breast, and killing him almost instantly. There was considerable indignation among the Union men against the secessionists in camp, and it was feared that the guard would be fired upon last night. There were about two hundred troops at Fetterman, and two or three hundred more were expectid yesterday.

BALTIMORE.

The secession feeling seems again to be on the increase.

As two Federal Regiments passed through that city last night cheers were given for Jefferson Davis, and fists were shaken at troops. A portion of the Railroad track torn up. Two Columbiads for Fort M'Henray were spiked by the rebels.

The N. Y. Herald says that Gen. Butler will return to Baltimore, and ex-Governor Banks will take command at Fort Monroe.

SKIRMISHING.

The latest American papers report a number of skirmishes.

NEW YORK, June 1.—The Post's dispatch states that there was a skirmish last night at Falls Church, six miles back of Arlington Heights. The Government pickets were attacked by the rebels and a number of shots were exchanged; several of our soldiers were wounded. A later dispatch to the Post states that a force of cavalry and infantry—the former under Lieut. Tompkins and the latter under Lieut. Gordon, attacked the rebels at Fairfax Court House at daybreak.

NEW YORK, June 2.—The following is the report of Lieut. Tompkins to Col. Hunter, his superior officer:—

SIR,—I have the honor to report that pursuant to verbal instructions from the Colonel commanding, I left on the evening of the 31st in command of Co. B, Cavalry, to reconnoiter the country in the vicinity of Fairfax Court House. Approaching the town, the enemy's picket was surprised and captured. Several documents were found upon them, which I enclose. On entering the town of Fairfax, my command was fired upon by rebel troops from windows and house-tops. I charged and drew the mounted rifles from the town.

Immediately, two or three additional companies came to their relief, and fired upon us, which I returned. Perceiving I was outnumbered, I deemed it advisable to retreat, which I did in good order, with five prisoners, fully armed and equipped, and two horses. My loss is three men missing, three slightly wounded, and six horses lost. The loss of the rebels is from twenty to twenty five in killed and wounded. From observations I should judge that the rebels at that point numbered 1500 men. Captains Carey and Fearing, and Adjutant Frank, of the N. Y. Fifth accompanied me, and I regret to state that Capt. Carey was wounded in the flight. Lieut. Gordon, of the 2d Dragoons, rendered valuable services. The prisoners, horses, arms, and equipments have been sent to Gen. Mansfield.

Yours respectfully,
CHAS. H. TOMPKINS.

DANDELION COFFEE.
THIS valuable article is recommended by the most eminent Physicians of Europe and the United States, as a sovereign remedy for General Debility, Dyspedsia and Bilious Affections, so generally followed by sick headache, &c. It is also strongly recommended by the faculty as a superior nutritious beverage for aged females and children, particularly those of feeble and delicate constitutions. The many thousands who have been reluctantly compelled to abandon the use of ordinary Coffee, owing to the serious injury done to their health, will find his preparation much superior to the best Java Coffee both in taste and flavor, to say nothing of its great and acknowledged medicinal benefits.

CELEBRATED PATENT DOUBLE ACTION FLEXURE SKIRTS.
BY the use of Joints in the hoops of a Skirt, a heavier and better quality of Steel can be used, giving to, and retaining in the Skirt, a more graceful and elegant form; while the flexibility of the joints prevent the bending and breaking of the Hoops under pressure, and brings them back to their original form when pressure is removed, also permits the Skirt to assume an easy position when the wearer is seated.
The quality of braid and the peculiar construction of the Skirt, adding so greatly to its durability, particularly commend it to he favor of those who desire to unite in their purchase Elegance, Convenience and Economy.
