

Constipation

Badly treated constipation, with some people, brings prompt relief. With others, however, it has a tendency to become chronic and to lead to a variety of ailments. The best of a certain line in California—Coca Sarsaparilla—offers a most excellent aid to the bowels. It is a most effective purgative, and its action is gentle and pleasant. LECTURE.

By Dr. McKenzie of Loggville on Tuberculosis.

(World 5th.)

A large audience assembled at Black River on Friday evening to hear Dr. McKenzie's lecture. The subject, as previously announced, was The Prevention of Tuberculosis. He said in part:

The bacilli of diseases were first discovered in 1882. The bacillus of consumption, recently. Some idea of the size of the germ may be gained by saying that a space a little larger than a cent would hold 500,000,000. They multiply very rapidly, millions being produced in a few minutes. Man has subdued the great animals that destroy, but the little microscope germ defies him.

The ravages of the disease are appalling. Montreal alone loses about 1500 yearly. In the United States it is computed that over one million and a quarter are afflicted with it in some form. It has been asserted that in the past 100 years 14,000,000 lives have been lost in war; but that consumption has destroyed over 30,000,000. Sad it is, viewed in any light, but the saddest part is that it strikes men and women in the pride of their youth and early manhood and womanhood just when they need strength for the burdens and cares of life. Yet little is done to guard against the disease. One case of smallpox recently almost caused a panic in New York, while in that city 10,000 die yearly of consumption and there is no alarm.

Two conditions are necessary to produce a case—first the germ and then second the conditions of health that render the system liable to disease.

There are thus two methods of preventing consumption—first prevent the spread of the germ and second build up the strength of the body.

To prevent the spread of the germ, spitting should be prohibited especially in buildings and in meetings. A sufferer coughs up and spits daily several billions of germs and any one of them may produce a new case. It should be prohibited in the homes, where infants especially are in danger from the floor and from handling and putting in their mouths.

OPERATION AVOIDED

EXPERIENCE OF MISS MERLEY

She Was Told That an Operation Was Inevitable. How She Escaped It.

When a physician tells a woman suffering with serious feminine trouble that an operation is necessary, the very thought of the knife and the operating table strikes terror to her heart, and our hospitals are full of women coming for just such operations.

There are cases where an operation is the only resource, but when one considers the great number of cases of menacing female troubles cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after physicians have advised operations, no woman should submit to one without first trying the Vegetable Compound and writing Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice, which is free. Miss Margret Merley, of 275 Third Street, Milwaukee, Wis., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham: "Loss of strength, extreme nervousness, shooting pains through the pelvic organs, bearing-down pains and cramps compelled me to seek medical advice. The doctor, after making an examination said I had a female trouble and ulceration and advised an operation. To this I strongly objected and decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the ulceration quickly healed, all the bad symptoms disappeared and I am once more strong, vigorous and well." Female troubles are steadily on the increase among women. If the monthly periods are very painful, or too frequent and excessive—if you have pain or swelling low down in the left side, bearing-down pains, don't neglect yourself; try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

things picked up from the floor. These are a source of danger, carrying perhaps microscopic particles of the sputum and so contaminating milk and food. Consumptives are usually careful but many are aware, and even strong and healthy persons expectorate disease germs of various kinds. It is a habit, dirt, dangerous and unpleasant.

Each person breathes in at all times many disease germs. But in the blood, are cells, called phagocytes that destroy the disease germs if they are sufficiently strong. When germs invade the system, they, whether weak or strong, march to the front and the battle is on. If they are overcome disease settles down, its nature depending wholly on the nature of the germ. The only way to build up the system is by good living—the physiological life especially for those who have a tendency to any disease. Rise early, bathe well, eat good, plain, wholesome food, sleep at least eight hours, attend to dress, especially always have plenty of fresh air and sunshine by day and fresh air by night and take a vacation one day in seven. Here again we are reminded that the highest natural law is spiritual. Tobacco weakens the system. Alcohol must be avoided. It has been shown that heavy drinkers are far more liable to have some form of consumption than total abstainers. The rate is three to one. Alcoholism is fearful in itself but far more dreadful because of what it causes—ignorance, poverty, disease, and the suffering of the innocent, especially the children. Man should be careful in the selection of his ancestors, quaintly said O. W. Holmes. It is true. Inter-marriage weakens the constitution and makes more liable to disease. Marriage among consumptives should be prohibited, especially among women. Usually death soon follows marriage. For the sake of the children they should hesitate. It is impossible to legislate such matters to be a law for all times.

As to the treatment of patients with consumption there is little more to be said. There is no drug specific yet discovered. Pure air, sunshine, food and hygienic life is the best medicine. Fresh air and sunlight exist everywhere in God's universe except in the houses which man has built. It is too often true. Patients with windows closed, blinds close drawn, use methods of disease. Fresh air and sunlight kill disease germs. Cold air is not always fresh air, it too may be vitiated. Ventilation, not draughts, is what is required to supply fresh air every moment. Patients should sleep alone and have their own dishes. The sputum must be prevented from drying and so floating on the air. The germ of consumption becomes enveloped in a case so it can live for months even in the air and light.

The question of the relation between consumption in man and in beast is an interesting one. In 1901 the scientist who discovered the germ declared they were quite distinct and would not inter-act. English scientists took up the investigation. Self-sacrificing persons allowed themselves to be treated with serum from diseased cattle and consumption developed while cattle in turn were infected by germs from human lungs. The disease in both is the same; you cannot distinguish between them. This makes the demand for complete and frequent inspection of cattle, especially beef and dairy cattle, imperative, and infected animals should be slaughtered.

Treatment of consumptive patients is expensive. There is only one in Canada nor on purely philanthropic lines. But a proposal was made in Montreal recently to organize camps for a few months in the summer where patients could be instructed in proper care and where medical men would give instruction on the nature and treatment of the disease. Each one who attended would form a nucleus when he returned for the spread of this knowledge.

(Shall not our medical men, editors, ministers and all interested in the fight against this fell disease, take up this matter, which would be a great step in advance?) A very hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the speaker by the chairman, Mr. Myers. The popular doctor will be gladly welcomed again when he comes to lecture.

Japanese Paper's Warm Editorial.

Tokio, June 7.—The "Hochi" which is supporting Count Okuma in his position on the American question this morning says: "The San Francisco outrages are worse than the murder of a missionary in China which resulted in the occupation of Kiao Chow, who would blame an appeal to the last measure if an impotency to protect treaty rights is proved. We hope, however, that Ambassador Aoki will be firm enough to make the Washington Government quickly take measures to mete out justice to the Japanese."

SOME SUSPICION OF FOUL PLAY.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., June 7.—The remains of Daniel J. McDonald, aged 38, a prominent merchant of Murray River, were found last evening about 20 yards from the bridge. He was last seen at ten o'clock on Wednesday night, when he left Ross' drug store, saying he was going home. A sailor of the schooner "Victor" laying at the railway wharf, sometime between ten and eleven heard a cry of distress but heard no splash. The doctor who performed autopsy said he did not find any water in the lungs. There was a mark under the left eye. The bridge has a low railing and it is thought that as the night was dark he may have made a misstep and fallen over.

KIDNEY The kidneys form a very important channel for the elimination of disease from the system, carrying off accumulations that poison the blood.
COMPLAINTS
The kidneys are often affected and cause serious disease when least suspected. When the back aches, specks float before the eyes, the urine contains a brick-dust sediment, or is thick and stringy, scanty, highly colored, in fact when there is anything wrong with the small of the back or the urinary organs then the kidneys are affected.
If you are troubled with your kidneys

Telephone Plant Was Destroyed.

Woodstock, N. B., June 17—Last night about ten o'clock the automatic exchange of the former Central Telephone Co., was totally destroyed. The officials lay the blame for the destruction from the town electric light wires. The plant is valued at about $2,000 and is pronounced a total loss. Luckily the new central energy system will be working in a few weeks.
